CAMPAIGN TURNS TO "RED" ISSUE

Russian Shells Burst In Berlin Airlift Corridor

No Planes Are Hit By Target Fire; U. S., And British Protest

BERLIN, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Russians slammed antiaircraft fire into the crowded airlift corridor today—without hitting anything.

They told the Americans and British about it officially an hour and a half after the shooting started. And a half hours at Dolle airport, 25 miles west of Berlin in the Buckeburg air lane used by British and American planes on their return flight from this city.

Then the Russians posted notice that they intended to shift to air-to-ground firing, which could include practice shooting at ground targets, and possibly some bomb dropping.

The Soviet shooting failed to deter the supplying of Berlin by air, but incited British-American authorities to a new protest.

The complaint was their second in two days against Soviet antics in the corridor. A Yak fighter played dangerously close to an airliner with 30 passengers in the corridor yesterday—a wing-to-wing performance that appeared to have no purpose.

Air Force Officers Indignant

Air Force officers were especially indignant about the antiaircraft fire. One officer said the stuff was being thrown "dangerously high"—up to 10,000 feet "which is as high as we fly." In the second place, he said, the notification from the Russians of their intentions to hold target practice came "an hour and a half 'late" and was a little less than polite.

Despite this, airlift planes lugged another 3,613 tons of food and coal to Berlin in 444 flights.

Almost as explosive as the air incidents was the outbreak of a "newspaper war" in which the Americans ordered all Soviet-sponsored newspapers and publications banned from the United States zone of Germany. The ban did not apply to the American sector of Berlin.

The Russians already had effectively banned all western publications from their zone and Berlin sector by setting upj a tight Communist-controlled distribution monopoly to handle all printed matter.

Ministers' Agreement Nullified

The Americans had repeatedly protested without effect. The American action nullified the agreement of the Moscow foreign ministers conference in 1947 for free exchange of information throughout all four zones of Germany.

Shortly after the American ban was announced Communist-controlled German police went so far as to seize western sector newspapers on elevated trains and stations within the western sectors.

The Russians claim jurisdiction on the elevated lines because they come under the central railways office which is under Soviet control.

Meanwhile, German Communist leaders and Soviet occupation officials were reported in a secret strategy session at Potsdam. There were indications the next Soviet moves in the battles for Berlin and Germany were being discussed.

Western Allies Reported Working On New Plan

PARIS, Sept. 24 (AP)—There were signs tonight that the United States, Britain and France may be working on a new plan for handling their dispute with Russia over Berlin.

Pro-western sources said the new plan may exclude any immediate appeal for a United Nations judgement on the Berlin impasse in event Russia replies unsatisfactorily to the three powers' notes sent to the Kremlin this week. They did not elaborate.

A member of British Foreign Secretary Bevin's delegation told a reporter "the Western Powers are definitely not committed to going to the United Nations immediately" even if Russia's reply is a flat "no."

American Organized Plot To Assassinate Him, Peron Declares

Thousands, On Strike In Show Of Loyalty, Cheer Denunciations

ACCUSED BY PERON — John Griffith (above), native of Hartford, Kansas, has been accused by President Juan Peron, of Argentina, of organizing a plot to assassinate him and overthrow his government. Griffith, in Uruguay, called the affair "a detective story."

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24 (AP) — President Juan Peron accused John Griffith, former cultural attache of the United States Embassy, tonight of organizing a plot of assassinate him and topple his government.

Tens of thousands of workers, idled by a 14-hour general strike called in solidarity with Peron, cheered wildly his denunciations of traitors, international capitalists and foreign enemies.

Stirred to anger, the crowd shouted anti-United States slogans before the First National Bank of Boston building and attacked the big South American newspaper, La Prensa, which never has supported Peron.

At least 16 persons were under arrest including Luis Rojido, president of the Labor Party, and Cypriano Reyes, a labor leader and former congressman who broke with Peron two years ago.

Griffith Denies Charge

Griffith, expelled from Argentina in April on a charge of fomenting a bank strike, called the affair "just a detective story" invented for "vengeful persecution."

Peron's pretty actress wife, Eva, herself a power in Argentine politics, was said by police to have been marked for death with the President in the uprising planned for Columbus Day, October 12. She addressed the throng after Peron spoke, saying she would be willing to die "a thousand times" to help the cause of the people.

The state radio estimated 1,000,000 people participated in the demonstration which lasted an hour. Some carried flags. Others had small gallows, implying Peron should hang his foes. He vowed stern justice.

A group of the crowd gained brief entrance to the back door of La Prensa. Employes and police drove them away with fire hoses. They first tried to start a fire at the front door and then tried to batter it down with bricks.

Griffith "Spy," Peron Says

Peron said "traitors of the country" planned to kill him because "international capitalists desire it."

Peron asserted that Griffith is "now starting international insurrections from Uruguay."

"He has not the right to be called an American," said Peron, "he is an international spy."

The tens of thousands of workers packing the Plaza Mayo before Peron's forum cheered so loudly the President had difficulty making himself heard.

Peron claimed "foreign assassins" were responsible for the deaths of Gen. Augusto Cesar Sandino in Nicaragua 15 year ago, Liberal Presidential Candidate Jorge E. Gaitan in Colombia this year, and a Cuban leader whom he did not name.

Plans For Public Hearings On Atom Spying Cancelled

Such Sessions Might Bare Vital Secrets

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — The House Un-American Activities Committee tonight cancelled all plans for public hearings on alleged atomic espionage, saying such sessions might disclose vital atomic secrets to possible enemies.

However, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) announced that the committee will issue a full report on its secret investigations to date, with recommendations to Congress.

Indictments Recommended

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.), a committee member, proposed that the report recommend indictments against three Americans—including two atomic scientists and a "Communist functionary"—on evidence relating to reports that important atomic information has been transmitted to Russia.

After a long closed session of the committee, Thomas told reporters the proposed open hearings on atomic spying had been called off for three reasons:

1. "Most important, we have received information which is of such import to our national security that if witnesses testified in public we would be revealing some very vital secrets which, in the interest of national security, should not be made public at this time."

Will Protect Witnesses

2. The committee desires to protect some of the persons who have testified in secret session.

3. The commtitee is "reluctant to reveal some of the confidential sources of our information."

For days a subcommittee has been taking testimony behind closed doors on reported atomic espionage.

"This is probably the gravest matter we have ever gone into," Thomas said, adding that "all pertinent facts will be given to the Congress and the American people" in a report which will omit any information that might be of value to any potential enemy.

Paraguay Smashes Plot

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24—(AP)—Paraguayan sources said today a plot against President Natalicio Gonzalez of that country was discovered and quashed. Paraguay was reported calm after some arrests were made.

Peaceful Strike Staged In France

PARIS, Sept. 24 (AP)—A two-hour nationwide general strike of 7,000,000 workers against the cost of living passed calmly in France today.

Carried out in a half-hearted way, it proved far less than 100 per cent effective.

The worst inconvenience was caused in Paris by an additional 24-hour subway and bus strike. The capital area's 4,000,000 residents good humoredly jammed the streets on foot and on bicycles and somehow got to and from work.

Some government employes quit work, but essential services such as gas, electricity and automatic telephones kept functioning.

Most department stores and cafes in Paris did not close during the hours of the strike, 4 to 6 p. m. Many industrial plants closed down temporarily and at many offices the workers loitered near their desks for the strike period.

But for most Parisians the strike merely meant they got off work early and could sip an extra drink in the sun-drenched boulevards or go shopping.

Russia Offers Japanese Industry Control Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Russia came up today with a plan which would decrease Gen. Douglas MacArthur's control powers over Japanese industry and increase Russia's.

Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin proposed putting the industry under international control for several years to prevent Japan from building a war machine. He indicated plainly, though he did not say so, that Russia would expect to have an important hand in the new control system.

Technically Russia already has certain powers in running occupied Japan, being a member of the 11-nation Far Eastern Commission which sets operation policies.

Actually Gen. MacArthur as Allied occupation commander runs the nation, interpreting and putting into effect policies voted by the FEC.

Russians Lose Fight To Ditch Red-Hot Issues

U.N. Puts Explosive Items On Work Sheet Over Soviet Protests

PARIS, Sept. 24 (AP)—Western-led majorities today smothered Russia's repeated attempts to throw the veto fight and six other explosive issues out of the United Nations Assembly.

Informed delegates predicted the rebuffs would provoke an unusually bitter attack on the majority when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky makes his nation's policy statement tomorrow morning. He had planned to speak today but delayed because of illness.

Except for two items, the six-nation Slav bloc voted alone against majorities running from 29 to 47. The 58-Nation Assembly thus decided over Russian protests to put the following items on the work sheet for full debate in the coming weeks:

Membership Issue

1—Argentina's call for consideration of the membership applications of Italy, Austria, Finland, Ireland, Portugal and Trans-Jordan. All have been vetoed by Russia in the Security Council. The vote on this item was 29 to 16 with 10 abstentions and three countries absent.

2—The Balkan Commission report accusing Greece's northern neighbors (Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria) of helping Greek guerrillas. The vote was 44 to 6.

3—The report of the Korean Commission which Russia boycotted. The vote was 47 to 6.

4—The Little Assembly proposal to restrict the veto. (Under the Charter the United States, Russia, France, Britain and China hold the right to veto decisions of substance in the Security Council. Through use of the so-called double veto, Russia has been able to control decisions on which issues are of substance and which are not). The vote was 47 to 6.

69 Items On Schedule

5—The proposal that the Little Assembly can be given a further trial. The United States, which originally proposed the new body last year, favors another 12-month experiment. The vote was 46 to 6.

6—A Little Assembly proposal to promote international political cooperation. The vote was 47 to 6.

7—Chile's charges that Russia violated human rights by refusing to permit the Russian-born wife of a son of Chile's ambassador to Moscow to leave the Soviet Union. The vote was 30 to 7 with Burma joining the Slav bloc in opposition.

The Assembly thus completed scheduling virtually all of its 69 items, the largest in history. The items now go to the six main 58-nation committees of the Assembly for debate. The committee decisions go back to the Assembly floor for final voting.

Woman, 80, Wins Her Breach Of Promise Suit

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 24 (AP) — Eighty-year-old Mrs. Jessie E. Simmons, Kansas City, Mo., has been awarded $8,000 damages by a federal court jury in her breach of promise suit against Hyrum S. Lewis, also 80.

Lewis is a veteran Idaho legislator and Republican candidate for state representative from Cassia County.

Mrs. Simmons asked $20,700 damages on grounds that Lewis had failed to marry her April 6 as promised.

Brownell Says Truman Conducts Fear Campaign

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign manager accused President Truman today of attempting to frighten the American people through a campaign of "cheap political tricks."

Speaking to an informal gathering of local Republican leaders, Herbert R. Brownell, Jr., said Mr. Truman is "carrying on a campaign of instilling fear in the hearts of the American people."

Brownell said the President is stirring up class and sectional feeling.

ON ROAD TO RECOVERY--Little Pamela Lamphere, 23 months old, lies wild-eyed in her crib at Cook County Hospital, Chicago, where she is recovering from the first of three operations to correct a condition with which she was born with her bladder outside of her body. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lamphere, recently went to court when they couldn't agree whether to have the operation performed.

La. House Favors Allowing Truman Name On Ballot

Backers Could Not Call Him Democrat

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 24 (AP) — The all-Democratic Louisiana House of Representatives voted today to let President Truman's supporters list him on the state's general election ballot provided they do not call him a Democrat.

Floor Leader Lorris Wimberly told the House "this is the bill on the presidential ballot that you all know about. It has been carefully gone over by the various interested parties, and we believe it is in shape."

All Lights Flash Green

Rep. Edwin F. Hunter, Jr., Shreveport, asked "are we sure that this bill covers only this particular situation, and doesn't open up the ballot generally?"

Wimberly gave assurance and moved for passage. The voting macine was opened and all lights flashed green for affirmative vote.

The bill now goes to the Senate where under speeded-up procedure it can be acted on by Sunday.

While Mr. Truman's supporters carried their main point, the States' Rights Democrats apparently won the latest skirmish — a backstage struggle for the name "Democrat" and the rooster emblem which traditionally has symbolized the party in Louisiana.

Word Democratic Out

The Democratic State Central Committee two weeks ago gave those to the States' Rights candidates and dropped Mr. Truman's name completely off the ballot. The committee named Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, of South Carolina, and Fielding L. Wright, of Mississippi, the official Louisiana Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President.

The bill passed by the House today provides that any 100 Louisiana voters could put Mr. Truman's name and those of elector candidates for him on the Louisiana ballot. They could list them without designation or adopt a new party name. But they couldn't call them Democratic, nor "National Democratic."

Give-Away Programs Not Illegal, NAB Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—The National Association of Broadcasters said today radio give-away programs are "not in fact illegal."

Some such programs have been described by the Federal Communications Commission as "lotteries."

In a brief filed with the FCC, the NAB challenged authority of federal agency to regulate specific programs or to say what broadcasting violates criminal law.

Boom Will Continue Through '49, Federal Economists Say

Farm Income Soars; Cost-Of-Living Index Up Another Notch

WASHINGTON, Sept 24 (AP) — Federal economists predicted today that the present boom in employment and personal income will continue through 1949.

This prediction came from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, while two other government reports said that:

1. The income of farmers, measured in terms of purchasing power is expected to average more than twice as high this year as it was in the prewar years 1935-39.

2. The cost of living index rose another notch in August.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, in its first forecast for the year ahead, said there may be a slight downward trend in incomes late next year. But it predicted that 1949 incomes as a whole will about equal this year's record.

Peak Demand Forecast

The bureau commented:

"Demand for farm products in the United States in 1949 will continue near the record levels of 1948, primarily because of large personal incomes."

The Federal Reserve Board, in a separate report on the farm situation, said farmers this year will have more than double the buying power they had before the war—even allowing for increases in the cost of living and of farm production.

In dollars, total cash farm income will be about four times the prewar figure, the board said.

But the report said that although farm income has soared in comparison with other types, not all farmers have hit it rich.

Farm Population Drops

"Incomes received by many farmers who operate small acreages have been small," the report said, "and it appears that sizeable numbers of these farmers have been taking industrial jobs."

It estimated the number of persons on farms at the end of 1947 was 27,400,000, or 10 per cent less than before World War II.

"Non-farm population, meanwhile, has increased nearly 20 per cent since 1937, to 118,000,000 at the end of 1947," the board noted.

On the dark side of the economic situation, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported the cost-of-living index jumped another notch in August. This index measures retail

U. S. Plane Found In Canadian Wilds —All Aboard Safe

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24. (AP)—Air searchers located today a lost American Navy plane with all its five passengers safe, after being down 12 days in the Canadian wilds, RCAF spokesmen said.

The plane was found in Northwest of the Pas near Highland Lake. The plane had crash-landed.

The Beechcraft was unreported since it left Churchill on a 450-mile scheduled flight to the Pas.

It was found by an RCAF search plane on the shore of a mapped but unnamed lake.

"Axis Sally" Trial Will Open Nov. 15

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Mildred Elizabeth Gillars was ordered today to go on trial November 15 on a treason charge growing out of the German propaganda broadcasts known to GIs as the "Axis Sally" program.

Her attorney, James J. Laughlin, said he wants to call President Truman as a witness.

Miss Gillars, born 48 years ago in Portland, Me., pleaded innocent to the indictment accusing her of giving aid and comfort to this country's enemies during the war.

Wearing a black suit and with her gray hair falling to her shoulders in a long bob, she stood motionless with clasped hands during the 12-minute reading of the long indictment which lists 10 specific counts.

Asked how she wished to plead, she replied in a low voice, "Certainly not guilty."

Miss Gillars, also known as Mildred E. Sisk, was indicted two weeks ago. The indictment said she "willfully sought and accepted employment" on the Nazi radio to take part in its psychological warfare campaign.

Conviction carries a possible death sentence. The minimum penalty is five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Case Against ITU Ends; NLRB Timing Questioned

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24. (AP)—The contempt case against the AFL International Typographical Union ended today with Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert questioning whether the government was tardy in filing its charges against the union.

The court took the case under advisement after closely querying Winthrop Johns, associate counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, about NLRB timing in filing the suit.

A decision may not be issued for several weeks.

President Truman has charged that the action against the ITU was filed only after Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) "put the heat on" NLRB attorneys in a Washington conference with them and newspaper publishers' representatives.

Taft denied the President's contention, saying Mr. Truman in making it was only trying to "curry favor with the labor bosses."

Dewey Charge To Bring Reply From Truman

GOP Candidate Says He'll Run "Commies" Out Of Government

[By The Associated Press]

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said last night that some Communists and fellow travelers have "risen to positions of trust in our government," and President Truman prepared to argue the issue.

Thus a top-rank—if long distance—debate appeared to be shaping up between the Republican and Democratic presidential candidates as the 1948 campaign warmed up toward the November 2 election date.

Dewey said in a speech for a major Republican rally at Los Angeles that if present laws are not enough to cope with Communists who engage in illegal activities "we'll get ones which are."

In an obvious reference to Mr. Truman, Dewey said some people jeer at the problem of Communism, "calling it a 'red herring.'" (Mr. Truman has called the congressional investigations of Communism a red herring designed to cover up inaction by Congress on real issues.)

Other people, said Dewey, "get panicky about it."

"I don't belong to either group," the GOP nominee added.

Mr. Truman, traveling through Yuma and other Arizona points eastward to his next major address at Oklahoma City next Tuesday, was reported to have decided to bear down on the Communism issue then.

Truman's Answer Due Tuesday

An aide on the President's special train said specifically that Mr. Truman's Tuesday speech will be directed toward Dewey's statements that Red influences are at work in the administration.

"Too often," Dewey said in his Los Angeles speech, "our own government here in America seems to have so far lost faith in our system of free opportunity as to encourage this Communist advance, not hinder it.

"Communists — looking for grist for their propaganda mill could see that here in the United States, Communists and fellow travelers had risen to positions of trust in our government, in some labor unions, in some places in our arts, sciences and professions."

Dewey said that the thing to do is to keep the people informed as to what the Communists are doing.

If they break laws against treason, he said, "they'll get traitors' treatment. If they engage in sabotage or break any other laws, we'll jail them."

"If our laws aren't adequate, we'll get ones which are. But in this country, we'll have no thought police. We will not jail anybody for what he thinks or believes.

"So long as we keep the Communists among us out in the open, in the light of day, the United

REX INGRAM

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—Rex Ingram, negro stage and film star who played "de Lawd" in the movie version of "Green Pastures," was arrested today by the FBI on white slavery charges.

He was accused by FBI agents of bringing a 15-year-old white girl from Salina, Kans., to New York City for immoral purposes.

Arraigned before United States Commissioner Isaac Platt, Ingram was held in $2,500 bail for removal to Kansas City.

Assistant United States Attorney Amedeo Lauritano identified the girl as Jeannette Ann Hughes, Salina, a student at Lincoln High School there.

Lauritano said Ingram paid the girl's expenses for the trip from Salina and that they registered at a New York hotel as man and wife and there spent last weekend.

Ingram who first appeared in silent pictures in 1919, acted in

No Planes Are Hit By Target Fire; U. S., And British Protest

BERLIN, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Russians slammed antiaircraft fire into the crowded airlift corridor today—without hitting anything.

They told the Americans and British about it officially an hour and a half after the shooting started. The traget practice lasted three and a half hours at Dolle airport, 25 miles west of Berlin in the Buckeburg air lane used by British and American planes on their return flight from this city.

Then the Russians posted notice that they intended to shift to air-to-ground firing, which could include practice shooting at ground targets, and possibly some bomb dropping.

The Soviet shooting failed to deter the supplying of Berlin by air, but incited British-American authorities to a new protest.

The complaint was their second in two days against Soviet antics in the corridor. A Yak fighter played dangerously close to an airliner with 30 passengers in the corridor yesterday—a wing-to-wing performance that appeared to have no purpose.

Air Force officers were especially indignant about the antiaircraft fire. One officer said the stuff was being thrown "dangerously high"—up to 10,000 feet "which is as high as we fly." In the second place, he said, the notification from the Russians of their intentions to hold target practice came "an hour and a half 'late" and was a little less than polite.

Despite this, airlift planes lugged another 3,613 tons of food and coal to Berlin in 444 flights.

Almost as explosive as the air incidents was the outbreak of a "newspaper war" in which the Americans ordered all Soviet-sponsored newspapers and publications banned from the United States zone of Germany. The ban did not apply to the American sector of Berlin.

The Russians already had effectively banned all western publications from their zone and Berlin sector by setting upj a tight Communist-controlled distribution monopoly to handle all printed matter.

Shortly after the American ban was announced Communist-controlled German police went so far as to seize western sector newspapers on elevated trains and stations within the western sectors.

American Organized Plot To Assassinate Him, Peron Declares

ACCUSED BY PERON — John Griffith (above), native of Hartford, Kansas, has been accused by President Juan Peron, of Argentina, of organizing a plot to assassinate him and overthrow his government. Griffith, in Uruguay, called the affair "a detective story."

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24 (AP) — President Juan Peron accused John Griffith, former cultural attache of the United States Embassy, tonight of organizing a plot of assassinate him and topple his government.

Tens of thousands of workers, idled by a 14-hour general strike called in solidarity with Peron, cheered wildly his denunciations of traitors, international capitalists and foreign enemies.

Stirred to anger, the crowd shouted anti-United States slogans before the First National Bank of Boston building and attacked the big South American newspaper, La Prensa, which never has supported Peron.

At least 16 persons were under arrest including Luis Rojido, president of the Labor Party, and Cypriano Reyes, a labor leader and former congressman who broke with Peron two years ago.

Griffith Denies Charge

Griffith, expelled from Argentina in April on a charge of fomenting a bank strike, called the affair "just a detective story" invented for "vengeful persecution."

Peron's pretty actress wife, Eva, herself a power in Argentine politics, was said by police to have been marked for death with the President in the uprising planned for Columbus Day, October 12. She addressed the throng after Peron spoke, saying she would be willing to die "a thousand times" to help the cause of the people.

A group of the crowd gained brief entrance to the back door of La Prensa. Employes and police drove them away with fire hoses. They first tried to start a fire at the front door and then tried to batter it down with bricks.

Griffith "Spy," Peron Says

Peron said "traitors of the country" planned to kill him because "international capitalists desire it."

Peron asserted that Griffith is "now starting international insurrections from Uruguay."

"He has not the right to be called an American," said Peron, "he is an international spy."

The tens of thousands of workers packing the Plaza Mayo before Peron's forum cheered so loudly the President had difficulty making himself heard.

Peron claimed "foreign assassins" were responsible for the deaths of Gen. Augusto Cesar Sandino in Nicaragua 15 year ago, Liberal Presidential Candidate Jorge E. Gaitan in Colombia this year, and a Cuban leader whom he did not name.

Plans For Public Hearings On Atom Spying Cancelled

Such Sessions Might Bare Vital Secrets

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — The House Un-American Activities Committee tonight cancelled all plans for public hearings on alleged atomic espionage, saying such sessions might disclose vital atomic secrets to possible enemies.

However, Chairman J. Parnell Thomas (R-NJ) announced that the committee will issue a full report on its secret investigations to date, with recommendations to Congress.

Indictments Recommended

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa.), a committee member, proposed that the report recommend indictments against three Americans—including two atomic scientists and a "Communist functionary"—on evidence relating to reports that important atomic information has been transmitted to Russia.

After a long closed session of the committee, Thomas told reporters the proposed open hearings on atomic spying had been called off for three reasons:

1. "Most important, we have received information which is of such import to our national security that if witnesses testified in public we would be revealing some very vital secrets which, in the interest of national security, should not be made public at this time."

Will Protect Witnesses

2. The committee desires to protect some of the persons who have testified in secret session.

3. The commtitee is "reluctant to reveal some of the confidential sources of our information."

For days a subcommittee has been taking testimony behind closed doors on reported atomic espionage.

"This is probably the gravest matter we have ever gone into," Thomas said, adding that "all pertinent facts will be given to the Congress and the American people" in a report which will omit any information that might be of value to any potential enemy.

Paraguay Smashes Plot

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 24—(AP)—Paraguayan sources said today a plot against President Natalicio Gonzalez of that country was discovered and quashed. Paraguay was reported calm after some arrests were made.

Peaceful Strike Staged In France

PARIS, Sept. 24 (AP)—A two-hour nationwide general strike of 7,000,000 workers against the cost of living passed calmly in France today.

Carried out in a half-hearted way, it proved far less than 100 per cent effective.

The worst inconvenience was caused in Paris by an additional 24-hour subway and bus strike. The capital area's 4,000,000 residents good humoredly jammed the streets on foot and on bicycles and somehow got to and from work.

Some government employes quit work, but essential services such as gas, electricity and automatic telephones kept functioning.

Most department stores and cafes in Paris did not close during the hours of the strike, 4 to 6 p. m. Many industrial plants closed down temporarily and at many offices the workers loitered near their desks for the strike period.

But for most Parisians the strike merely meant they got off work early and could sip an extra drink in the sun-drenched boulevards or go shopping.

Russia Offers Japanese Industry Control Plan

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Russia came up today with a plan which would decrease Gen. Douglas MacArthur's control powers over Japanese industry and increase Russia's.

Soviet Ambassador Alexander Panyushkin proposed putting the industry under international control for several years to prevent Japan from building a war machine. He indicated plainly, though he did not say so, that Russia would expect to have an important hand in the new control system.

Technically Russia already has certain powers in running occupied Japan, being a member of the 11-nation Far Eastern Commission which sets operation policies.

Actually Gen. MacArthur as Allied occupation commander runs the nation, interpreting and putting into effect policies voted by the FEC.

Russians Lose Fight To Ditch Red-Hot Issues

U.N. Puts Explosive Items On Work Sheet Over Soviet Protests

PARIS, Sept. 24 (AP)—Western-led majorities today smothered Russia's repeated attempts to throw the veto fight and six other explosive issues out of the United Nations Assembly.

Informed delegates predicted the rebuffs would provoke an unusually bitter attack on the majority when Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky makes his nation's policy statement tomorrow morning. He had planned to speak today but delayed because of illness.

Except for two items, the six-nation Slav bloc voted alone against majorities running from 29 to 47. The 58-Nation Assembly thus decided over Russian protests to put the following items on the work sheet for full debate in the coming weeks:

Membership Issue

1—Argentina's call for consideration of the membership applications of Italy, Austria, Finland, Ireland, Portugal and Trans-Jordan. All have been vetoed by Russia in the Security Council. The vote on this item was 29 to 16 with 10 abstentions and three countries absent.

2—The Balkan Commission report accusing Greece's northern neighbors (Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria) of helping Greek guerrillas. The vote was 44 to 6.

3—The report of the Korean Commission which Russia boycotted. The vote was 47 to 6.

4—The Little Assembly proposal to restrict the veto. (Under the Charter the United States, Russia, France, Britain and China hold the right to veto decisions of substance in the Security Council. Through use of the so-called double veto, Russia has been able to control decisions on which issues are of substance and which are not). The vote was 47 to 6.

69 Items On Schedule

5—The proposal that the Little Assembly can be given a further trial. The United States, which originally proposed the new body last year, favors another 12-month experiment. The vote was 46 to 6.

6—A Little Assembly proposal to promote international political cooperation. The vote was 47 to 6.

7—Chile's charges that Russia violated human rights by refusing to permit the Russian-born wife of a son of Chile's ambassador to Moscow to leave the Soviet Union. The vote was 30 to 7 with Burma joining the Slav bloc in opposition.

The Assembly thus completed scheduling virtually all of its 69 items, the largest in history. The items now go to the six main 58-nation committees of the Assembly for debate. The committee decisions go back to the Assembly floor for final voting.

Woman, 80, Wins Her Breach Of Promise Suit

BOISE, Idaho, Sept. 24 (AP) — Eighty-year-old Mrs. Jessie E. Simmons, Kansas City, Mo., has been awarded $8,000 damages by a federal court jury in her breach of promise suit against Hyrum S. Lewis, also 80.

Lewis is a veteran Idaho legislator and Republican candidate for state representative from Cassia County.

Mrs. Simmons asked $20,700 damages on grounds that Lewis had failed to marry her April 6 as promised.

Brownell Says Truman Conducts Fear Campaign

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24. (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's campaign manager accused President Truman today of attempting to frighten the American people through a campaign of "cheap political tricks."

Speaking to an informal gathering of local Republican leaders, Herbert R. Brownell, Jr., said Mr. Truman is "carrying on a campaign of instilling fear in the hearts of the American people."

Brownell said the President is stirring up class and sectional feeling.

ON ROAD TO RECOVERY—Little Pamela Lamphere, 23 months old, lies wild-eyed in her crib at Cook County Hospital, Chicago, where she is recovering from the first of three operations to correct a condition with which she was born with her bladder outside of her body. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lamphere, recently went to court when they couldn't agree whether to have the operation performed.

La. House Favors Allowing Truman Name On Ballot

Backers Could Not Call Him Democrat

BATON ROUGE, La., Sept. 24 (AP) — The all-Democratic Louisiana House of Representatives voted today to let President Truman's supporters list him on the state's general election ballot provided they do not call him a Democrat.

Floor Leader Lorris Wimberly told the House "this is the bill on the presidential ballot that you all know about. It has been carefully gone over by the various interested parties, and we believe it is in shape."

All Lights Flash Green

Rep. Edwin F. Hunter, Jr., Shreveport, asked "are we sure that this bill covers only this particular situation, and doesn't open up the ballot generally?"

Wimberly gave assurance and moved for passage. The voting machine was opened and all lights flashed green for affirmative vote.

The bill now goes to the Senate where under speeded-up procedure it can be acted on by Sunday.

While Mr. Truman's supporters carried their main point, the States' Rights Democrats apparently won the latest skirmish — a backstage struggle for the name "Democrat" and the rooster emblem which traditionally has symbolized the party in Louisiana.

Word Democratic Out

The Democratic State Central Committee two weeks ago gave those to the States' Rights candidates and dropped Mr. Truman's name completely off the ballot. The committee named Gov. J. Strom Thurmond, of South Carolina, and Fielding L. Wright, of Mississippi, the official Louisiana Democratic candidates for President and Vice-President.

The bill passed by the House today provides that any 100 Louisiana voters could put Mr. Truman's name and those of elector candidates for him on the Louisiana ballot. They could list them without designation or adopt a new party name. But they couldn't call them Democratic, nor "National Democratic."

Give-Away Programs Not Illegal, NAB Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—The National Association of Broadcasters said today radio give-away programs are "not in fact illegal."

Some such programs have been described by the Federal Communications Commission as "lotteries."

In a brief filed with the FCC, the NAB challenged authority of federal agency to regulate specific programs or to say what broadcasting violates criminal law.

Boom Will Continue Through '49, Federal Economists Say

Farm Income Soars; Cost-Of-Living Index Up Another Notch

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Federal economists predicted today that the present boom in employment and personal income will continue through 1949.

This prediction came from the Bureau of Agricultural Economics, while two other government reports said that:

1. The income of farmers, measured in terms of purchasing power is expected to average more than twice as high this year as it was in the prewar years 1935-39.

2. The cost of living index rose another notch in August.

The Bureau of Agricultural Economics, in its first forecast for the year ahead, said there may be a slight downward trend in incomes late next year. But it predicted that 1949 incomes as a whole will about equal this year's record.

Peak Demand Forecast

The bureau commented:

"Demand for farm products in the United States in 1949 will continue near the record levels of 1948, primarily because of large personal incomes."

The Federal Reserve Board, in a separate report on the farm situation, said farmers this year will have more than double the buying power they had before the war—even allowing for increases in the cost of living and of farm production.

In dollars, total cash farm income will be about four times the prewar figure, the board said.

But the report said that although farm income has soared in comparison with other types, not all farmers have hit it rich.

Farm Population Drops

"Incomes received by many farmers who operate small acreages have been small," the report said, "and it appears that sizeable numbers of these farmers have been taking industrial jobs."

It estimated the number of persons on farms at the end of 1947 was 27,400,000, or 10 per cent less than before World War II.

"Non-farm population, meanwhile, has increased nearly 20 per cent since 1937, to 118,000,000 at the end of 1947," the board noted.

On the dark side of the economic situation, the Bureau of Labor Statistics reported the cost-of-living index jumped another notch in August. This index measures retail

U. S. Plane Found In Canadian Wilds —All Aboard Safe

WINNIPEG, Sept. 24. (AP)—Air searchers located today a lost American Navy plane with all its five passengers safe, after being down 12 days in the Canadian wilds, RCAF spokesmen said.

The plane was found in Northwest of the Pas near Highland Lake. The plane had crash-landed.

The Beechcraft was unreported since it left Churchill on a 450-mile scheduled flight to the Pas.

It was found by an RCAF search plane on the shore of a mapped but unnamed lake.

"Axis Sally" Trial Will Open Nov. 15

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Mildred Elizabeth Gillars was ordered today to go on trial November 15 on a treason charge growing out of the German propaganda broadcasts known to GIs as the "Axis Sally" program.

Her attorney, James J. Laughlin, said he wants to call President Truman as a witness.

Miss Gillars, born 48 years ago in Portland, Me., pleaded innocent to the indictment accusing her of giving aid and comfort to this country's enemies during the war.

Wearing a black suit and with her gray hair falling to her shoulders in a long bob, she stood motionless with clasped hands during the 12-minute reading of the long indictment which lists 10 specific counts.

Asked how she wished to plead, she replied in a low voice, "Certainly not guilty."

Miss Gillars, also known as Mildred E. Sisk, was indicted two weeks ago. The indictment said she "willfully sought and accepted employment" on the Nazi radio to take part in its psychological warfare campaign.

Conviction carries a possible death sentence. The minimum penalty is five years' imprisonment and a $10,000 fine.

Case Against ITU Ends; NLRB Timing Questioned

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 24. (AP)—The contempt case against the AFL International Typographical Union ended today with Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert questioning whether the government was tardy in filing its charges against the union.

The court took the case under advisement after closely querying Winthrop Johns, associate counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, about NLRB timing in filing the suit.

A decision may not be issued for several weeks.

President Truman has charged that the action against the ITU was filed only after Sen. Taft (R-Ohio) "put the heat on" NLRB attorneys in a Washington conference with them and newspaper publishers' representatives.

Taft denied the President's contention, saying Mr. Truman in making it was only trying to "curry favor with the labor bosses."

Dewey Charge To Bring Reply From Truman

GOP Candidate Says He'll Run "Commies" Out Of Government

[By The Associated Press]

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey said last night that some Communists and fellow travelers have "risen to positions of trust in our government," and President Truman prepared to argue the issue.

Thus a top-rank—if long distance—debate appeared to be shaping up between the Republican and Democratic presidential candidates as the 1948 campaign warmed up toward the November 2 election date.

Dewey said in a speech for a major Republican rally at Los Angeles that if present laws are not enough to cope with Communists who engage in illegal activities "we'll get ones which are."

In an obvious reference to Mr. Truman, Dewey said some people jeer at the problem of Communism, "calling it a 'red herring.'" (Mr. Truman has called the congressional investigations of Communism a red herring designed to cover up inaction by Congress on real issues.)

Other people, said Dewey, "get panicky about it."

"I don't belong to either group," the GOP nominee added.

Mr. Truman, traveling through Yuma and other Arizona points eastward to his next major address at Oklahoma City next Tuesday, was reported to have decided to bear down on the Communism issue then.

Truman's Answer Due Tuesday

An aide on the President's special train said specifically that Mr. Truman's Tuesday speech will be directed toward Dewey's statements that Red influences are at work in the administration.

"Too often," Dewey said in his Los Angeles speech, "our own government here in America seems to have so far lost faith in our system of free opportunity as to encourage this Communist advance, not hinder it.

"Communists — looking for grist for their propaganda mill could see that here in the United States, Communists and fellow travelers had risen to positions of trust in our government, in some labor unions, in some places in our arts, sciences and professions."

Dewey said that the thing to do is to keep the people informed as to what the Communists are doing.

If they break laws against treason, he said, "they'll get traitors' treatment. If they engage in sabotage or break any other laws, we'll jail them."

"If our laws aren't adequate, we'll get ones which are. But in this country, we'll have no thought police. We will not jail anybody for what he thinks or believes.

"So long as we keep the Communists among us out in the open, in the light of day, the United

Veteran Film Actor Dies Of Rare Blood Disease

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24 (AP) — Suave, debonair Warren William, stage and movie favorite for 30 years, died of a rare blood disease today after an illness of nearly a year.

The 53-year old William, yachtsman, inventor and owner of one of the most beautiful estates in filmland, had been in failing health for several years. But Dr. Stanley Gordon said the actor never rallied completely from an attack of Virus X suffered last November.

He is survived by his widow, Helen, with whom he recently celebrated his 25th anniversary, and two sisters, Mrs. Pauline K. K. Martindale, New York City, and Mrs. C. S. Lyon, Port Washington, N. Y.

A native of Aitkin, Minn., Warren wanted to be a marine engineer; but his early training was in newspaper work. He went to France with the Army in the First World

Actor Rex Ingram Is Held On White Slavery Charge

REX INGRAM

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—Rex Ingram, negro stage and film star who played "de Lawd" in the movie version of "Green Pastures," was arrested today by the FBI on white slavery charges.

He was accused by FBI agents of bringing a 15-year-old white girl from Salina, Kans., to New York City for immoral purposes.

Arraigned before United States Commissioner Isaac Platt, Ingram was held in $2,500 bail for removal to Kansas City.

Assistant United States Attorney Amedeo Lauritano identified the girl as Jeannette Ann Hughes, Salina, a student at Lincoln High School there.

Lauritano said Ingram paid the girl's expenses for the trip from Salina and that they registered at a New York hotel as man and wife and there spent last weekend.

Ingram who first appeared in silent pictures in 1919, acted in

Lane Takes Hand In Murder Case

GLEN BURNIE, Md., Sept. 24 (AP) —Gov. Lane took a hand today in Glen Burnie's baffling double murder case.

He said after talking with local investigators he is satisfied they are doing everything they can to track down the killers of Mary C. Kline, 18, and John H. Mahlan, 25-year-old post office worker.

It was a week ago tonight that John and Mary left her home to go out on their weekly date.

John's car, blood spattered and with bullet holes in the front windows, was found the next morning in a bean patch just off a road about two miles southest of town.

They were found Monday afternoon, shot through the head, in a wooded patch not far off the main highway between Annapolis and Washington, some 13 or 14 miles southwest of here.

"I have offered all the assistance that the state has at its command in solving this terrible crime," Gov. Lane said after talking for 40 minutes with Chief John H. Sowers, Jr., of the Anne Arundel County police.

The Governor then went to call on the Mahlan family, but they had not returned from New York, where he was buried yesterday.

The Governor called next at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kline. They had just returned from Glen Haven Cemetery, where Mary was buried this morning after funeral services and a requiem mass.

He was at the Kline home about 10 minutes and emerged from the house with the grieving father.

Last night the father said the investigation seemed to have bogged down. He appealed for the Governor and the Federal Bureau of Identification to take a more active interest in the case.

Maryland GOP Seeking $200,000 Campaign Fund

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP) — A campaign chest of $200,000 is the goal of Maryland Republicans.

The fund-raising campaign is well under way, the party's financial spokesmen say, and between $20,000 and $30,000 already is on hand.

The state GOP fell about $5,000 short of its goal in the last three presidential election years. But this year the Republicans are setting their sights higher than ever before. They tried to raise $150,000 in 1944, $125,000 in 1940, and $100,000 in 1936.

Robert O. Bonnell is in charge of the fund raising.

Peaceful Protests Are Planned By Phone Unions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Mass meetings, parades and other demonstrations short of a natoinwide strike were decided upon today by telephone unions engaged in crucial wage talks with the Bell System.

Despite the decision of the union leaders for peaceful protests against the progress of some negotiations, some strikes broke out in Michigan and walkout referenda were considered in other, scattered areas.

Spokesman for rival unions held a joint strategy meeting here. Afterward they said that strike action and work stoppages for demonstration purposes would be left to the local unions. There won't be any concerted nationwide action of that kind according to immediate plans, they said.

Six Ships Battle Fury Of Hurricane

HALIFAX, Sept. 24 (AP) — Six ocean-going vessels tonight battled the fury of a hurricane some 150 miles off Halifax. The United States Army transport General M. B. Sturgis, carrying 844 displaced persons to new homes in Canada, was directly in the path of the storm.

The Weather Bureau here said Sable Island—a desolate sand split 100 miles off the Nova Scotia coast —was lashed by 75-mile-an-hour winds. So far there have been no reports of shipwrecks or injuries.

The hurricane is moving parallel to the Nova Scotia coast, heading straight for Newfoundland which was sideswiped by a similar storm a week ago.

An unknown number of fishing boats also were on the Sable Island fishing banks today. It is believed they headed for shelter.

Bulgaria's Fault She's Not In U. N., U. S. Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—The United States said today Bulgaria has ruthlessly smashed freedom within its borders and therefore can only blame itself for failing to win United Nations membership.

The charges were made in a State Department note answering Bulgarian Foreign Minister Vasil Petkov Kolarov who told his parliament September 4 that the United States had blocked Bulgarian entrance to the United Nations.

The American note was delivered by American Minister Donald R. Heath to Kolarov yesterday and made public here today. It said not only the United States but "the overwhelming majority of other members of the Security Council" had opposed Bulgarian membership.

Truman Speaks At Yuma

President Truman said at Yuma that development of western resources under the Democrats has been greater than during "all the Republican administrations for the last century."

The President told Arizona voters they have three choices in the November election:

1. A vote for "vested interests" which he said have poured millions into the campaign.

2. No vote, which he said would allow a minority to elect the same men who control "the Republican, do-nothing 80th Congress." He said these "birds" in Congress tried to cut western projects to pieces.

3. A vote for Democrats, which he said would be a ballot to "keep the country in safe hands"—in the hands of those who "have the interests of the people at heart."

Between now and Tuesday, the Chief Executive will move through New Mexico and spend three days in Texas. Stats' Rights Democrats have been active against him in the Lone Star State.

There is a possibility he may try to lure some of them back to his banner, just as he tried in a Los Angeles speech Thursday night to bring into the fold liberals leaning toward Henry Wallace's third party.

Warren Defends Labor Act

DETROIT, Sept. 24 (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren tonight termed the Taft-Hartley labor law "an honest effort" to set up a national labor policy fair to labor, management and the public.

At the same time, he puts himself squarely in favor of striking out "oppressive, unnecessary or unworkable" features not in keeping with Democratic principles or labor's full right to collective bargaining.

The Republican vice presidential candidate tackled the hot campaign issue of labor and the Taft-Hartley law in the great labor center and motor capital of Detroit before a capacity crowd of 4,500 at Masonic Temple.

Barkley Attacks NAM

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 24 (AP)—Sen. Alben W. Barkley accused the National Association of Manufacturers tonight of having spent $3,000,000 in advertising "to break down the strength of labor organizations and destroy controls on the cost of living."

Addressing 400 delegates to the 60th anniversary of the United Hebrew Trades, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee said a major worry of American people today is that there may be "a reversion to the old days of domination of this country by the private interests."

Lane Takes Hand In Murder Case

GLEN BURNIE, Md., Sept. 24 (AP) —Gov. Lane took a hand today in Glen Burnie's baffling double murder case.

He said after talking with local investigators he is satisfied they are doing everything they can to track down the killers of Mary C. Kline, 18, and John H. Mahlan, 25-year-old post office worker.

It was a week ago tonight that John and Mary left her home to go out on their weekly date.

John's car, blood spattered and with bullet holes in the front windows, was found the next morning in a bean patch just off a road about two miles southest of town.

They were found Monday afternoon, shot through the head, in a wooded patch not far off the main highway between Annapolis and Washington, some 13 or 14 miles southwest of here.

"I have offered all the assistance that the state has at its command in solving this terrible crime," Gov. Lane said after talking for 40 minutes with Chief John H. Sowers, Jr., of the Anne Arundel County police.

The Governor then went to call on the Mahlan family, but they had not returned from New York, where he was buried yesterday.

The Governor called next at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Kline. They had just returned from Glen Haven Cemetery, where Mary was buried this morning after funeral services and a requiem mass.

He was at the Kline home about 10 minutes and emerged from the house with the grieving father.

Last night the father said the investigation seemed to have bogged down. He appealed for the Governor and the Federal Bureau of Identification to take a more active interest in the case.

Maryland GOP Seeking $200,000 Campaign Fund

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP) — A campaign chest of $200,000 is the goal of Maryland Republicans.

The fund-raising campaign is well under way, the party's financial spokesmen say, and between $20,000 and $30,000 already is on hand.

The state GOP fell about $5,000 short of its goal in the last three presidential election years. But this year the Republicans are setting their sights higher than ever before. They tried to raise $150,000 in 1944, $125,000 in 1940, and $100,000 in 1936.

Robert O. Bonnell is in charge of the fund raising.

Peaceful Protests Are Planned By Phone Unions

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24 (AP) — Mass meetings, parades and other demonstrations short of a nation-wide strike were decided upon today by telephone unions engaged in crucial wage talks with the Bell System.

Despite the decision of the union leaders for peaceful protests against the progress of some negotiations, some strikes broke out in Michigan and walkout referenda were considered in other, scattered areas.

Spokesman for rival unions held a joint strategy meeting here. Afterward they said that strike action and work stoppages for demonstration purposes would be left to the local unions. There won't be any concerted nationwide action of that kind according to immediate plans, they said.

Six Ships Battle Fury Of Hurricane

HALIFAX, Sept. 24 (AP) — Six ocean-going vessels tonight battled the fury of a hurricane some 150 miles off Halifax. The United States Army transport General M. B. Sturgis, carrying 844 displaced persons to new homes in Canada, was directly in the path of the storm.

The Weather Bureau here said Sable Island—a desolate sand split 100 miles off the Nova Scotia coast—was lashed by 75-mile-an-hour winds. So far there have been no reports of shipwrecks or injuries.

The hurricane is moving parallel to the Nova Scotia coast, heading straight for Newfoundland which was sideswiped by a similar storm a week ago.

An unknown number of fishing boats also were on the Sable Island fishing banks today. It is believed they headed for shelter.

Bulgaria's Fault She's Not In U. N., U. S. Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—The United States said today Bulgaria has ruthlessly smashed freedom within its borders and therefore can only blame itself for failing to win United Nations membership.

The charges were made in a State Department note answering Bulgarian Foreign Minister Vasil Petkov Kolarov who told his parliament September 4 that the United States had blocked Bulgarian entrance to the United Nations.

The American note was delivered by American Minister Donald R. Heath to Kolarov yesterday and made public here today. It said not only the United States but "the overwhelming majority of other members of the Security Council" had opposed Bulgarian membership.

PETRILLO CHANGES MIND—Head of the musicians' union, James Petrillo tries to wring out a tune from a harmonica after ruling that they are "musical instruments" and that harmonica players are now eligible to join his union. Listening to the union leader are Musicians Jerry Murad (left) and Don Les. Petrillo changed his mind because harmonica players were not affected by his ban on recordings.

42 Killed On Maryland Highways In August

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24—(AP)—Forty-two persons were killed on Maryland highways in August the State Police reported today. This was two more than were killed in July.

Ten of those who died were pedestrians and nine of the 10 died as the result of night time accidents. In July, 11 pedestrians were killed.

Injuries for the month totaled 931. This compared with July's total of 982.

His aptitude for the theater took him to Broadway a few years later, where Alexander Wollcott called him a "young John Drew." His father read it, wired him to stay in the theater with the Drews and Barrymores.

William came to Hollywood in 1932, and was an immediate success in the young talkies. Dark and handsome, he played the ideal man-about-town, although he was one of the town's most home-loving figures. He was much in demand for roles as a detective and district attorney.

Among his better-known films were "The Mouthpiece," "The Match King," "Gold Diggers of 1933" and "Arizona." In recent years he had done the "Lone Wolf" series. His last picture, two years ago, was "Bel Ami."

Truman Speaks At Yuma

President Truman said at Yuma that development of western resources under the Democrats has been greater than during "all the Republican administrations for the last century."

The President told Arizona voters they have three choices in the November election:

1. A vote for "vested interests" which he said have poured millions into the campaign.

2. No vote, which he said would allow a minority to elect the same men who control "the Republican, do-nothing 80th Congress." He said these "birds" in Congress tried to cut western projects to pieces.

3. A vote for Democrats, which he said would be a ballot to "keep the country in safe hands"—in the hands of those who "have the interests of the people at heart."

Between now and Tuesday, the Chief Executive will move through New Mexico and spend three days in Texas. Stats' Rights Democrats have been active against him in the Lone Star State.

There is a possibility he may try to lure some of them back to his banner, just as he tried in a Los Angeles speech Thursday night to bring into the fold liberals leaning toward Henry Wallace's third party.

Warren Defends Labor Act

DETROIT, Sept. 24 (AP)—Gov. Earl Warren tonight termed the Taft-Hartley labor law "an honest effort" to set up a national labor policy fair to labor, management and the public.

At the same time, he puts himself squarely in favor of striking out "oppressive, unnecessary or unworkable" features not in keeping with Democratic principles or labor's full right to collective bargaining.

The Republican vice presidential candidate tackled the hot campaign issue of labor and the Taft-Hartley law in the great labor center and motor capital of Detroit before a capacity crowd of 4,500 at Masonic Temple.

Barkley Attacks NAM

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 24 (AP)—Sen. Alben W. Barkley accused the National Association of Manufacturers tonight of having spent $3,000,000 in advertising "to break down the strength of labor organizations and destroy controls on the cost of living."

Addressing 400 delegates to the 60th anniversary of the United Hebrew Trades, the Democratic vice-presidential nominee said a major worry of American people today is that there may be "a reversion to the old days of domination of this country by the private interests."

Stop "Typing" Yourself As A "Sister" To The Boys

By NANCY MOTTRAM

Nancy Mottram

(Q) "Dear Nancy: The boys I know don't look on me as a date—I'm more or less of a 'sister' to them. Many of them talk to me about the girls they are going with, and ask me for advice. Although they come to my house often, I know they feel I'm just a pal ,and I'm getting a little bored with this set-up. I'd like them to be interested in me as a girl not just a good kid. I wonder if you could tell me what to do".

(A) You've "typed" yourself as a friendly confidante. They don't realize that you're really like the girls they go out with, because they're too busy asking you to further their own cause with the gals they date. You've helped them in that way, but you have a start that many others would envy. You know them, and they're friends. Gradually start breaking away from this habit. Keep the conversation to lighter things, smile and joke with them. But steer the chatter away from other girls and let them see that you're not just a gal they can tell their troubles to, but someone with a personality of her own. Talk about them, ask them questions, begin to mention your own views and opinions occasionally, instead of just listening.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: Twice I have broken up with the same boy, because of another girl, and each time he's come back. He's hinting about going steady again, and although he hasn't asked me point blank yet, I want to have an answer for him when he does. I don't feel that you should treat an arrangement like that lightly. If you agree to go steady, you should stick to it. What do you think I should say?"

(A) When he asks you, tell him that very same thing. Don't promise to go steady until you've gone together a while longer and are sure he's sincere about it. It's pretty certain that you rate higher with him than the other lass, or he wouldn't have come back, but be wary this time. If you do decide to take his "steady" offer, and he should break it off again, wipe that romance off the slate and find someone who's word means a little more.

(Q) "Dear Nancy: A boy I've been going with recently "stood me up" last weekend, and hasn't called or seen me since. We had an argument in a few days before, but he made the date afterwards, and then never bothered to keep it. Should I give him up for good or go out with him if he calls again?"

(A) His standing you up without an explanation beforehand or a call the next day to tell you why he didn't make it looks deliberate. There is a question of your pride involved. If he calls again, and you really want to see him, you might accept and be cool and disinterested, but it wouldn't be a happy evening. A trick like this is rude and unforgivable. It would be smarter to cross him off your date list entirely.

If you have a school, family or friend problem, Nancy can help you. Letters are answered in this column.

Cumberland In Need Of Street Improvements

It has been some time since the city has had a street improvement program of any consequence. During depression days of the thirties some streets were paved by the WPA. Before that, during the regimes of the late Mayor Thomas W. Koon, the people of Cumberland were so accustomed to seeing streets paved or resurfaced annually that they came to accept them as a matter of course.

Since the days of the WPA street improvements have been spasmodic, more or less. Part of this can be traced to the outbreak of World War II when all but the most urgent undertakings had to be abandoned. During these lulls many streets have, as a result of long periods of service, deteriorated, making resurfacing of some a dire necessity. The obligation of the city to its residents has increased by the fact that much more building is going on than most people realize. Not all of this is confined to improved thoroughfares. This should not be overlooked and plans should be considered under which the time those citizens must live along dusty or muddy streets might be shortened. Improved streets encourage building of homes.

The street department has endeavored to keep unimproved thoroughfares in passable condition by oiling them each year. But these half-way measures soon succumb to the elements and the work must be done over the next year. This is a costly procedure to follow for any length of time and over a period of several years the money required to carry on a patchwork program would go far toward putting those streets in a permanent state of usefulness.

So, what's to be done. There are several methods which present themselves but it is the opinion of many that the revolving bond issue fund plan is probably the answer. Such a plan, in the past, permitted the city to engage in street paving and repaving over a number of years. And it was accomplished without too great a burden having to be shouldered by taxpayers as a result of the city's indebtedness. But it must be borne in mind that no city advances very rapidly unless it goes in debt.

It has been pointed out that an increase of 25 cents in the tax rate may be necessary to meet the cost of two flood control bond issues and the proposed street and sewer improvement issue. While that is not a great deal to have to pay toward keeping the city streets in good condition and, it is hoped, to provide for the hard-surfacing of some unimproved streets, it does not of necessity mean that such an increase will have to be made. There is always the chance of seeing tax returns from the State under the Sherbow Plan increased and there may be found new sources of revenue within the city that might be tapped. Add to this the practicing of greater efficiency with resultant savings in the conduct of city affairs and it might be possible to shave this contemplated tax rate increase substantially.

The City Council has before it a proposal which would bring into being a revolving fund from a bond issue, and an order to this effect is being prepared. Commissioner Reynolds seeks the approval of Council to this proposal in order that the Legislature can be requested to grant the authority for the issuance of bonds.

Prompt action may be expected by the City Commissioners in order that a program for the contemplated undertakings can be mapped in advance of the Legislative action. It would permit the going-ahead with the improvements with the coming of good weather next spring. To have the proposal rejected would be disappointing.

Building nails have been shipped to Russia as shoe tacks, under a forged export license. And just when they were so badly needed in this country to hold the GI bungalow together at least until spring.

Dewey's Arraignment Of Washington Unassailable

"On next January 20 (said Governor Dewey this week in Des Moines) there will begin in Washington the biggest unraveling, unsnarling, untangling operation in this nation's history."

The sentence is at once a formidable pledge, and the most sweeping arraignment yet made of the Roosevelt New Deal period, as now bogged down in Harry Truman. Isn't the charge unassailable?

The tangle is symbolized by the incredible list of new bureaus designated by capital letters, the meaning of which in most cases is unknown to most persons. The snarl (in a different sense) is embodied in the numerous books in which former officeholders "put the heat" on each other. The ravel started in the mind of Franklin Roosevelt—his inveterate habit of naming two men to do one man's job, resulting, among others, in the historic quarrel of Commerce Chief Jesse Jones and Vice President Wallace.

Another mental phenomenon was Roosevelt's habit of treating men like pawns on a chessboard, moving them around to meet the complaints of other men. This habit showed at its worst whenever Congress sought to get rid of a Communist official by abolishing his bureau or denying it an appropriation; another bureau always took him on!

Over all, and the very heart of the tangle, was Mr. Roosevelt's course in conducting the Administration as a purely personal proposition—substituting the New Deal for the Democratic Party; giving his Palace Guard of intimates an influence beyond his Cabinet; striking bargains with labor chiefs by which they took over his Labor Department; making secret pledges to Stalin at Teheran and Yalta which give point to former Ambassador Bullitt's thesis: "How We Won the War and Lost the Peace."

Another, and inexcusable tangle—those interminable questionnaires—fell like a blight on small businesses, which could not carry on and fill in the answers. By hundreds of thousands they quit. Miles of steel file-boxes in Washington contain the answers of larger concerns. Nobody reads them and were they ever intended to be read?

Harry Truman continues it all.

Despite its 100 per cent record of failure, the United Nations still has apologists who admonish, "Don't shoot the piano player—he's doing the best he can."

Pre-election polls are all going against Truman. The President, it seems, is without prophets in his own country.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Congenital Heart Disease

During the last two decades more progress has been made in treating disease than in any other period of history. The wonder drugs probably will stand out as the greatest achievement because of their usefulness in so many disorders. In this respect they outdo a host of newer remedies and procedures that are available now for several of our less common ailments. Among these is the operation for correcting certain types of congenital heart defects.

Dr. Van Dellen

The heart is not an ordinary pump, and it is more complex than is generally believed. It is not surprising, therefore, that some individuals come into this world with an imperfect organ. On the contrary, it is more amazing that so many are born with a normal heart. It is easy to explain how these defects occur because the pumping apparatus starts out as a simple tube, which turns and twists as it develops until it consists of four chambers and numerous blood vessels.

The compartments on the right and left are separated by walls; the auricles and ventricles, on the other hand, are connected with valves. Furthermore, the heart beats long before birth but, since the lungs do not function, the flow of blood is different in the fetus than in the infant. This means that the passageways used to reroute the vital fluid around the lungs before birth are of no value after birth. Now and then, however, they continue to function and upset the normal mechanism.

Other defects can develop because partitions between the chambers are not perfect, shunting the blood from one side of the heart into the other. The valves, too, may not work properly. Sometimes they fail to open, and, in other instances, they may not close.

Another interesting though harmless abnormality occurs when everything develops in reverse. The heart is on the right side instead of the left and so are the liver and appendix. At any rate, innumerable defects are possible; some so serious that life is not possible; others so minor that the individual is never aware that anything is amiss.

The term, "blue baby," often is used to describe infants born with congenital heart lesions. But only certain types cause this discoloration because, in order for the skin to turn blue, a defect must be present in which the darker venous blood mixes with the brighter arterial blood. In other words, lesions can be present without the child being a blue baby.

Only a few of the defects are amenable to the new surgical treatment. Some credit must be given along this line to the anesthetists, because this type of surgery would not be possible without certain advances in this field. After all, the heart is encased in the chest cavity and as soon as the thorax is opened the lungs must be reckoned with. As a result, artificial respiration with a special machine must be maintained while the operation is in progress.

When surgery cannot be used the old method of treatment must be utilized. Infections frequently add an extra burden and therefore every attempt should be made to avoid colds and other infectious processes. These children rarely need to be cautioned about doing too much because they soon learn their limitation. Furthermore, when the defect is not marked it may have an adverse psychological effect and they are so fearful and conscious of their hearts that they are unable to lead normal lives.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman Loses Italian Votes Over North African Colonies; Un-American Activities Committee Asked To Delay One Report Until After Nov. 2

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—It will probably cost him half a million votes in such Italian-American centers as New York, Boston and Jersey City, but President Truman continues rigid and immovable regarding the return of North African colonies to Italy. He hasn't budged an inch despite the toughest kind of pressure.

Hardest pressure came the other day from publisher Generoso Pope of the Italian-American newspaper Il Progresso, hitherto a strong Democrat, but now flirting with Dewey. Invited to the White House with Senators McGrath of Rhode Island and O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Pope proceeded to put the President on the hot seat.

McGrath, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, opened the session by telling the President that publisher Pope was going to support him. Without concurring in this, Pope handed the President a memo regarding Italian colonies and said he would like to have his views on the subject.

Truman replied that he couldn't make any commitment, since Italian colonies were up to the United Nations.

"I'm not going to give you any of that Dewey bull", the President added, referring to Governor Dewey's statement to an Italo-American group that the colonies should be returned to Italy.

Truman went on to point out that the United States had shown its true friendship to the Italian people by contributing one billion dollars a year to them.

"Yes," countered Pope, "but how can we keep that up? We simply can't do it. We've got to help the Italians to help themselves. And there isn't enough room in Italy for all the Italian people. They have to have some place in North Africa for their overflow".

U. S. Base In North Africa

Senator O'Mahoney intervened to point out that Britain's colonies were no asset to her—in fact, were a drain on the British Empire.

"She's now supporting them", the Wyoming Senator said.

"But that's not true of Italy", countered Pope. "Italians have migrated to her colonies and they have been a tremendous help to the Italian people".

The Italo-American publisher also quoted a statement made by Anthony Eden, when British Foreign Minister in 1944, to the effect that the Italian colonies would never be returned to Italy.

"Are we following British policy, Mr. President?" Pope asked.

"No, we are not", was the reply. "I am going to leave this to General Marshall and the United Nations to decide".

That about ended the interview. Mr. Truman did not make a convert, and Pope's influential newspaper now appears to be definitely in Dewey's corner. The Italian vote can swing New York one way or the other.

Note—Truman did not say so, but probably one reason he is standing pat regarding Italian colonies is that the United States has signed an agreement with Britain and France to establish a B-29 base in Libya which will control the Mediterranean. Also, the British have already sent to Libya much of their military equipment from Palestine and India in Libya. The State Department, therefore, is willing to return Italian Somaliland and Eritreaa to Italy, but not Libya, which Mussolini always considered the chief jewel of the Italian crown.

Wait Til Elections

Hitherto, the GOP has considered the Un-American Activities Committee one of its best propaganda mediums against the Democrats. But believe it or not, a Republican recently went to the Committee and asked them to hold up a report they were planning to publish.

The Republican is Roy James, candidate for Congress from Palmerton, Pa., and the report he didn't want published was regarding the Institute of Pacific Relations, of which he is a member. The Un-American Activities Committee, probing the institute, claims that it is dominated by Frederick Field, wealthy New York Communist leader.

James suggested to fellow Republicans on the Committee that the report be discreetly held up "until after elections".

Voters Get Wise

The voters are gradually catching up with some of the Congressment who worked for the lobbyists rather than the public during the 80th Congress.

One man they have got wise to is that great friend of the real-estate lobby, Rep. John J. Riley of South Carolina, Democrat. Riley came to Washington with his votes already lined up for the real-estate lobby, and super-lobbyist Morton Bodfish, knowing this, pulled wires to put him on the powerful Banking and Currency Committee.

There Riley voted for the real-estate cabal and against the veterans every single time. When Democratic voters in South Carolina got wise to Riley, however, they threw him out in the Democratic primaries in favor of go-getting Hugo Sims of Orangeburg, who worked his way up from paratrooper buck-private to captain.

Another Congressman now in trouble because he played ball with the lobbies is GOP Rep. John Sanborn of Idaho.

Sanborn sat through two years of Congress without so much as opening his mouth—except to vote—and then he voted with the big lobbies.

Sanborn even went so far as to insert a speech in the Congressional Record written for him by lobbyist John McBride. Sanborn didn't have the nerve to deliver the speech, just put it in the Congressional Record, so McBride could get it printed and circulated. The speech was an anti-British, anti-liberal diatribe on silver.

Now, Idaho's gift-to-the-lobbyists is being opposed by 27-year-old Asael Lyman, who, during the crucial Battle of the Bulge, parachuted behind the enemy's lines. Though Sanborn's district is heavily Republican and Lyman is a Democrat, Idaho voters are well known for their independence and Sanborn is worried sick.

Housing Frauds

In most housing frauds the veteran is the victim. The Treasury Department has now turned up an exception.

T-man Walter Martin reports that Joe Rubino used his veteran's status to buy a seven-room home in Manhattan Park, N. Y., then leased it to ex-convict Nicolo Rialdi (alias James Pantarella).

Together Rubino and Rialdi installed $1,650 worth of extra piping and operated an illegal whisky still.

Deep-Rooted Russian Drive Brought To Public Attention

By MARK SULLIVAN

"Over-all strategic concept" is a phrase the military heads of the Allied nations used during the war when planning global operations. The same phrase, not limited to a military sense but covering every form of aggression and conspiracy, fits the Russian and Communist drive to spread their power over the entire face of the earth.

How deep-rooted, thorough and long-planned this Russian drive is came to public attention during the past ten days. British Foreign Secretary Bevin said in the House of Commons: "Throughout the whole of Southeast Asia there is a Cominform and Communist plan to drive every Western association out of that territory." Two days later our State Department confirmed what Mr. Bevin said, it stated that the Communists had started a "drive for power" in that way.

Case Put To Narrowly

In both the Bevin statements and that of our State Department, as here briefly quoted, the case is put too narrowly. Both sources would subscribe to what well-informed authorities know well, that the Communist drive in Southeast Asia is not local to that territory. It is a part, a presently dynamic part, of the Russian over-all strategic concept for world domination. It is long-planned. Agents to incite it and carry it out have been in training for many years, at Moscow and locally in the countries affected.

The recently intensified activity of the Communist drive in Southeast Asia has, of course, the over-all and long-term purpose of bringing about everywhere in the world the chaos in which Communism can seize power. But the drive has in addition a specific and immediately dynamic purpose.

What the Communists are doing in Southeast Asia is designed for effect on the other side of the world, in Western Europe. It is designed to undermine economic recovery in the Western European countries, and to frustrate the aid the United States is giving those countries through the Marshall plan. No one can fully understand the mass of news coming from Europe about the conflict on that continent, without first realizing that a major Russian strategy in the European conflict consists of what it is doing in Southeast Asia.

Indonesia is an extremely large source of important raw materials used throughout the world. Before the war, Indonesia supplied 34 per cent of the world's rubber, 15 per cent of its tin, 35 per cent of its palm oil, 20 per cent of its tea. It was also an extremely important source of petroleum. Of some other products vital to the world in various ways, Indonesia supplied 90 per cent of the world's quinine, 85 per cent of its pepper, 70 per cent of its kapok, 30 per cent of copra.

Raw Materials Vitally Important

These raw materials were important in national economies all over the world, and interruption of them now holds back recovery everywhere. This is especially true of some countries in Western Europe, a large part of whose trade and industry and shipping consisted of importing raw materials from Indonesia, fabricating them, and selling them in other countries. This was true of England and the Netherlands, especially the latter. During some 300 years the Netherlands had developed raw materials in Java and Sumatra, to a point where the production of these materials, import of them and distribution of them throughout Western Europe was an indispensable basis of the Netherlands' economy. If resumption of this is prevented by what the Communists are doing in Indonesia, the Netherlands cannot possibly recover. And because of the interweaving of that country's economy with those of other Western European countries, failure of the Netherlands to recover would make it difficult for the rest of Western Europe to recover. Thus the effect on the Marshall plan is direct and large. Marshall plan aid for Western Europe without a restored and prosperous Netherland is like a bucket with a hole in it.

The Communist drive in Southeast Asia is thoroughly organized and minutely directed. The capital of Siam, Bangkok, is a kind of Little Moscow. In Bangkok Russia maintains the largest legation maintained by any nation in any part of Southeast Asia, even though several Western nations have direct and long-standing interests in that territory, while Russia has no such ordinary interests and its only interest is the spreading of Communism, revolution and chaos. The huge Russian legation in Bangkok is not a legation in the ordinary sense, it is a headquarters supplying leadership and agencies for revolution in all the countries of Southeast Asia.

U.S. Treasury Secretary Does Not Share Truman 'Fear' Views

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury in President Truman's cabinet, is a conscientious person and somehow cannot refrain from telling the truth as he sees it in the economic situation.

Now he predicts continued prosperity in America for years to come. Surely Mr. Snyder cannot have been reading Mr. Truman's speeches in the west prophesying calamity for the nation, hard times and what not if he isn't elected on November 2nd, which is only a few weeks hence. Mr. Truman is appealing to the people to vote for him and "save the country from going to the dogs."

Secretary of Treasury Not Worried

But the Secretary of the Treasury somehow isn't too worried about what is going to happen to America for many years to come. He believes the nation has a pretty sound foundation. Here is what he told the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks at their meeting in Louisville Wednesday:

"The nation is faced with heavy unfilled demand for houses, for automobiles, farm machinery, freight cars, steel, electrical capacity, new schools and highways. Our population is growing, and a still greater expansion in these facilities may well be called for the future.

"Electronic devices, plastics and other new inventions are attracting an increasing public demand. We have only begun to tap the billions of savings built up during the war years. All of these facts testify to the powerful reserve strength in our national economy."

While Secretary Snyder termed the present economic picture reassuring, he called attention to some unhealthy symptoms and inflationary pressures. He called attention to the strength of agricultural real estate and pointed out that farm debt had decreased 30 per cent since the last war, whereas it increased 160 per cent after the first world war.

Truman Instills Fear

Mr. Snyder's observations could be construed, of course, as support in a sense of the President's argument that there is a high degree of prosperity in the country—which, incidentally, would be a better political platform for Mr. Truman to stand on than the campaign to instill fear and apprehension that he seems to have adopted.

Back in 1916 a Democratic president carried virtually the entire west and two of the eastern states on a platform of "peace and prosperity". He didn't charge that the Republicans would upset either but argued merely that the incumbent administration had achieved both objectives. He won the election, too.

The theory that political capital may be gained by arousing fear is an old one. It has backfired again and again. The people are much too well informed about their economic life to believe that one man can by himself upset the national economy. Certainly if a majority of the Congress, which is composed of 531 persons elected by the people, doesn't agree with a President, he cannot dictate policies or enact laws that can bring depression or economic disturbance.

Mrs. Roosevelt Absolves Hoover

The Republican party used to argue that the Democratic Party was the party of depression. The argument received a considerable setback with the depression of 1929 to 1932, when the Republicans were in power. Although Mrs. Roosevelt in a recent article absolved President Hoover from blame for depression conditions that were worldwide at the time he was in office, the stump speakers of the Democratic Party are still referring with alarm to the Hoover days and pointing with pride to the prosperity of the Democratic administrations.

Unhappily, when a President takes credit for favorable economic conditions, he focuses the attention of the people on the unfavorable factors as well. The high cost of living is something which, despite all that Mr. Truman says about the Eightieth Congress, will work out politically to his own disadvantage. That's why Mr. Snyder's type of speech is far better suited to vote-getting than Mr. Truman's doleful prophesies of disaster. America isn't going to the dogs no matter who is elected on November 2nd.

These Days

Newsprint Starvation

THE BRITISH, while short of newsprint, are long in idle facilities to manufacture newsprint. These facilities are not being used because the British do not choose to expend their dollars to import wood pulp. That is their choice and has nothing to do with us, except as they use American dollars, obtained through ERP (now called ECA) which means that the American taxpayer provides the British with the wherewithal to purchase newsprint in competition with American newspapers which do not receive money from their own government as a gift but have to earn it.

Arthur Sulzberger, publisher of "The New York Times," had this to say on the subject:

"In my judgment, a loss of freedom in Britain would all too quickly be reflected here by comparable curtailment of liberty. We will stand or fall together, and of course it's 'stand' that we intend to do.

"To assist in that purpose, if the British Government will allocate the dollars and the supply of newsprint remains short, we on 'The New York Times' are prepared to give up a percentage of our raw material for British use if other American publishers will do the same."

Cranston Williams of the American Newspaper Publishers Association replied to Mr. Sulzberger's proposal as follows:

"Whenever the British Government wants to authorize use of dollars required by Canada and Newfoundland it is my understanding that newsprint for Britain is available upon receipt of that hard money to care for contracts already existing.

"Further, when the British Government sees fit to authorize use of hard money there is pulpwood in Newfoundland available for manufacturing newsprint in Britain."

Mr. Sulzberger was undoubtedly responsive to some of the British criticism of the huge daily and Sunday editions of "The New York Times" while they suffer from newsprint starvation. The fact is that the British press does not need to suffer this starvation if their socialist government will permit them to buy what they wish. The reason that Mr. Sulzberger's proposal was not accepted enthusiastically in London is obvious: the British would still have to purchase the relinquished newsprint. They are willing to take from ERP or ECA, but they are unwilling to pay in U. S. or Canadian dollars. The publisher does not want his taxes to compete against him in the purchase of Canadian newsprint which is already at a fabulous price.

In 1941, "The New York Times" consumed approximately 90,000 tons of newsprint. It is estimated that this year they will use about 144,000 tons, a rise of about 60 percent. The average rise for all American newspapers is about 29 percent. Maybe the British publishers find these figures hard to take in view of their own shortages, but our newspapers pay their own way and so ought the British newspapers. All this talk about maintaining freedom of the press by a handout of newsprint is unsound, because no handout ever won freedom for anybody. Mr. Sulzberger's proposal is charitable but it will not solve Great Britain's newsprint problem any more than the original British loan solved her problem of productivity. Socialism needs to re-learn the lesson that the prosperity of a nation depends upon its ability to produce goods and services, not upon its propagandistic ability to create an attitude favorable to granting loans.

Freedom of the press has existed only in countries where the press has been entirely self-supporting. It has not existed in countries where the government owned or subsidized the press or where its publishers were dependent upon subsidies from political parties. As a matter, of fact, as long as the British press is dependent upon its own government or ours for newsprint, it will not be free. Even British newspapers which own their own forests or mills in Canada may not use them to provide British newspapers because of the policy of their government to restrict their operations.

Mr. Sulzberger seems to hold somewhat to this view, for he added:

". . . If there is blame, let it rest squarely on government which does not seem to recognize the full importance of information, or, as some suggest, is prone to look the other way because too frequently it dislikes the news that is published."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

What Is Success?

What do we mean when we say that a certain person is a great success? There are two interpretations—one as to what the world about one may look upon as a successful life, and one that the person himself looks upon as to whether he is a success or not.

Many a person is looked upon by the outside world as a success because he has made and accumulated much money, or has reached some high place in social or political life. But many such a person has gone to his grave a disappointed and unhappy man or woman. My own viewpoint is that one has been very successful who has distributed his gains the most, or who has accumulated the greatest personal satisfaction out of what he has done in life.

If a person has done what he most wanted to do, and gained personal joy in its doing in his heart, I am sure that he could consider himself a success. I have a friend whose life was buffeted about for years because his parents wanted him to be what he abhorred. He was a lover of beauty, and he wanted to paint above everything else in life. Whether he should some day become a great painter and merit fame didn't interest him. He just wanted to paint—because that made him happy.

R. B. Cunninghame Graham once wrote a most unusual essay upon the topic of "Success," in which he stated that the failure was far more interesting than the success. When a boy I committed to memory a beautiful poem, which contained this closing line: "Not hast thou won—but only hast thou striven!" I once quoted from Will Rogers, in one of these Talks, and a few years ago it became the inspiration for the Cherokee plaque at the Rogers' Memorial at Claremore, Oklahoma. This is what he said: "Live your life so that whenever you lose, you are ahead."

I recently read of a New York City newspaperman who died, and the tributes paid to him. They told of his interest in everyone around him, of how he encouraged younger writers, and of how he never seemed too busy to lend a hand to anyone who asked his advice or counsel. Nothing was said about how much money he made, and nothing about his social standing. He simply stood high with all who knew and loved him. A notable success!

Cumberland In Need Of Street Improvements

It has been some time since the city has had a street improvement program of any consequence. During depression days of the thirties some streets were paved by the WPA. Before that, during the regimes of the late Mayor Thomas W. Koon, the people of Cumberland were so accustomed to seeing streets paved or resurfaced annually that they came to accept them as a matter of course.

Since the days of the WPA street improvements have been spasmodic, more or less. Part of this can be traced to the outbreak of World War II when all but the most urgent undertakings had to be abandoned. During these lulls many streets have, as a result of long periods of service, deteriorated, making resurfacing of some a dire necessity. The obligation of the city to its residents has increased by the fact that much more building is going on than most people realize. Not all of this is confined to improved thoroughfares. This should not be overlooked and plans should be considered under which the time those citizens must live along dusty or muddy streets might be shortened. Improved streets encourage building of homes.

The street department has endeavored to keep unimproved thoroughfares in passable condition by oiling them each year. But these half-way measures soon succumb to the elements and the work must be done over the next year. This is a costly procedure to follow for any length of time and over a period of several years the money required to carry on a patchwork program would go far toward putting those streets in a permanent state of usefulness.

So, what's to be done. There are several methods which present themselves but it is the opinion of many that the revolving bond issue fund plan is probably the answer. Such a plan, in the past, permitted the city to engage in street paving and repaving over a number of years. And it was accomplished without too great a burden having to be shouldered by taxpayers as a result of the city's indebtedness. But it must be borne in mind that no city advances very rapidly unless it goes in debt.

It has been pointed out that an increase of 25 cents in the tax rate may be necessary to meet the cost of two flood control bond issues and the proposed street and sewer improvement issue. While that is not a great deal to have to pay toward keeping the city streets in good condition and, it is hoped, to provide for the hard-surfacing of some unimproved streets, it does not of necessity mean that such an increase will have to be made. There is always the chance of seeing tax returns from the State under the Sherbow Plan increased and there may be found new sources of revenue within the city that might be tapped. Add to this the practicing of greater efficiency with resultant savings in the conduct of city affairs and it might be possible to shave this contemplated tax rate increase substantially.

The City Council has before it a proposal which would bring into being a revolving fund from a bond issue, and an order to this effect is being prepared. Commissioner Reynolds seeks the approval of Council to this proposal in order that the Legislature can be requested to grant the authority for the issuance of bonds.

Prompt action may be expected by the City Commissioners in order that a program for the contemplated undertakings can be mapped in advance of the Legislative action. It would permit the going-ahead with the improvements with the coming of good weather next spring. To have the proposal rejected would be disappointing.

Building nails have been shipped to Russia as shoe tacks, under a forged export license. And just when they were so badly needed in this country to hold the GI bungalow together at least until spring.

Dewey's Arraignment Of Washington Unassailable

"On next January 20 (said Governor Dewey this week in Des Moines) there will begin in Washington the biggest unraveling, unsnarling, untangling operation in this nation's history."

The sentence is at once a formidable pledge, and the most sweeping arraignment yet made of the Roosevelt New Deal period, as now bogged down in Harry Truman. Isn't the charge unassailable?

The tangle is symbolized by the incredible list of new bureaus designated by capital letters, the meaning of which in most cases is unknown to most persons. The snarl (in a different sense) is embodied in the numerous books in which former officeholders "put the heat" on each other. The ravel started in the mind of Franklin Roosevelt—his inveterate habit of naming two men to do one man's job, resulting, among others, in the historic quarrel of Commerce Chief Jesse Jones and Vice President Wallace.

Another mental phenomenon was Roosevelt's habit of treating men like pawns on a chessboard, moving them around to meet the complaints of other men. This habit showed at its worst whenever Congress sought to get rid of a Communist official by abolishing his bureau or denying it an appropriation; another bureau always took him on!

Over all, and the very heart of the tangle, was Mr. Roosevelt's course in conducting the Administration as a purely personal proposition—substituting the New Deal for the Democratic Party; giving his Palace Guard of intimates an influence beyond his Cabinet; striking bargains with labor chiefs by which they took over his Labor Department; making secret pledges to Stalin at Teheran and Yalta which give point to former Ambassador Bullitt's thesis: "How We Won the War and Lost the Peace."

Another, and inexcusable tangle—those interminable questionnaires—fell like a blight on small businesses, which could not carry on and fill in the answers. By hundreds of thousands they quit. Miles of steel file-boxes in Washington contain the answers of larger concerns. Nobody reads them and were they ever intended to be read?

Harry Truman continues it all.

Despite its 100 per cent record of failure, the United Nations still has apologists who admonish, "Don't shoot the piano player—he's doing the best he can."

Pre-election polls are all going against Truman, The President, it seems, is without prophets in his own country.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is enclosed. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnosis or prescribe for individual diseases.

Congenital Heart Disease

During the last two decades more progress has been made in treating disease than in any other period of history. The wonder drugs probably will stand out as the greatest achievement because of their usefulness in so many disorders. In this respect they outdo a host of newer remedies and procedures that are available now for several of our less common ailments. Among these is the operation for correcting certain types of congenital heart defects.

Dr. Van Dellen

The heart is not an ordinary pump, and it is more complex than is generally believed. It is not surprising, therefore, that some individuals come into this world with an imperfect organ. On the contrary, it is more amazing that so many are born with a normal heart. It is easy to explain how these defects occur because the pumping apparatus starts out as a simple tube, which turns and twists as it develops until it consists of four chambers and numerous blood vessels.

The compartments on the right and left are separated by walls; the auricles and ventricles, on the other hand, are connected with valves. Furthermore, the heart beats long before birth but, since the lungs do not function, the flow of blood is different in the fetus than in the infant. This means that the passageways used to reroute the vital fluid around the lungs before birth are of no value after birth. Now and then, however, they continue to function and upset the normal mechanism.

Other defects can develop because partitions between the chambers are not perfect, shunting the blood from one side of the heart into the other. The valves, too, may not work properly. Sometimes they fail to open, and, in other instances, they may not close.

Another interesting though harmless abnormality occurs when everything develops in reverse. The heart is on the right side instead of the left and so are the liver and appendix. At any rate, innumerable defects are possible; some so serious that life is not possible; others so minor that the individual is never aware that anything is amiss.

The term, "blue baby," often is used to describe infants born with congenital heart lesions. But only certain types cause this discoloration because, in order for the skin to turn blue, a defect must be present in which the darker venous blood mixes with the brighter arterial blood. In other words, lesions can be present without the child being a blue baby.

Only a few of the defects are amenable to the new surgical treatment. Some credit must be given along this line to the anesthetists, because this type of surgery would not be possible without certain advances in this field. After all, the heart is encased in the chest cavity and as soon as the thorax is opened the lungs must be reckoned with. As a result, artificial respiration with a special machine must be maintained while the operation is in progress.

When surgery cannot be used the old method of treatment must be utilized. Infections frequently add an extra burden and therefore every attempt should be made to avoid colds and other infectious processes. These children rarely need to be cautioned about doing too much because they soon learn their limitation. Furthermore, when the defect is not marked it may have an adverse psychological effect and they are so fearful and conscious of their hearts that they are unable to lead normal lives.

The causative organisms closely resemble each other but tuberculosis is more contagious.

Tremors

This is a nervous phenomenon and should be investigated by a competent neurologist.

Birthmark Removal

REPLY

Treatment varies according to the type of lesion. Besides surgery other satisfactory methods include refrigeration with carbon dioxide snow or liquid air, radium, X-rays, cauterization, and electrolysis.

Truman Loses Italian Votes Over North African Colonies; Un-American Activities Committee Asked To Delay One Report Until After Nov. 2

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—It will probably cost him half a million votes in such Italian-American centers as New York, Boston and Jersey City, but President Truman continues rigid and immovable regarding the return of North African colonies to Italy. He hasn't budged an inch despite the toughest kind of pressure.

Hardest pressure came the other day from publisher Generose Pope of the Italian-American newspaper Il Progresso, hitherto a strong Democrat, but now flirting with Dewey. Invited to the White House with Senators McGrath of Rhode Island and O'Mahoney of Wyoming, Pope proceeded to put the President on the hot seat.

McGrath, Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, opened the session by telling the President that publisher Pope was going to support him. Without concurring in this, Pope handed the President a memo regarding Italian colonies and said he would like to have his views on the subject.

Truman replied that he couldn't make any commitment, since Italian colonies were up to the United Nations.

"I'm not going to give you any of that Dewey bull", the President added, referring to Governor Dewey's statement to an Italo-American group that the colonies should be returned to Italy.

Truman went on to point out that the United States had shown its true friendship to the Italian people by contributing one billion dollars a year to them.

"Yes," countered Pope, "but how can we keep that up? We simply can't do it. We've got to help the Italians to help themselves. And there isn't enough room in Italy for all the Italian people. They have to have some place in North Africa for their overflow".

U. S. Base In North Africa

Senator O'Mahoney intervened to point out that Britain's colonies were no asset to her—in fact, were a drain on the British Empire.

"She's now supporting them", the Wyoming Senator said.

"But that's not true of Italy", countered Pope. "Italians have migrated to her colonies and they have been a tremendous help to the Italian people".

The Italo-American publisher also quoted a statement made by Anthony Eden, when British Foreign Minister in 1944, to the effect that the Italian colonies would never be returned to Italy.

"Are we following British policy, Mr. President?" Pope asked.

"No, we are not", was the reply. "I am going to leave this to General Marshall and the United Nations to decide".

That about ended the interview. Mr. Truman did not make a convert, and Pope's influential newspaper now appears to be definitely in Dewey's corner. The Italian vote can swing New York one way or the other.

Note—Truman did not say so, but probably one reason he is standing pat regarding Italian colonies is that the United States has signed an agreement with Britain and France to establish a B-29 base in Libya which will control the Mediterranean. Also, the British have already sent to Libya much of their military equipment from Palestine and India in Libya. The State Department, therefore, is willing to return Italian Somaliland and Eritreaa to Italy, but not Libya, which Mussolini always considered the chief jewel of the Italian crown.

Wait Til Elections

Hitherto, the GOP has considered the Un-American Activities Committee one of its best propaganda mediums against the Democrats. But believe it or not, a Republican recently went to the Committee and asked them to hold up a report they were planning to publish.

The Republican is Roy James, candidate for Congress from Palmerton, Pa., and the report he didn't want published was regarding the Institute of Pacific Relations, of which he is a member. The Un-American Activities Committee, probing the institute, claims that it is dominated by Frederick Field, wealthy New York Communist leader.

James suggested to fellow Republicans on the Committee that the report be discreetly held up "until after elections".

Voters Get Wise

The voters are gradually catching up with some of the Congressment who worked for the lobbyists rather than the public during the 80th Congress.

One man they have got wise to is that great friend of the real-estate lobby, Rep. John J. Riley of South Carolina, Democrat. Riley came to Washington with his votes already lined up for the real-estate lobby, and super-lobbyist Morton Bodfish, knowing this, pulled wires to put him on the powerful Banking and Currency Committee.

There Riley voted for the real-estate cabal and against the veterans every single time. When Democratic voters in South Carolina got wise to Riley, however, they threw him out in the Democratic primaries in favor of go-getting Hugo Sims of Orangeburg, who worked his way up from paratrooper buck-private to captain.

Another Congressman now in trouble because he played ball with the lobbies is GOP Rep. John Sanborn of Idaho.

Sanborn sat through two years of Congress without so much as opening his mouth—except to vote—and then he voted with the big lobbies.

Sanborn even went so far as to insert a speech in the Congressional Record written for him by lobbyist John McBride. Sanborn didn't have the nerve to deliver the speech, just put it in the Congressional Record, so McBride could get it printed and circulated. The speech was an anti-British, anti-liberal diatribe on silver.

Now, Idaho's gift-to-the-lobbyists is being opposed by 27-year-old Asael Lyman, who, during the crucial Battle of the Bulge, parachuted behind the enemy's lines. Though Sanborn's district is heavily Republican and Lyman is a Democrat, Idaho voters are well known for their independence and Sanborn is worried sick.

Housing Frauds

In most housing frauds the veteran is the victim. The Treasury Department has now turned up an exception.

T-man Walter Martin reports that Joe Rubino used his veteran's status to buy a seven-room home in Manhattan Park, N. Y., then leased it to ex-convict Nicolo Rialdi (alias James Pantarella).

Together Rubino and Rialdi installed $1,650 worth of extra piping and operated an illegal whisky still.

By MARK SULLIVAN

"Over-all strategic concept" is a phrase the military heads of the Allied nations used during the war when planning global operations. The same phrase, not limited to a military sense but covering every form of aggression and conspiracy, fits the Russian and Communist drive to spread their power over the entire face of the earth.

How deep-rooted, thorough and long-planned this Russian drive is came to public attention during the past ten days. British Foreign Secretary Bevin said in the House of Commons: "Throughout the whole of Southeast Asia there is a Cominform and Communist plan to drive every Western association out of that territory." Two days later our State Department confirmed what Mr. Bevin said, it stated that the Communists had started a "drive for power" in that way.

Case Put To Narrowly

In both the Bevin statements and that of our State Department, as here briefly quoted, the case is put too narrowly. Both sources would subscribe to what well-informed authorities know well, that the Communist drive in Southeast Asia is not local to that territory. It is a part, a presently dynamic part, of the Russian over-all strategic concept for world domination. It is long-planned. Agents to incite it and carry it out have been in training for many years, at Moscow and locally in the countries affected.

The recently intensified activity of the Communist drive in Southeast Asia has, of course, the over-all and long-term purpose of bringing about everywhere in the world the chaos in which Communism can seize power. But the drive has in addition a specific and immediately dynamic purpose.

What the Communists are doing in Southeast Asia is designed for effect on the other side of the world, in Western Europe. It is designed to undermine economic recovery in the Western European countries, and to frustrate the aid the United States is giving those countries through the Marshall plan. No one can fully understand the mass of news coming from Europe about the conflict on that continent, without first realizing that a major Russian strategy in the European conflict consists of what it is doing in Southeast Asia.

Indonesia is an extremely large source of important raw materials used throughout the world. Before the war, Indonesia supplied 34 per cent of the world's rubber, 15 per cent of its tin, 35 per cent of its palm oil, 20 per cent of its tea. It was also an extremely important source of petroleum. Of some other products vital to the world in various ways, Indonesia supplied 90 per cent of the world's quinine, 85 per cent of its pepper, 70 per cent of its kapok, 30 per cent of copra.

Raw Materials Vitally Important

These raw materials were important in national economies all over the world, and interruption of them now holds back recovery everywhere. This is especially true of some countries in Western Europe, a large part of whose trade and industry and shipping consisted of importing raw materials from Indonesia, fabricating them, and selling them in other countries. This was true of England and the Netherlands, especially the latter. During some 300 years the Netherlands had developed raw materials in Java and Sumatra, to a point where the production of these materials, import of them and distribution of them throughout Western Europe was an indispensable basis of the Netherlands' economy. If resumption of this is prevented by what the Communists are doing in Indonesia, the Netherlands cannot possibly recover. And because of the interweaving of that country's economy with those of other Western European countries, failure of the Netherlands to recover would make it difficult for the rest of Western Europe to recover. Thus the effect on the Marshall plan is direct and large. Marshall plan aid for Western Europe without a restored and prosperous Netherland is like a bucket with a hole in it.

The Communist drive in Southeast Asia is thoroughly organized and minutely directed. The capital of Siam, Bangkok, is a kind of Little Moscow. In Bangkok Russia maintains the largest legation maintained by any nation in any part of Southeast Asia, even though several Western nations have direct and long-standing interests in that territory, while Russia has no such ordinary interests and its only interest is the spreading of Communism, revolution and chaos. The huge Russian legation in Bangkok is not a legation in the ordinary sense, it is a headquarters supplying leadership and agencies for revolution in all the countries of Southeast Asia.

U.S. Treasury Secretary Does Not Share Truman 'Fear' Views

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—John W. Snyder, secretary of the treasury in President Truman's cabinet, is a conscientious person and somehow cannot refrain from telling the truth as he sees it in the economic situation.

Now he predicts continued prosperity in America for years to come. Surely Mr. Snyder cannot have been reading Mr. Truman's speeches in the west prophesying calamity for the nation, hard times and what not if he isn't elected on November 2nd, which is only a few weeks hence. Mr. Truman is appealing to the people to vote for him and "save the country from going to the dogs."

Secretary of Treasury Not Worried

But the Secretary of the Treasury somehow isn't too worried about what is going to happen to America for many years to come. He believes the nation has a pretty sound foundation. Here is what he told the National Association of Supervisors of State Banks at their meeting in Louisville Wednesday:

"The nation is faced with heavy unfilled demand for houses, for automobiles, farm machinery, freight cars, steel, electrical capacity, new schools and highways. Our population is growing, and a still greater expansion in these facilities may well be called for the future.

"Electronic devices, plastics and other new inventions are attracting an increasing public demand. We have only begun to tap the billions of savings built up during the war years. All of these facts testify to the powerful reserve strength in our national economy."

While Secretary Snyder termed the present economic picture reassuring, he called attention to some unhealthy symptoms and inflationary pressures. He called attention to the strength of agricultural real estate and pointed out that farm debt had decreased 30 per cent since the last war, whereas it increased 160 per cent after the first world war.

Truman Instills Fear

Mr. Snyder's observations could be construed, of course, as support in a sense of the President's argument that there is a high degree of prosperity in the country—which, incidentally, would be a better political platform for Mr. Truman to stand on than the campaign to instill fear and apprehension that he seems to have adopted.

Back in 1916 a Democratic president carried virtually the entire west and two of the eastern states on a platform of "peace and prosperity". He didn't charge that the Republicans would upset either but argued merely that the incumbent administration had achieved both objectives. He won the election, too.

The theory that political capital may be gained by arousing fear is an old one. It has backfired again and again. The people are much too well informed about their economic life to believe that one man can by himself upset the national economy. Certainly if a majority of the Congress, which is composed of 531 persons elected by the people, doesn't agree with a President, he cannot dictate policies or enact laws that can bring depression or economic disturbance.

Mrs. Roosevelt Absolves Hoover

The Republican party used to argue that the Democratic Party was the party of depression. The argument received a considerable setback with the depression of 1929 to 1932, when the Republicans were in power. Although Mrs. Roosevelt in a recent article absolved President Hoover from blame for depression conditions that were worldwide at the time he was in office, the stump speakers of the Democratic Party are still referring with alarm to the Hoover days and pointing with pride to the prosperity of the Democratic administrations.

Unhappily, when a President takes credit for favorable economic conditions, he focuses the attention of the people on the unfavorable factors as well. The high cost of living is something which, despite all that Mr. Truman says about the Eightieth Congress, will work out politically to his own disadvantage. That's why Mr. Snyder's type of speech is far better suited to vote-getting than Mr. Truman's doleful prophesies of disaster. America isn't going to the dogs no matter who is elected on November 2nd.

Newsprint Starvation

THE BRITISH, while short of newsprint, are long in idle facilities to manufacture newsprint. These facilities are not being used because the British do not choose to expend their dollars to import wood pulp. That is their choice and has nothing to do with us, except as they use American dollars, obtained through ERP (now called ECA) which means that the American taxpayer provides the British with the wherewithal to purchase newsprint in competition with American newspapers which do not receive money from their own government as a gift but have to earn it.

Arthur Sulzberger, publisher of "The New York Times," had this to say on the subject:

"In my judgment, a loss of freedom in Britain would all too quickly be reflected here by comparable curtailment of liberty. We will stand or fall together, and of course it's 'stand' that we intend to do.

"To assist in that purpose, if the British Government will allocate the dollars and the supply of newsprint remains short, we on 'The New York Times' are prepared to give up a percentage of our raw material for British use if other American publishers will do the same."

Cranston Williams of the American Newspaper Publishers Association replied to Mr. Sulzberger's proposal as follows:

"Whenever the British Government wants to authorize use of dollars required by Canada and Newfoundland it is my understanding that newsprint for Britain is available upon receipt of that hard money to care for contracts already existing.

"Further, when the British Government sees fit to authorize use of hard money there is pulpwood in Newfoundland available for manufacturing newsprint in Britain."

Mr. Sulzberger was undoubtedly responsive to some of the British criticism of the huge daily and Sunday editions of "The New York Times" while they suffer from newsprint starvation. The fact is that the British press does not need to suffer this starvation if their socialist government will permit them to buy what they wish. The reason that Mr. Sulzberger's proposal was not accepted enthusiastically in London is obvious: the British would still have to purchase the relinquished newsprint. They are willing to take from ERP or ECA, but they are unwilling to pay in U. S. or Canadian dollars. The publisher does not want his taxes to compete against him in the purchase of Canadian newsprint which is already at a fabulous price.

In 1941, "The New York Times" consumed approximately 90,000 tons of newsprint. It is estimated that this year they will use about 144,000 tons, a rise of about 60 percent. The average rise for all American newspapers is about 29 percent. Maybe the British publishers find these figures hard to take in view of their own shortages, but our newspapers pay their own way and so ought the British newspapers. All this talk about maintaining freedom of the press by a handout of newsprint is unsound, because no handout ever won freedom for anybody. Mr. Sulzberger's proposal is charitable but it will not solve Great Britain's newsprint problem any more than the original British loan solved her problem of productivity. Socialism needs to re-learn the lesson that the prosperity of a nation depends upon its ability to produce goods and services, not upon its propagandistic ability to create an attitude favorable to granting loans.

Freedom of the press has existed only in countries where the press has been entirely self-supporting. It has not existed in countries where the government owned or subsidized the press or where its publishers were dependent upon subsidies from political parties. As a matter of fact, as long as the British press is dependent upon its own government or ours for newsprint, it will not be free. Even British newspapers which own their own forests or mills in Canada may not use them to provide British newspapers because of the policy of their government to restrict their operations.

Mr. Sulzberger seems to hold somewhat to this view, for he added:

". . . If there is blame, let it rest squarely on government which does not seem to recognize the full importance of information, or, as some suggest, is prone to look the other way because too frequently it dislikes the news that is published."

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

What Is Success?

What do we mean when we say that a certain person is a great success? There are two interpretations—one as to what the world about one may look upon as a successful life, and one that the person himself looks upon as to whether he is a success or not.

Many a person is looked upon by the outside world as a success because he has made and accumulated much money, or has reached some high place in social or political life. But many such a person has gone to his grave a disappointed and unhappy man or woman. My own viewpoint is that one has been very successful who has distributed his gains the most, or who has accumulated the greatest personal satisfaction out of what he has done in life.

If a person has done what he most wanted to do, and gained personal joy in its doing in his heart, I am sure that he could consider himself a success. I have a friend whose life was buffeted about for years because his parents wanted him to be what he abhorred. He was a lover of beauty, and he wanted to paint above everything else in life. Whether he should some day become a great painter and merit fame didn't interest him. He just wanted to paint—because that made him happy.

R. B. Cunninghame Graham once wrote a most unusual essay upon the topic of "Success," in which he stated that the failure was far more interesting than the success. When a boy I committed to memory a beautiful poem, which contained this closing line: "Not hast thou won—but only hast thou striven!" I once quoted from Will Rogers, in one of these Talks, and a few years ago it became the inspiration for the Cherokee plaque at the Rogers' Memorial at Claremore, Oklahoma. This is what he said: "Live your life so that whenever you lose, you are ahead."

I recently read of a New York City newspaperman who died, and the tributes paid to him. They told of his interest in everyone around him, of how he encouraged younger writers, and of how he never seemed too busy to lend a hand to anyone who asked his advice or counsel. Nothing was said about how much money he made, and nothing about his social standing. He simply stood high with all who knew and loved him. A notable success!

Do you give your daughter a "big wedding" for love?

Answer: That may be one reason—and of course I'm thinking of the sort of wedding that means paying bills for long months later. But some girls insist on a big wedding as a way of making their friends envious, or because they feel it is their one chance at being the center of attraction, while for certain parents it's an opportunity to demonstrate their wealth or social standing. Finally, I suspect there are cases in which a "big splurge" is a sort of atonement for the parents' secret relief at getting their daughter off their hands.

Do intemperate fathers have delinquent children?

Answer: Fairly often, but it's not because the effects of the drinking are inherited, says Dr. Abigail Salgado of Caracas, Venezuela. A study of several hundred children sent to a home for delinquents showed no evidence that alcoholic fathers transmit psychopathic personalities or mental illness to their offspring. The children of alcoholic fathers do tend to become delinquent, but this is because of the conditions of their home life. Insecurity, neglect, and quarrels are what bring on the rebellion that makes children lawless.

Teen-Aged Elopers Believed In City

Two teen - aged couples from Kearney, N. J., whose elopement plans are causing a wide search by police may have been in Cumberland during the past week, according to local authorities.

Police said the couples may have been using an undertaker's station wagon that was seen on local streets.

New Jersey police said Jean Nichol, 16, left a note for her parents when she disappeared last Saturday with Lucille Garver, 16, Paul H. Stromberg, 17, and Thomas Chickene, 18, whose father owns the vehicle.

Authorities there thought the quartet would try to reach Elkton, Md., since the Nichol girl's note read:

"I'm going away with Tom and Paul. I love you. Don't try to find me. Jean".

Local police said a utility funeral wagon was seen parked on South Mechanic Street several days, but the vehicle bore Georgia license tags. The machine has vanished since then.

Do intemperate fathers have delinquent children?

Answer: Fairly often, but it's not because the effects of the drinking are inherited, says Dr. Abigail Salgado of Caracas, Venezuela. A study of several hundred children sent to a home for delinquents showed no evidence that alcoholic fathers transmit psychopathic personalities or mental illness to their offspring. The children of alcoholic fathers do tend to become delinquent, but this is because of the conditions of their home life. Insecurity, neglect, and quarrels are what bring on the rebellion that makes children lawless.

Teen-Aged Elopers Believed In City

Two teen - aged couples from Kearney, N. J., whose elopement plans are causing a wide search by police may have been in Cumberland during the past week, according to local authorities.

Police said the couples may have been using an undertaker's station wagon that was seen on local streets.

New Jersey police said Jean Nichol, 16, left a note for her parents when she disappeared last Saturday with Lucille Garver, 16, Paul H. Stromberg, 17, and Thomas Chickene, 18, whose father owns the vehicle.

Authorities there thought the quartet would try to reach Elkton, Md., since the Nichol girl's note read:

"I'm going away with Tom and Paul. I love you. Don't try to find me. Jean".

Local police said a utility funeral wagon was seen parked on South Mechanic Street several days, but the vehicle bore Georgia license tags. The machine has vanished since then.

Community Classes Planned By County Clothing Chairmen

The county Clothing chairmen of the Homemakers Clubs met during the week with Miss Helen Shelby, state clothing specialist, College Park; Miss Maude A. Bean, home demonstration agent; and Miss Gloria Bohn, assistant, at the agent's office, to discuss and decide upon the clothing projects and goals for 1949.

It was decided to have tailoring and "learn to sew" projects. The goals are to provide information and instruction which will help women who wish to co-operate in learning easy methods of sewing, to save time and money, to learn professional finishes for suits and coats and to make children's clothes that fit and allow for growth.

It was decided that the Homemakers Clubs will sponsor a series of community meetings throughout the county, to which any woman or girl wishing to know more about sewing and clothing, is invited to attend. The Clothing chairmen committee will be in charge. They are Mrs. Harry Morgan, Frostburg; Mrs. R. N. Wilson, Baltimore Pike; Mrs. John Hardinger, Bedford Road; Mrs. Ellsworth Lewis, Corriganville, and Mrs. J. J. Coleman, city.

Plans were made to give help to a larger number of families by having training meetings for club chairmen and others willing to pass the information on to members of their community. Teaching material and models of tailored finishes, made by the Clothing committee, will be available for leaders of the county and community groups by January 1.

The Home Demonstration office will be open each Monday for women to come to learn more about the projects. Wednesday the club Clothing chairmen came in and the county Clothing committee showed them what they had learned earlier in the week. The keynote of plans made by the committee is "home sewing for pleasure and profit," and they planned the making of coats, suits, easy sewing methods for children's clothes and cotton dresses for adults.

Flat Rock Rail Crossing Opening Meets Objections

Reopening of the Flat Rock crossing, about three-fourths of a mile from Barton, is opposed by the C. and P. Railroad Company, according to a letter received yesterday by John T. Fey, attorney to Allegany County Board of Commissioners, from William Claus, general manager of the railroad.

Claus was replying to a query from Fey concerning the possibilities of reopening the crossing, which had been requested by a number of residents of the area.

Claus said the railroad was opposed to the reopening proposal because there would still remain great danger to the public if the crossing were used even if a bank were cut away to provide better vision on the approaches.

The railroad official pointed out that the federal, state and county governments, as well as the railroad, felt it was advisable a number of years ago to protect the public by spending thousands of dollars to eliminate the Flat Rock crossing.

Claus also quoted a decision in an equity suit in Circuit Court here by Former Chief Judge D. Lindley Sloan against reopening the crossing as requested by residents of the area. Sloan ruled that the public had welcomed and approved the change as it gave a safer and better road and avoided use of one of the most dangerous crossings on the line of the C. and P. Railroad. A few families affected by the crossing closing have not been inconvenienced greatly, Sloan held.

Fey informed the commissioners today that he doubts whether or not the crossing could be reopened even by action of the state legislature as it affects a federal function.

Kelly Convicted In Club Slaying

Convicted of wielding a wooden plank that fatally injured Devon S. Beachley May 15 in a tavern fight near Rockwood, Pa., Samuel Wilson Kelly, was sentenced to from five to 10 years in Western Penitentiary.

Judge Norman T. Boose, who presided in the Somerset County, Pa., Circuit Court, ordered Kelly to pay costs of the prosecution and a fine of $1,000 in addition to the sentence which he stipulated would be served "at separate and solitary confinement and hard labor."

Kelly took the witness stand in his own defense. He denied he wielded the club which caused the death of Beachley, Berlin R.D. 4 truck driver.

Kelly told the jury it was while he and Beachley were sitting with the party at a table in the drinking place that a fight broke out in the parking lot outside. The defendant said the tussle was between his brothers, William and Matthew, and two other men.

"I tried to break it up," he testified. He declared he did not see the victim until Beachley was sprawled on the ground after being struck down.

Sgt. H. A. Stephens and Pfc. Paul W. Lutz of the State Police substation here were called by the commonwealth in rebuttal to testify about statements made by the defendant in the district attorney's office during the investigation.

The defense and commonwealth rested their cases as court adjourned for the noon recess.

Five commonwealth witnesses testified they saw Samuel Kelly wield a club which killed Beachley. One of the key witnesses was Edgar Hay, Black Twp. He told the jury he tried to warn Beachley that Kelly was about to strike him, but was too late.

Ursuline Principal At Baltimore Meeting

The new principal of Ursuline Academy, Sister Marjorie, is attending an institute for teachers in the Baltimore Archdiocese held in Baltimore yesterday and today.

Draft Registrants Will Be Examined

Col. Henry C. Stanwood, state Selective Service director, announced yesterday that physical examinations will be given at the local Army Recruiting Station beginning October 4 for men eligible for the peacetime draft.

Selective Service officials said the examination will require two or three weeks. Mental tests will be given at the same time.

From about 600, some 140 will be chosen to fill the state's first quota in November. Col. Stanwood announced the December quota will be about 225.

Colonel Stanwood said he had not been notified of the specific number of draftees to furnish for December but based his estimate on the fact that Maryland supplies one and one-half per cent of the national figure.

Disclosure of the national December quota of 15,000 was made by officials of the defense department in Washington. It exceeds November's quota by 5,000 men, of which Maryland's share was 143.

These 143 draftees picked from the oldest of the 19 to 25-year-olds who registered for the draft from August 30 to September 18, will receive their physical examinations next month.

The December quota will get physical examinations in November. Selective Service officials will be asked to have this group available for induction during the first 20 days of December so that the men will not have to be sworn into the Army during the Christmas holidays.

The monthly quotas of draftees are expected to increase until the Army reaches its authorized strength of 870,000 men. The quota may rise to 30,000 draftees a month, the Defense Department has announced.

Final reports of the Maryland registrations for 18 to 25-year-olds in the 19-day period ending September 18, when the registration centers were discontinued, was 122,354, Colonel Stanwood said.

Of this figure, 31,002 were in the eligible class of nonfathers and nonveterans between 19 and 25 years of age. The others will be automatically exempted from the 21-months' military service largely because they are veterans or have dependents.

Eighteen-year-olds are required to register within five days of their birthdays. They are not subject to induction until their nineteenth birthday.

In the Shadow of the Church

The environment in which the photographers found these boys and girls speaks well for their future.

The pictures emphasize the wisdom they have shown in adding to their secular training a study of the Scriptures as a guide for living. Spiritual development will strengthen their lives in whatever spheres their lots may be cast.

Friendships formed in religious associations are usually more dependable and far more helpful than those picked up in questionable places of amusement.

Spread out before these youthful students is a wonderful and alluring future. They possess youth, intelligence, vision, and hope, and to these they may add faith, love, and achievement — which is the full realization of life.

All these and more will be theirs if they follow the teachings of the Scriptures in building their careers.

The churches of this community seek to direct the footsteps of our youth into paths of usefulness and happy living.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Sunday ..... Romans 8:18-25
Monday ..... John 15:11-15
Tuesday ..... Luke 10:38-42
Wednesday ..... Proverbs 3:1-12
Thursday ..... Proverbs 4:13-24

In the Shadow of the Church

The environment in which the photographers found these boys and girls speaks well for their future.

The pictures emphasize the wisdom they have shown in adding to their secular training a study of the Scriptures as a guide for living. Spiritual development will strengthen their lives in whatever spheres their lots may be cast.

Friendships formed in religious associations are usually more dependable and far more helpful than those picked up in questionable places of amusement.

Spread out before these youthful students is a wonderful and alluring future. They possess youth, intelligence, vision, and hope, and to these they may add faith, love, and achievement — which is the full realization of life.

All these and more will be theirs if they follow the teachings of the Scriptures in building their careers.

The churches of this community seek to direct the footsteps of our youth into paths of usefulness and happy living.

Blasting a much heavier forward wall to pieces Fort Hill High School's eleven passed and ran its way to an easy 40-0 verdict over Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser High School gridders last night at Fort Hill stadium before a throng of approximately 4,000 local fans.

The bulky Keyser squad was no match for the lightning-quick Sentinel backs and the Sentinels moved the ball at will throughout the game, scoring almost at will. It was Coach Bill Hahn's teams 12th straight win.

Sentinels Get Scare

The Mineral County team took the opening kickoff and threw a momentary scare into Fort Hill when Paul Emery grabbed the pigskin on the Keyser eight yard line and raced all the way to the Sentinel 43 before being downed by Larry McKenzie.

Picking up nine yards in two plays the visitors apparently made a first down on the Fort Hill 30 when Quarterback Nelson broke through for four yards on a sneak through the center of the line. But the play was called back and Keyser penalized five yards for being offsides and it broke the back of the drive. Fort Hill the nheld and the Golden Tornado was forced to kick.

From then on it was all Fort Hill!

Score On Pass

Taking the ball on its own 20 the local eleven scored in just five plays — the 80-yard march being climaxed by a pass from Don Dicken to Glen Burke on the Keyser 33 and the lanky end raced the remainder of the way outracing the Keyser secondary.

Minutes later the second Fort Hill score was made when McKenzie plunged over from the four. Burke kicked both points.

A 30-yard run on a quick break over tackle by Marvin Luttrell added the third score in the second period and Ed Tucker smashed over from the one to climax a 94-yard drive featured by Tucker's 30-yard sprint to the one seconds earlier.

Keyser Never Threatens

With the second and third string playing most of the second half Fort Hill added two more scores in the final period with Ronnie Cage going over from the nine and Wagley snaring Bob Manges pass on the Keyser three and stepping over on the final play of the game.

The Clarkmen never threatened seriously throughout the entire contest against the rock-ribbed forward line of Fort Hill's. The closest the Mineral Countians came to the final double stripe was in the first few moments of the game when they reached the Sentinel 30.

Burke, Corbin, Alderton and Lattimer were outstanding for the

"Bill" McHugh Writes

Flanagan's Team Wins

"Billy" Heckman Dies

A-A May Divide Teams

By C. V. BURNS

William E. "Bill" McHugh, Cumberland attorney and No. 1 boxing fan, drops us a few lines from the United States Veterans' Hospital, Aspinwall, Pa., where he has been a patient for the past three weeks.

Before he went to Aspinwall, "Bill" says he was reported to suffering from a "very high class ailment" and adds "before the board of strategy here makes its decision they may decide it is a much more plebeian ailment."

The "oldtimer" who usually lefthooks his friends all over the place in attempting to demonstrate the style of certain fighters sends his regards to Henry Stitcher, "Red" Mauk and the rest of the fellows in cauliflowered ear circles.

Keep fighting Bill if you want to earn a "draw."

• — • — •

To the fan who requested two football scores:

Army and Notre Dame played a scoreless tie in 1946. Notre Dame won the 1947 game by the score of 27-7.

• — • — •

Winfield High School's football team of Putnam county in Southern West Virginia, coached by Carl W. Flanagan of Ridgeley, has rolled up 130 points while blanking the opposition in the first three games of the season.

Flanagan's team dtfeated Buffalo twice, 46-0 and 32-0 and Hannan, 52-0.

Carl writes: "They will be getting tougher as we go along."

He probably has something there with Hurricane on his schedule October 15.

"Stonewall Jackson of Charleston and Beckley seem to be the big powers in the southern part of the state," writes Flanagan.

"I would like to see Stonewall and Fort Hill get together for a game. Both teams use the T-formation and are well coached. The game would draw at least 12,000 people if played in Charleston.

"I may be prejudiced toward southern West Virginia football but I believe they play stronger football here than in northern West Virginia. The results of the North-South game every year bears this out, I think. The games on the most part have been picnics for the south."

• — • — •

We think it's very nice on Carl's part to suggest a T party between Fort Hill and Stonewall Jackson but if memory serves us right the last time a Cumberland team invaded that part of West Virginia it turned out to be a T.N.T. party with the Parkersburg Big Reds blasting Allegany by the score of 110-0. And that score isn't a typographical error!

• — • — •

William C. "Billy" Heckman, who brought many good boxers from Pittsburgh for professional shows here in bygone days, died at the Aspinwall Veterans' Hospital the other day.

Many of the older fight fans will remember Heckman for his actions in the corner of his fighters. He was a nervous sort of a fellow and he'd become so exhausted shadow boxing outside the ring that he was worse off at the end of the fights than the boys he seconded.

I believe one of Heckman's first visits here was as manager of a lightweight named Cocky Dilla who fought K. O. Yutzy at the armory in the 1920's.

• — • — •

Ralph Beard of Cumberland looks like a sure bet at the plunging post and Bruce Fisher of Bedford, Pa., will be the offensive quarterback, especially when a passing game is to be used, when the Gobblers of V.P.I. open their season with George Washington University today.

• — • — •

Bob Whip, business manager of the Cumberland Dukes, reports that the All-American Professional Basketball League will operate in two divisions if Beaver Falls, Clarksburg and Johnstown obtain franchises to make it a 10-club circuit.

Teams already in line are Warren, Butler and Altoona, Pa., Dayton and Youngstown, Ohio, Wheeling, W. Va., and Cumberland.

The eastern and western division set-up will go a long way toward cutting traveling expenses.

A boxing fan writes:

Dear Sir:

"Last night (Monday) at the fights one of the local amateur boxers was sitting near me. When I was cheering for a Washington negro boy, the local boy turned around and called me a "nigger loving——(censored)."

"I feel this was an insult not to myself but to American sportsmanship of which he should be well aware. Sportsmanship which should be gained as a lesson in the ring should also be demonstrated outside of the ring. But more than sportsmanship, this fighter should realize anyone in America has the right to cheer who he wants to, when he wants whether he be negro or white. That's America. This is not Germany or Russia

"Perhaps local trainers are excluding the most valuable part of their instructions when they help the local boys. Sportsmanship inside and out of the ring."

Yankees, Boston, Cleveland Tie For League Leadership

New York Is Victor Over Red Sox, 9 To 6

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (INS)—The New York Yankees today defeated the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 6, in their series opener, and moved into a triple tie with the Red Sox and Cleveland in the American League pennant race.

While the Yankees were taking the upper hand in their three-game series with the invading Boston club, the Indians blew their chance for undisputed leadership by losing to Detroit.

Bobby Brown and Billy Johnson supplied most of the Yankee punch to bring about the three-way deadlock and indicate a scramble right down to the wire for a place in the world series.

Vic Raschi started for the Yankees, but was knocked out in the fourth and Joe Page went the rest of the route to be credited with the victory.

Red Sox hurling went to pieces. Ellis Kinder started, but left in the fourth. His reliever, Earl Johnson, was charged with the defeat, although Boo Ferris and Tex Hughson also saw service in the free-hitting game.

Boston made 11 hits and the Yanks 10, but the latter were powered by telling extra basers, including Bill Johnson's pinch homer in the fifth with two on.

The Yanks took a two-run lead in the first inning when Brown hit his first of two payoff triples. Tommy Henrich scored on the blow and Brown came in to make it 2 to 0 on Joe DiMaggio's fly to center.

The Sox then went into the lead in the third inning when Birdie Tebbets opened with a walk, Dom DiMaggio singled and Raschi hit Johnny Pesky with a pitched ball, filling the bases.

Ted Williams promptly doubled to right, scoring Tebbetts and Dom DiMaggio, and Pesky later scored on an infield out.

Brown Hits Two Triples

Brown's second triple and a single by Joe DiMaggio tied it for the Yankees in the under side of the third, but the Sox moved ahead again in the fourth with two runs. Two bases on balls, followed by Dom DiMaggio's one-run single, chased Raschi.

Page came in and Pesky was promptly safe on a grounder when first was left uncovered, filling the bases. Page walked Williams to force in a run and Boston led by 5 to 3 as the uprising was squelched.

The Yanks bounced back for four runs in the fifth topped off by Bill Johnson's three-run homer.

That clinched it, although the Yanks picked up a pair of runs in the seventh and the Sox got a run in the ninth. Box:

Detroit Tigers Hang 4-3 Defeat On Tribe

By JOE REICHLER

DETROIT, Sept. 24—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers, continuing in their role of spoilers, threw the wide-open American League race into a triple tie today when they hung a 4-3 defeat on the Cleveland Indians in the first of a three-game series.

Cleveland's setback, together with the Yankees' 9-6 triumph over the Boston Red Sox in New York, put the three contenders into a flatfooted deadlock. Each team now has won 91 games and lost 56 with seven games left to play.

Tigers Prove "Bad Men"

The Tiger victory, which snapped Cleveland's seven-game winning streak, simply supported their claim as the "bad men" of the circuit.

Only last Sunday the Bengals threw a body block at Boston's pennant aspirations by sweeping a twin bill from the Red Sox. Just before that, the Tigers split a four-game series with the Yankees to prevent the New Yorkers from taking over the league lead.

Freddie Hutchinson, stylish right-hander, was the villian who upset the Tribe's applecart today. Hutch spun a seven-hitter for his 13th triumph against 10 losses. Had he kept his home run ball in his locker, he would have had a shutout, since all Cleveland's runs came as a result of the circuit clout.

Hutchinson experienced two rough innings but managed to pull out of each unscathed to ring up his third triumph over the Indians this year, his first against them at Briggs Stadium. They had beaten him twice here this season.

Bob Lemon Is Loser

Dick Wakefield and Vic Wertz, the one-two punch of the Tigers' toned down attack, weakened somewhat by their loss of Hoot Evers and George Kell, were the big guns for Detroit. Wakefield collected two of the Tigers' eight hits off losing pitcher Bob Lemon and Sam Zoldak, drove in the first run of the game, and scored the second. Wertz, held hitless in his first three times at bat, came up in the seventh inning with two on and one out, and cracked a line double over third baseman Ken Keltner's head to drive in both runners and break a 2-2 deadlock. KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 24.—West Virginia University's varsity "B" football team defeated Potomac State's Catamounts in a practice scrimmage yesterday at Keyser by the score of 33 to 20.

Potomac State hit pay dirt quickly by scoring two of its touchdowns in the first quarter. Dunne passed to Henderson for 45 yards and the initial score and Lucia booted the extra point. The real thrill of the game came when Ruyak, Potomac fullback, intercepted a Mountie pass on his own yard line and raced 99 yards for the second State touchdown.

A pass, Jim Priester to Keith Allen, was good for 79 yards and West Virginia's first score in the second quarter. Hoffman kicked the point. The visitors tied it up at 13-13 before the half-time intermission when Jimmy Devonshire went over for the second score.

Ladygo, of Potomac intercepted a pass on his own 40 and ran to the W.V.U. 10 where he lateraled to Henderson for the score to give Coach Lough's team a 20-13 edge in the third period after Lucia kicked the point.

West Virginia turned on the power in the final stanza and scored three times to put the game on ice. PARSONS, W. Va., Sept. 24—Parsons High School's Panthers racked up their second victory of the season today by turning back the gridders of Kingwood High School by the score of 13-6.

Coach Homer Brooks' Panthers spotted the Stags a touchdown edge in the opening period, tied the score in the second period and sewed up the game in the third quarter.

In the second quarter Fansler, Parsons' end, blocked a Kingwood punt on the 20 and recovered the ball on the 18. On the third play Ketterman scampered over for a score from the 7-yard mark. The Panthers reeled off five consecutive first downs in the third stanza and Ketterman circled right end for 12 yards and the winning touchdown. Parsons' left halfback also plunged the point.

Comer Scores Thrice In Blackhawks' Win

Scoring touchdowns in every period, Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks launched their Potomac Valley Conference football campaign by administering a 32 to 6 setback to the Petersburg High School Vikings yesterday at Petersburg.

Roy Comer accounted for three of the Ridgeley touchdowns, one coming on a pass from Lindsay, while the others were the result of running plays. Day registered on an off tackle play and Lindsay intercepted a Petersburg pass to mark up the other six-pointer. Woods accounted for the Vikings lone touchdown in the final period. Lindsay kicked two points after touchdown for Coach Jesse Riggleman's eleven.

Brecheen Wins 19th, Chambers Loses 9th

CHICAGO, Sept. 24. (AP)—With their ace left hander, Harry Brecheen, limiting the Chicago Cubs to five hits, the St. Louis Cardinals earned a 4 to 1 victory today to move within six and one half games of the league leading Boston Braves in the National League.

Brecheen, in collecting his 19th victory, was the complete master over the Route giving up just two hits until the eighth inning while his teammates pounded two Cub pitchers for 11.

The Cards, currently embroiled in a bitter battle with Brooklyn for second place, went ahead in the second only to have the Cubs tie it up one all in the third. Stan Musial, collected two hits and a walk, boomed out a triple in the sixth to score Brecheen and Marty Marion and put the game away.

Cliff Chambers, whose only victory this season was registered against the Cincinnati Reds, yielded all the runs and eight hits. It was his ninth loss. Box:

By JOHN W. KNOWLTON

Blasting a much heavier forward wall to pieces Fort Hill High School's eleven passed and ran its way to an easy 40-0 verdict over Coach Fred "Tack" Clark's Keyser High School gridders last night at Fort Hill stadium before a throng of approximately 4,000 local fans.

The bulky Keyser squad was no match for the lightning-quick Sentinel backs and the Sentinels moved the ball at will throughout the game, scoring almost at will. It was Coach Bill Hahn's teams 12th straight win.

Sentinels Get Scare

The Mineral County team took the opening kickoff and threw a momentary scare into Fort Hill when Paul Emery grabbed the pigskin on the Keyser eight yard line and raced all the way to the Sentinel 43 before being downed by Larry McKenzie.

Picking up nine yards in two plays the visitors apparently made a first down on the Fort Hill 30 when Quarterback Nelson broke through for four yards on a sneak through the center of the line. But the play was called back and Keyser penalized five yards for being offsides and it broke the back of the drive. Fort Hill the nheld and the Golden Tornado was forced to kick.

From then on it was all Fort Hill!

Score On Pass

Taking the ball on its own 20 the local eleven scored in just five plays — the 80-yard march being climaxed by a pass from Don Dicken to Glen Burke on the Keyser 33 and the lanky end raced the remainder of the way outracing the Keyser secondary.

Minutes later the second Fort Hill score was made when McKenzie plunged over from the four. Burke kicked both points.

A 30-yard run on a quick break over tackle by Marvin Luttrell added the third score in the second period and Ed Tucker smashed over from the one to climax a 94-yard drive featured by Tucker's 30-yard sprint to the one seconds earlier.

Keyser Never Threatens

With the second and third string playing most of the second half Fort Hill added two more scores in the final period with Ronnie Cage going over from the nine and Wagley snaring Bob Manges pass on the Keyser three and stepping over on the final play of the game.

The Clarkmen never threatened seriously throughout the entire contest against the rock-ribbed forward line of Fort Hill's. The closest the Mineral Countians came to the final double stripe was in the first few moments of the game when they reached the Sentinel 30.

Burke, Corbin, Alderton and Lattimer were outstanding for the

"Bill" McHugh Writes
Flanagan's Team Wins
"Billy" Heckman Dies
A-A May Divide Teams

By C. V. BURNS

William E. "Bill" McHugh, Cumberland attorney and No. 1 boxing fan, drops us a few lines from the United States Veterans' Hospital, Aspinwall, Pa., where he has been a patient for the past three weeks.

Before he went to Aspinwall, "Bill" says he was reported to suffering from a "very high class ailment" and adds "before the board of strategy here makes its decision they may decide it is a much more plebeian ailment."

The "oldtimer" who usually lefthooks his friends all over the place in attempting to demonstrate the style of certain fighters sends his regards to Henry Stitcher, "Red" Mauk and the rest of the fellows in cauliflowered ear circles.

Keep fighting Bill if you want to earn a "draw."

To the fan who requested two football scores:

Army and Notre Dame played a scoreless tie in 1946. Notre Dame won the 1947 game by the score of 27-7.

Winfield High School's football team of Putnam county in Southern West Virginia, coached by Carl W. Flanagan of Ridgeley, has rolled up 130 points while blanking the opposition in the first three games of the season.

Flanagan's team dfeated Buffalo twice, 46-0 and 32-0 and Hannan, 52-0.

Carl writes: "They will be getting tougher as we go along."

He probably has something there with Hurricane on his schedule October 15.

"Stonewall Jackson of Charleston and Beckley seem to be the big powers in the southern part of the state," writes Flanagan.

"I would like to see Stonewall and Fort Hill get together for a game. Both teams use the T-formation and are well coached. The game would draw at least 12,000 people if played in Charleston.

"I may be prejudiced toward southern West Virginia football but I believe they play stronger football here than in northern West Virginia. The results of the North-South game every year bears this out, I think. The games on the most part have been picnics for the south."

We think it's very nice on Carl's part to suggest a T party between Fort Hill and Stonewall Jackson but if memory serves us right the last time a Cumberland team invaded that part of West Virginia it turned out to be a T.N.T. party with the Parkersburg Big Reds blasting Allegany by the score of 110-0. And that score isn't a typographical error!

●—●—●

William C. "Billy" Heckman, who brought many good boxers from Pittsburgh for professional shows here in bygone days, died at the Aspinwall Veterans' Hospital the other day.

Many of the older fight fans will remember Heckman for his actions in the corner of his fighters. He was a nervous sort of a fellow and he'd become so exhausted shadow boxing outside the ring that he was worse off at the end of the fights than the boys he seconded.

I believe one of Heckman's first visits here was as manager of a lightweight named Cocky Dilla who fought K. O. Yutzy at the armory in the 1920's.

Ralph Beard of Cumberland looks like a sure bet at the plunging post and Bruce Fisher of Bedford, Pa., will be the offensive quarterback, especially when a passing game is to be used, when the Gobblers of V.P.I. open their season with George Washington University today.

●—●—●

Bob Whip, business manager of the Cumberland Dukes, reports that the All-American Professional Basketball League will operate in two divisions if Beaver Falls, Clarksburg and Johnstown obtain franchises to make it a 10-club circuit.

Teams already in line are Warren, Butler and Altoona, Pa., Dayton and Youngstown, Ohio, Wheeling, W. Va., and Cumberland.

The eastern and western division set-up will go a long way toward cutting traveling expenses.

A boxing fan writes:

Dear Sir:

"Last night (Monday) at the fights one of the local amateur boxers was sitting near me. When I was cheering for a Washington negro boy, the local boy turned around and called me a "nigger loving——(censored)."

"I feel this was an insult not to myself but to American sportsmanship of which he should be well aware. Sportsmanship which should be gained as a lesson in the ring should also be demonstrated outside of the ring. But more than sportsmanship, this fighter should realize anyone in America has the right to cheer, who he wants to, when he wants whether he be negro or white. That's America. This is not Germany or Russia

"Perhaps local trainers are excluding the most valuable part of their instructions when they help the local boys. Sportsmanship inside and out of the ring."

Yankees, Boston, Cleveland Tie For League Leadership

New York Is Victor Over Red Sox, 9 To 6

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (INS)—The New York Yankees today defeated the Boston Red Sox, 9 to 6, in their series opener and moved into a triple tie with the Red Sox and Cleveland in the American League pennant race.

While the Yankees were taking the upper hand in their three-game series with the invading Boston club, the Indians blew their chance for undisputed leadership by losing to Detroit.

Bobby Brown and Billy Johnson supplied most of the Yankee punch to bring about the three-way deadlock and indicate a scramble right down to the wire for a place in the world series.

Vic Raschi started for the Yankees, but was knocked out in the fourth and Joe Page went the rest of the route to be credited with the victory.

Red Sox hurling went to pieces. Ellis Kinder started, but left in the fourth. His reliever, Earl Johnson, was charged with the defeat, although Boo Ferris and Tex Hughson also saw service in the free-hitting game.

Boston made 11 hits and the Yanks 10, but the latter were powered by telling extra basers, including Bill Johnson's pinch homer in the fifth with two on.

The Yanks took a two-run lead in the first inning when Brown hit his first of two payoff triples. Tommy Henrich scored on the blow and Brown came in to make it 2 to 0 on Joe DiMaggio's fly to center.

The Sox then went into the lead in the third inning when Birdie Tebbets opened with a walk, Dom DiMaggio singled and Raschi hit Johnny Pesky with a pitched ball, filling the bases.

Ted Williams promptly doubled to right, scoring Tebbetts and Dom DiMaggio, and Pesky later scored on an infield out.

Brown Hits Two Triples

Brown's second triple and a single by Joe DiMaggio tied it for the Yankees in the under side of the third, but the Sox moved ahead again in the fourth with two runs. Two bases on balls, followed by Dom DiMaggio's one-run single, chased Raschi.

Page came in and Pesky was promptly safe on a grounder when first was left uncovered, filling the bases. Page walked Williams to force in a run and Boston led by 5 to 3 as the uprising was squelched.

The Yanks bounced back for four runs in the fifth topped off by Bill Johnson's three-run homer.

That clinched it, although the Yanks picked up a pair of runs in the seventh and the Sox got a run in the ninth. Box:

Detroit Tigers Hang 4-3 Defeat On Tribe

By JOE REICHLER

DETROIT, Sept. 24—(AP)—The Detroit Tigers, continuing in their role of spoilers, threw the wide-open American League race into a triple tie today when they hung a 4-3 defeat on the Cleveland Indians in the first of a three-game series.

Cleveland's setback, together with the Yankees' 9-6 triumph over the Boston Red Sox in New York, put the three contenders into a flatfooted deadlock. Each team now has won 91 games and lost 56 with seven games left to play.

Tigers Prove "Bad Men"

The Tiger victory, which snapped Cleveland's seven-game winning streak, simply supported their claim as the "bad men" of the circuit.

Only last Sunday the Bengals threw a body block at Boston's pennant aspirations by sweeping a twin bill from the Red Sox. Just before that, the Tigers split a four-game series with the Yankees to prevent the New Yorkers from taking over the league lead.

Freddie Hutchinson, stylish right-hander, was the villian who upset the Tribe's applecart today. Hutch spun a seven-hitter for his 13th triumph against 10 losses. Had he kept his home run ball in his locker, he would have had a shut-out, since all Cleveland's runs came as a result of the circuit clout.

Hutchinson experienced two rough innings but managed to pull out of each unscathed to ring up his third triumph over the Indians this year, his first against them at Briggs Stadium. They had beaten him twice here this season.

Bob Lemon Is Loser

Dick Wakefield and Vic Wertz, the one-two punch of the Tigers' toned down attack, weakened somewhat by their loss of Hoot Evers and George Kell, were the big guns for Detroit. Wakefield collected two of the Tigers' eight hits off losing pitcher Bob Lemon and Sam Zoldak, drove in the first run of the game, and scored the second. Wertz, held hitless in his first three times at bat, came up in the seventh inning with two on and one out, and cracked a line double over third baseman Ken Keltner's head to drive in both runners and break a 2-2 deadlock. KEYSER, W. Va., Sept. 24.—West Virginia University's varsity "B" football team defeated Potomac State's Catamounts in a practice scrimmage yesterday at Keyser by the score of 33 to 20.

Potomac State hit pay dirt quickly by scoring two of its touchdowns in the first quarter. Dunne passed to Henderson for 45 yards and the initial score and Lucia booted the extra point. The real thrill of the game came when Ruyak, Potomac fullback, intercepted a Mountie pass on his own yard line and raced 99 yards for the second State touchdown.

A pass, Jim Priester to Keith Allen, was good for 79 yards and West Virginia's first score in the second quarter. Hoffman kicked the point. The visitors tied it up at 13-13 before the half-time intermission when Jimmy Devonshire went over for the second score.

Ladygo, of Potomac intercepted a pass on his own 40 and ran to the W.V.U. 10 where he lateraled to Henderson for the score to give Coach Lough's team a 20-13 edge in the third period after Lucia kicked the point.

West Virginia turned on the power in the final stanza and scored three times to put the game on ice. Devonshire counted first on a 20-yard sprint around right end. Malyk plunged over from the 2 and Morton slashed off guard for the final 15 yards. Hoffman converted two of the three tries for extra points. The lineups:

PARSONS, W. Va., Sept. 24—Parsons High School's Panthers racked up their second victory of the season today by turning back the gridders of Kingwood High School by the score of 13-6.

Coach Homer Brooks' Panthers spotted the Stags a touchdown edge in the opening period, tied the score in the second period and sewed up the game in the third quarter.

The Panthers reeled off five consecutive first downs in the third stanza and Ketterman circled right end for 12 yards and the winning touchdown. Parsons' left halfback also plunged the point.

Comer Scores Thrice In Blackhawks' Win

Scoring touchdowns in every period, Ridgeley High School's Blackhawks launched their Potomac Valley Conference football campaign by administering a 32 to 6 setback to the Petersburg High School Vikings yesterday at Petersburg.

Roy Comer accounted for three of the Ridgeley touchdowns, one coming on a pass from Lindsay, while the others were the result of running plays. Day registered on an off tackle play and Lindsay intercepted a Petersburg pass to mark up the other six-pointer. Woods accounted for the Vikings lone touchdown in the final period. Lindsay kicked two points after touchdown for Coach Jesse Riggleman's eleven.

The Hawks rolled up 250 net yards on ground plays, reeled off 17 first downs and completed one pass good for 50 yards in three tries.

Petersburg was limited to four first downs, completed six out of 18 passes and gained 50 yards rushing. Ridgeley was penalized 50 yards and Petersburg was set back 20 yards.

It was the opening game of the season for Ridgeley and the second straight loss for the Vikings. The lineups:

Cardinals Score Over Chicago, 4-1

Brecheen Wins 19th, Chambers Loses 9th

CHICAGO, Sept. 24. (AP)—With their ace left hander, Harry Brecheen, limiting the Chicago Cubs to five hits, the St. Louis Cardinals earned a 4 to 1 victory today to move within six and one half games of the league leading Boston Braves in the National League.

Brecheen, in collecting his 19th victory, was the complete master over the Route giving up just two hits until the eighth inning while his teammates pounded two Cub pitchers for 11.

The Cards, currently embroiled in a bitter battle with Brooklyn for second place, went ahead in the second only to have the Cubs tie it up one all in the third. Stan Musial, collected two hits and a walk, boomed out a triple in the sixth to score Brecheen and Marty Marion and put the game away.

Cliff Chambers, whose only victory this season was registered against the Cincinnati Reds, yielded all the runs and eight hits. It was his ninth loss. Box:

KEEPING UP WITH

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Today was a wonderful day for Diana Lynn, who put her name on a seven-year contract with Hal Wallis for two pictures a year.

Louella Parsons

Her first Wallis movie will be "Bitter Victory," and don't say: "What, another actress cast for 'Bitter Victory'?"

Just as I told you, Eve Arden has signed for the top comedy role. Liz Scott and Robert Cummings, with Diana, get top billing.

In fairness to Anne Baxter, she was never contacted for the part.

I'm glad for Diana, because it will open a new career for her, and with Hal Wallis back of her, watch her go!

Leo McCarey, whose "Going My Way" and "Bells Of St. Mary's" won the approval of both Catholics and non-Catholics, is writing a piece for a national publication titled, "Has Religion a Place On the Screen?"

That, I think can be answered by two stories that have recently come to my desk, one is word that "The Life of Mother Cabrini" has received the official sanction of the Vatican, and will be made by Voyagers, Inc., an independent organization headed by Bob Cowan.

Then there is the Protestant Film Commission, which plans to make religious stories in every country which doesn't have our democratic way of life. The commission plans to make a picture soon in Japan.

Yes, I definitely think religion has a place on the screen.

The last scene of "The Jolson Story" showing the parting of Larry Parks and Evelyn Keyes will be used in the sequel, "Jolson Sings Again." But Evelyn Keyes is not to be the heroine in the sequel. Another actress will be chosen to play the present Mrs. Jolson.

Production starts October 18, and, as I told you a long time ago, Larry is hard at work at Columbia Studio. He was rehearsing his Al Jolson role today into a recording machine before a full-length mirror. He has to get into the Jolson mood again.

I was amused at Helen Deutsch's account of the actor who should play "Robinson Crusoe," the hero of the Defoe classic. She wrote the original screen play for MGM, and is doing a polishing job on her own script. She says there is no love story in "Robinson Crusoe," but he has to be the most beautiful man on the screen.

"What actor do you think has that distinction?" I asked her.

"Well," said Helen, "a Gregory Peck, a Cary Grant, or a Clark Gable—someone like that."

Chit-chat: Patricia Knight is in a Paris hospital following an automobile accident in which her leg was badly cut.

Cornel, who gets in a tizzy if Pat has just a headache, is very upset and today he cabled a friend in Hollywood that he has taken the room next to her until she is ready to be dismissed.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Tyrone Power is now the house guest of Dorothy Di Frasso in Rome. Sooner or later, most of the visiting film celebrities visit the Countess.

Shelley winters at the Ming Room with John Payne.

HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 24.—(INS)—Today was a wonderful day for Diana Lynn, who put her name on a seven-year contract with Hal Wallis for two pictures a year.

Louella Parsons

Her first Wallis movie will be "Bitter Victory," and don't say: "What, another actress cast for 'Bitter Victory'?"

Just as I told you, Eve Arden has signed for the top comedy role. Liz Scott and Robert Cummings, with Diana, get top billing.

In fairness to Anne Baxter, she was never contacted for the part.

I'm glad for Diana, because it will open a new career for her, and with Hal Wallis back of her, watch her go!

Leo McCarey, whose "Going My Way" and "Bells Of St. Mary's" won the approval of both Catholics and non-Catholics, is writing a piece for a national publication titled, "Has Religion a Place On the Screen?"

That, I think can be answered by two stories that have recently come to my desk, one is word that "The Life of Mother Cabrini" has received the official sanction of the Vatican, and will be made by Voyagers, Inc., an independent organization headed by Bob Cowan.

Then there is the Protestant Film Commission, which plans to make religious stories in every country which doesn't have our democratic way of life. The commission plans to make a picture soon in Japan.

Yes, I definitely think religion has a place on the screen.

The last scene of "The Jolson Story" showing the parting of Larry Parks and Evelyn Keyes will be used in the sequel, "Jolson Sings Again." But Evelyn Keyes is not to be the heroine in the sequel. Another actress will be chosen to play the present Mrs. Jolson.

Production starts October 18, and, as I told you a long time ago, Larry is hard at work at Columbia Studio. He was rehearsing his Al Jolson role today into a recording machine before a full-length mirror. He has to get into the Jolson mood again.

• — • — •

I was amused at Helen Deutsch's account of the actor who should play "Robinson Crusoe," the hero of the Defoe classic. She wrote the original screen play for MGM, and is doing a polishing job on her own script. She says there is no love story in "Robinson Crusoe," but he has to be the most beautiful man on the screen.

"What actor do you think has that distinction?" I asked her.

"Well," said Helen, "a Gregory Peck, a Cary Grant, or a Clark Gable—someone like that."

Chit-chat: Patricia Knight is in a Paris hospital following an automobile accident in which her leg was badly cut.

Cornel, who gets in a tizzy if Pat has just a headache, is very upset and today he cabled a friend in Hollywood that he has taken the room next to her until she is ready to be dismissed.

National Guard Plans Armory At Oakland

Division Head Says Land Only Problem

OAKLAND — "We're ready and anxious to go ahead just as soon as we have the ground," said General William C. Purnell of the National Guard headquarters of the 29th Division in Baltimore, before a group of Oakland citizens Wednesday night at a dinner at Pickwick Inn, in regard to the construction of a National Guard armory here.

The obtaining of the ground was the problem at hand and from remarks made by the General Assembly and other interested persons, the possibility of obtaining the site was favorable.

One proposition revealed was by Paul W. Hoye and Schell Hoye, which had been made public at a meeting last week. The offer was made to contribute four or five acres free of charge from their former property at the north edge of town, which was sold a year or two ago to the Board of Education for the site of the new high school, if it were resold to them.

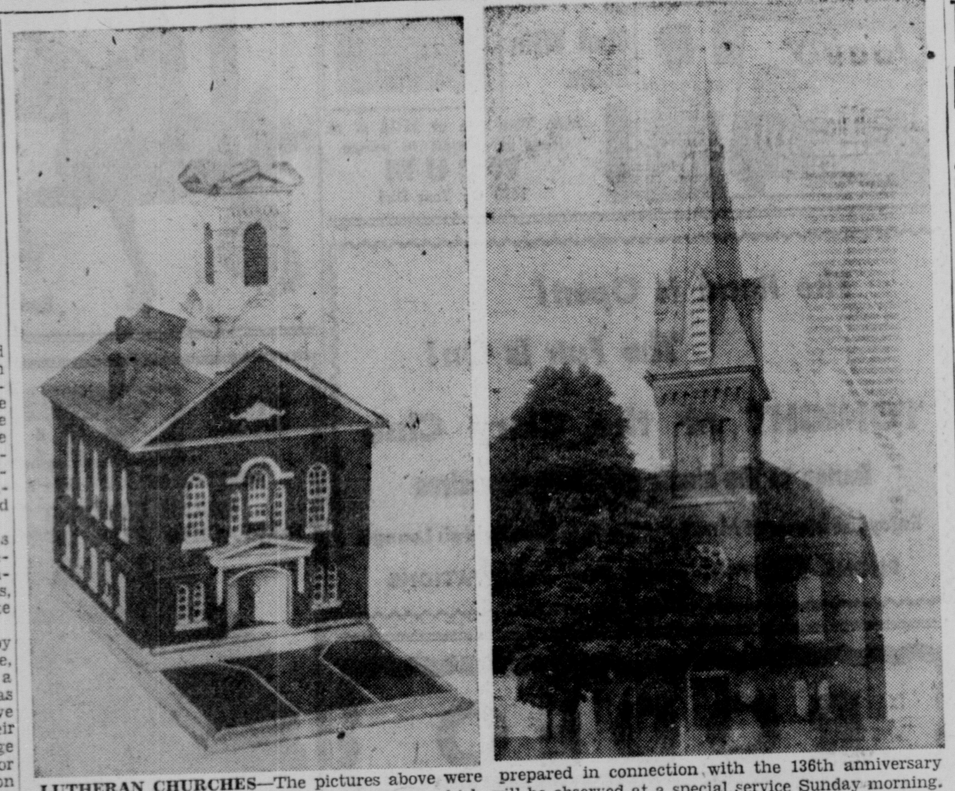
According to agreements at the time of purchase, it was said to be understood that if the property was not to be used for high school that the former owners would have the privilege of re-purchase. The site subsequently has been declared undesirable for the new high school building, but it is still in the hands of the Board of Education. There has been no Board meeting to determine whether or not the repurchase would be accomplished. Other suggested sites are under consideration.

General Purnell, following the dinner meeting, briefly outlined the responsibilities of the National Guard and stressed the importance of thorough training which at the minimum included the two-hour drill period each week and two weeks' encampment. He asked for the full backing of the citizens of this area for the company of engineers that was formed here less than a year ago.

Col. Fred Hewitt, who accompanied General Purnell to Oakland, spoke of the intensive training necessary to complete the knowledge of an engineering unit and praised the personnel of the local company.

Senator L. M. Fraley and Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh pledged their full co-operation and backing and expressed the opinion that the citizens of Oakland were in accord on the program.

The possibility of an air strip in this area was also discussed to some extent, to provide closer co-ordination between national guard headquarters and the local unit. Accompanying the officers from 29th Division headquarters were Capt. William Miller, pilot, and Sgt. John Tuerk.



LUTHERAN CHURCHES—The pictures above were prepared in connection with the 136th anniversary of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Frostburg, which will be observed at a special service Sunday morning. On the left is a photograph of a model of the first church, which was built in 1860 and destroyed by fire in 1874. The model was made by the late Daniel J. Betz when he was 13 years old. On the right is a photograph of the present church, completed in 1879. The latter picture was taken several years ago.

Adult Night Classes Begin Next Month

LONACONING—Registration for Adult Education night school will be held on Tuesday and Thursday, September 28 and 30, from 7 to 9 p. m. at Central High School.

Joseph K. Haugen will be in charge of registration.

A large field of educational courses is offered this year and the classes will be organized according to the public response at the registration. Fifteen must register for a class to be inaugurated.

Clothing, typing and wood-and-metal-craft clases were conducted at Central High School last year.

Classes will begin on Tuesday, October 5, at 7 p. m. There will be no class on Thursday, October 7 because of the Maryland State Teachers Association meeting in Baltimore.

Each course is continued for two terms of 24 sessions each semester, the first term closing in January and the second beginning in February and continuing to May. A small fee is charged.

J. D. Lonnholm of the Board of Education Office is in charge of the program.

Tenant Wins In Eviction Case

OAKLAND — Magistrate H. A. Loraditch, in an eviction proceeding case heard in his office last week, rendered a decision this week in favor of E. R. Fike, tenant, against Stuart F. Hamill.

Hamill was seeking use of his property on High Street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fike and family for the past 13 years. Loraditch ruled that Mr. and Mrs. Fike would be permitted to remain in their present tenancy until October 27, so as to give all tenants time to be in their respective homes by November 1.

The house to be vacated is to be occupied by Mr. Hamill, and by Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Briner. The Briner house will be occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Lusby, who recently purchased it.

Loraditch declared that should the new Fike home on Oak Street, now in course of construction, be completed before the time set forth, that the defendants shall vacate the building at an earlier date.

It was testified that the tenants had reason to believe that they could continue to live in the Hamill residence until May of 1949, and that the notice to move placed Fike in an embarrassing position.

Returns To School

LONACONING — Miss Eva Lee Park has returned to the University of Maryland for her junior year.

College P-TA Meets Monday

FROSTBURG—A meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association of the Elementary School of Frostburg State Teachers College will be held Monday at 8 p. m. in the college auditorium, with Dr. Albert C. Cook, president, presiding.

A report on the P-TA conference held at the University of Maryland, College Park, this summer will be given.

The musical feature will be violin selections by Mrs. Frances Lawler, member of the faculty, accompanied by Mrs. Mary Drum Bollino, pianist.

Teachers will be in their class rooms from 7:30 to 8 o'clock to consult with parents on problems concerning their children. A social hour will follow the meeting.

Nazarene Church Formed In Oakland

OAKLAND — A Church of the Nazarene was organized here Tuesday evening under the leadership of Rev. J. H. Parker, formerly of Cumberland, now district superintendent of the Washington - Philadelphia district of the Church of the Nazarene.

National Guard Plans Armory At Oakland

Division Head Says Land Only Problem

OAKLAND — "We're ready and anxious to go ahead just as soon as we have the ground," said General William C. Purnell of the National Guard headquarters of the 29th Division in Baltimore, before a group of Oakland citizens Wednesday night at a dinner at Pickwick Inn, in regard to the construction of a National Guard armory here.

The obtaining of the ground was the problem at hand and from remarks made by the General Assembly and other interested persons, the possibility of obtaining the site was favorable.

One proposition revealed was by Paul W. Hoye and Schell Hoye, which had been made public at a meeting last week. The offer was made to contribute four or five acres free of charge from their former property at the north edge of town, which was sold a year or two ago to the Board of Education for the site of the new high school, if it were resold to them.

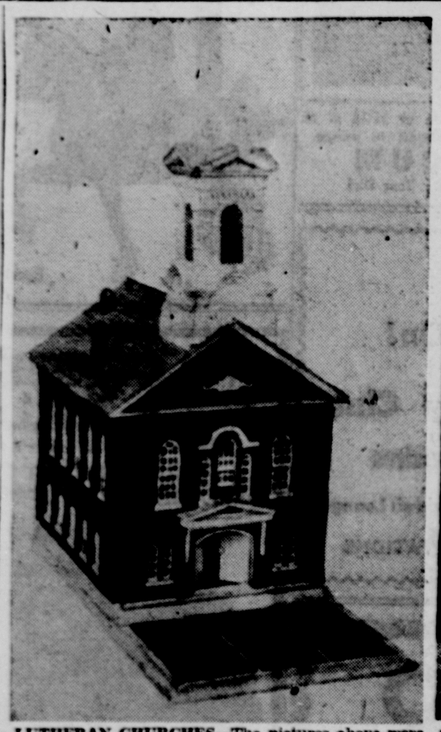
According to agreements at the time of purchase, it was said to be understood that if the property was not to be used for high school that the former owners would have the privilege of re-purchase. The site subsequently has been declared undesirable for the new high school building, but it is still in the hands of the Board of Education. There has been no Board meeting to determine whether or not the repurchase would be accomplished. Other suggested sites are under consideration.

General Purnell, following the dinner meeting, briefly outlined the responsibilities of the National Guard and stressed the importance of thorough training which at the minimum included the two-hour drill period each week and two weeks' encampment. He asked for the full backing of the citizens of this area for the company of engineers that was formed here less than a year ago.

Col. Fred Hewitt, who accompanied General Purnell to Oakland, spoke of the intensive training necessary to complete the knowledge of an engineering unit and praised the personnel of the local company.

Senator L. M. Fraley and Mayor Joseph Hinebaugh pledged their full co-operation and backing and expressed the opinion that the citizens of Oakland were in accord on the program.

The possibility of an air strip in this area was also discussed to some extent, to provide closer co-ordination between national guard headquarters and the local unit. Accompanying the officers from 29th Division headquarters were Capt. William Miller, pilot, and Sgt. John Tuerk.



LUTHERAN CHURCHES—The pictures above were prepared in connection with the 136th anniversary of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Frostburg, which will be observed at a special service Sunday morning. On the left is a photograph of a model of the first church, which was built in 1860 and destroyed by fire in 1874. The model was made by the late Daniel J. Betz when he was 13 years old. On the right is a photograph of the present church, completed in 1879. The latter picture was taken several years ago.

Tenant Wins In Eviction Case

OAKLAND — Magistrate H. A. Loraditch, in an eviction proceeding case heard in his office last week, rendered a decision this week in favor of E. R. Fike, tenant, against Stuart F. Hamill.

Hamill was seeking use of his property on High Street, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Fike and family for the past 13 years. Loraditch ruled that Mr. and Mrs. Fike would be permitted to remain in their present tenancy until October 27, so as to give all tenants time to be in their respective homes by November 1.

The house to be vacated is to be occupied by Mr. Hamill, and by Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Briner. The Briner house will be occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Lusby, who recently purchased it.

Loraditch declared that should the new Fike home on Oak Street, now in course of construction, be completed before the time set forth, that the defendants shall vacate the building at an earlier date.

It was testified that the tenants had reason to believe that they could continue to live in the Hamill residence until May of 1949, and that the notice to move placed Fike in an embarrassing position.

County Clergy To Honor Thomas Minister On His Silver Jubilee

THOMAS, W. Va.—Representatives from all churches of Tucker County will join the members of the Thomas and Davis Presbyterian churches in honoring their pastor, Rev. Andrew B. Mann, on his silver jubilee with that church.

Rev. Mann, who was born and educated in Scotland, came to America at the age of 22 and here continued his studies for the ministry in the Bonebrake Theology Seminary in Ohio and was ordained in 1911.

His first charge was in Staunton, Va.; later he was sent to Cumberland, Md., and then came to Thomas on September 16, 1923, when this section was a Home Mission Field.

Rev. Mann is the oldest Protestant minister in the county and during his 25 years has made an enviable record. He has received into the church 548 members, officiated at 500 funerals, 260 marriages, baptised 325 adults and 375 infants. He has also conducted 38 evangelical missions in the field in Winchester Presbytery and the Synod of Virginia.

At the meeting of the Presbytery held in Piedmont in 1942, Rev. Mann was chosen to preach the sermon using as his topic, "The Second Coming of Christ" which the group voted to have printed and published in all church papers.

Rev. Mann has also represented the Presbytery of Winchester twice as Commissioner to the General Assembly of the church, has been Moderator of the Presbytery and holds high offices of position and trust in the Synod of Virginia and Presbytery. He is also chairman of the Commission of the Minister and His Work, and is a member of the Board of Examiners of Theology and a member of the committee on House Missions.

During the pastorate of Rev. Mann in this county, several men and women have become interested in church work and have distinguished themselves in that field. They include Hugh Garner who is now an ordained minister; Rev. J. C. Faw, Richmond, Va., who started in church work under Rev. Mann in Douglas; William C. Bond who was a deacon in the Thomas church and now a world-wide leader in the Youth Movement. Mrs. Lucretia Bond Wagner, formerly of Thomas, now associated with her husband in New Testament League work in China, and the pastor's own son, John Kenneth Mann, now a ministerial student at Davis and Elkins College, Elkins.

The oldest living member of his church who was in Thomas when Rev. Mann came here 25 years ago is Mrs. J. W. Duncan, 86, who is still very active in church work and is a Bible teacher. Other members listed for that period include Mrs. Fred Cupp, Mrs. Dorothy Cangley, Mrs. Ella Wotring, Dr. Joseph L. Miller, John Goss and family, Mrs. David Swartz, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Perkins, Mrs. James Cooper, Mrs. J. W. Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. George Carbaugh, David Rosser and Lee Sutton, all of whom are still living.

George R. Branner, who left Thomas only a few years ago, served as an elder when Rev. Mann first came to Thomas and remained in that capacity with the pastor for 23 years.

Rev. Mann is one of the county's most active members in civic affairs. He was twice chairman of the Tucker County Red Cross, serving for three years 22 years ago and again for four years from 1942 until his recent retirement.

Rev. Mann was married to the former Miss Lacy Wolford, Keyser, on August 1, 1916, and they are the parents of seven children, all of whom are living. They are Brown Mann, Covington, Va.; Paul Mann, Keyser; Andrew B. Mann, music student at Fairmont State College, Fairmont; John Kenneth, ministerial student at Davis and Elkins College, all of whom are veterans of the past war. Daughters are Mrs. Wayne Cornwall, Fairmont; Mrs. Kenneth Peters, Fellowsvlle, a former teacher in the Mineral County schools, and Miss Peggy Mann, student at Davis and Elkins College. They also have three grandchildren.

Rev. Mann, who is a son of the late James and Jean Brown Mann has one brother and four sisters all of whom are living in Scotland. They are Richard Mann, Blantrye; Mrs. John Pearce, Bathgate; Mrs. John Fleming, Mrs. John Turvis and Mrs. David Scotland, all of Seafield.

On Sunday morning at 11 o'clock in the Thomas church, a special program will be given, with talks made by representatives of the Lutheran and Methodist churches of Thomas and Davis as well as churches throughout the entire county. Special music will be sung by the Presbyterian Church Choir, the Church Quartet, Douglas, and the men's quartet, Davis. Soloists will be Mrs. Donovan Riley, Mrs. Ted Johnson and Andrew B. Mann.

The women of the church are sponsoring an open house and reception to be held at the manse in the afternoon with Mrs. James Cooper in charge of arrangements.

Rev. Mann is one of the county's most active members in civic affairs. He was twice chairman of the Tucker County Red Cross, serving for three years 22 years ago and again for four years from 1942 until his recent retirement.

However, a second later, a window was shattered with a loud crash and sprayed several students with flying glass. A large bird had hit against the window and momentarily was stunned.

Kenneth Y. Hodgdon, science teacher who taught hawk and owl identification at Cornell University this summer, identified the fowl as a Cooper's Hawk. He said that this species of hawk is the only one native to this area which does any excessive game bird or chicken killing.

The hawk soon recovered and left under its own power having caused nothing but confusion, since no one was cut by the glass.

Trio Of College Grid Games Listed For Radio Today

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—Two more networks, NBC and MBS, join in the parade of punts from the college gridirons via broadcast on Saturday. That will make the game lineup like this with the times in Eastern Standard:

12:45 p. m. MBS—At West Point, Villanova vs. Army, Bill Drundige and Jimmy Dolan.

1:45 p. m. CBS—At Columbus, Ohio State vs. Missouri, Red Barber.

The times are given in Eastern Standard because the networks send the football games to all stations taking simultaneously rather than by the summer local time relay.

While CBS is continuing its Super quiz, Sing It Again, at 8 on Saturdays, MBS has eliminated its Three For The Money—in the same quiz category—at 9. In its place at 9 goes Life Begins at 80 in continuation of the summer series, with 9:30 to have What's The Name Of The Song in a new time.

A new UN series for CBS at 6:15 has been listed as Memo From Lake Success . . . . Radio City Playhouse winds up its first summer series for NBC at 8 with "The Dark Hour."

He held that none of these had been violated.

Using the Maryland Court of Appeals ruling in a case in Harford county in which the jurors were to decide what constituted an 'opera house', Judge Bruce stated, "it appears to me that in 1924, when the legislature made an amendment to the Sunday laws, that movies were common enough so that if the legislators wanted the law to pertain to motion pictures they would have so stated."

"It does appear to me that we're interpreting a criminal statute and in connection with this we're confronted with the fact that certain recreation is permissible in the City of Cumberland and municipalities, which corporate authorities may grant.

"In other sections of the county citizens are denied rights under the 14th Amendment and this is not in keeping with the privileges of citizens", Judge Bruce held.

Stocks Keep To Narrow, Slightly Higher Range In Listless Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—Stocks kept to a narrow but slightly higher range today in a dull market.

Fractional changes were maintained throughout the session with the exception of only a few issues which were up as much as two points.

The pattern is one followed for the last three days while trading has been mostly confined to the professionals in Wall Street. The investing public has been standing aside.

Oil issues as a group received some attention and steels for a short while attracted interest, but as a whole the market was on a selective basis with individual stocks simmering because of some development affecting them directly.

Of the usual market leaders, only two closed more than three-fourths of a point away from the previous day. Santa Fe and Allied Chemical were up two points. Neither was particularly active. Only one of the 10 market leaders changed more than one-half.

Pepsi-Cola reached another new 1948 low and closed off one-fourth at 9⅞. It was the second most active issue. Universal Pictures, after directors passed the quarterly dividend, hit a new low, closing off one-fourth at 8¼. Loew's dipped to a new low and closed unchanged at 15¾. Other picture stocks were unchanged to lower.

Oils closed mostly higher. Standard Oil (NJ) was up five-eighths at 75⅝, the third most active issue, and Sinclair was up one-fourth at 24¾, the fourth most active issue.

Colonial Mills was up seven-eighths at 24⅜, on an extra dividend and an earnings report showing a per share income of $8.49 for nine months ended August 31 against $6.64 for the same period of 1947.

Among other good performers were Montgomery Ward, up one-half at 53½ on an earnings report showing per share profits of $4.58 for six months ended July 31 against $2.60 the year before, Bethlehem Steel up three-eighths at 35⅞, Sears Roebuck up five-eighths at 38⅞, National Cash Register up five-eighths at 44⅜, and Gulf Oil up three-fourths at 69.

Some of those closing lower were Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas, Distillers Corporation, Seagram, Atlantic Coastline, Nickel Plate, and Union Pacific.

Modest demand lifted a few railroad favorites fractions to more than a point in the bond market.

Easy-To-Fix Cheesed Rice

Beautiful exotic food makes wonderful reading, but when it comes to going into the kitchen and whipping up something for supper, an easy recipe that calls for what is on the shelf is the true beauty. Here is just such a one.

Cheesed Rice

One cup of raw rice; two cups of white sauce; one cup grated cheese.

To Cook Rice: Put one cup rice, one teaspoon salt and two cups of cold water in a two-quart saucepan and cover with a tight fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more, during which time the water will be absorbed, making the rice deliciously tender. Remove the lid, permit the rice to steam dry to the desired consistency, and the grains will be separate and fluffy. Never stir rice, but lift rice with a fork when testing its consistency.

To make white sauce: While the rice is cooking melt four tablespoons of butter or margarine in the top of a double boiler or in a heavy saucepan. Blend in four tablespoons flour until a smooth paste. Gradually add two cups of milk and cook and stir until the sauce is smooth and has thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

To assemble: Put a layer of cooked rice in a greased baking dish, using about half of it. Cover with half the white sauce and sprinkle on half the grated cheese. Then add another layer of rice, another of white sauce and end up on grated cheese.

Place in a 375-degree oven and bake until the dish is bubbly hot and has browned slightly over the top.

Serve with stewed tomatoes or a tomato sauce—or just as it is as a main dish or a vegetable.

Guava Sandwiches

For those dainty sandwiches that are so enjoyable at tea-time, try guava jelly for a new and delightful flavor touch.

Guava jelly makes a perfect sandwich combination with either cream cheese or cottage cheese. Serve in thin, dainty sandwiches with the crusts removed from the bread.

For another flavor treat, serve guava jelly next time you have cold sliced chicken or turkey.

Guava jelly, one of the more unusual flavors of jelly, is now made in the United States and is much more readily available and reasonable in price than formerly.

Wallace Raps Truman, Dewey Foreign Policy

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 24 (AP)—Henry Wallace said tonight that if Russia stifles freedom and encourages dictatorship, those charges are "at least equally true of the present foreign policy of Truman and Dewey."

Wallace, the Progressive Party candidate for President, came to this steel-making city to picture Persident Truman as "every bit as much a servant of international big business" as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Youngstown rally, Wallace asserted the leaders of the CIO Steelworkers Union, by working for Mr. Truman's re-election, are really campaigning for Republic Steel Corporation interests.

Chinese Communists Say Tsinan Captured

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24—(AP)—The Chinese Communists announced today the capture of Tsinan, one of the government's last remaining footholds in important Shantung Province, of which it was the capital.

There was no confirmation from the government, but latest Nanking dispatches had indicated the fall was anticipated. They quoted Shantung's 42-year old governor and commanding general, Wang Yao-Wu, as radioing for immediate help, which was not forthcoming.

The Communist radio in North Shensi Province, heard by the Associated Press in San Francisco, said Tsinan was "completely liberated." At 5 p. m. it said powerful Communist forces stormed into the walled inner city and "wiped out" all remaining government troops.

Here's a Fair Way to Decide:
Make the Easy "TWIN CRACKER" Test

1. Serve each member of your family two crackers, one spread with Jumbo, one with your present peanut butter brand. Be sure you remember which one is spread with Jumbo.

2. Unless everyone prefers Jumbo Peanut Butter, your grocer will refund your money upon return of the partly empty jar.

Honestly—could we make this offer unless we knew there was no finer peanut butter on the market?

Taste the delightful difference when peanut butter contains only the meat of the nut—no bitter parts or shreds of brown skins. Enjoy the special blend of choice Spanish and Virginia peanuts, slow-roasted; see and taste the delectable buttery texture of Jumbo Peanut Butter, homogenized to retard oil separation. You've discovered peanut butter at its best!

Premiums youngsters will enjoy! See the label!

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—Two more networks, NBC and MBS, join in the parade of punts from the college gridirons via broadcast on Saturday. That will make the game lineup like this with the times in Eastern Standard:

12:45 p. m. MBS—At West Point, Villanova vs. Army, Bill Drundige and Jimmy Dolan.

1:45 p. m. NBC$ and ABC—At South Bend, Notre Dame vs. Purdue, Bill Stern for NBC and Harry Wisner for ABC.

1:45 p. m. CBS—At Columbus, Ohio State vs. Missouri, Red Barber.

The times are given in Eastern Standard because the networks send the football games to all stations taking simultaneously rather than by the summer local time relay.

While CBS is continuing its Super quiz, Sing It Again, at 8 on Saturdays, MBS has elliminated its Three For The Money—in the same quiz category—at 9. In its place at 9 goes Life Begins at 80 in continuation of the summer series, with 9:30 to have What's The Name Of The Song in a new time.

A new UN series for CBS at 6:15 has been listed as Memo From Lake Success .... Radio City Playhouse winds up its first summer series for NBC at 8 with "The Dark Hour."

morality shall not be offended".

He held that none of these had been violated.

Using the Maryland Court of Appeals ruling in a case in Harford county in which the jurors were to decide what constituted an 'opera house', Judge Bruce stated, "it appears to me that in 1924, when the legislature made an amendment to the Sunday laws, that movies were common enough so that if the legislators wanted the law to pertain to motion pictures they would have so stated."

"It does appear to me that we're interpreting a criminal statute and in connection with this we're confronted with the fact that certain recreation is permissible in the City of Cumberland and municipalities, which corporate authorities may grant.

"In other sections of the county citizens are denied rights under the 14th Amendment and this is not in keeping with the privileges of citizens", Judge Bruce held.

Stocks Keep To Narrow, Slightly Higher Range In Listless Market

NEW YORK, Sept. 24—(AP)—Stocks kept to a narrow but slightly higher range today in a dull market.

Fractional changes were maintained throughout the session with the exception of only a few issues which were up as much as two points.

The pattern is one followed for the last three days while trading has been mostly confined to the professionals in Wall Street. The investing public has been standing aside.

Oil issues as a group received some attention and steels for a short while attracted interest, but as a whole the market was on a selective basis with individual stocks simmering because of some development affecting them directly.

Of the usual market leaders, only two closed more than three-fourths of a point away from the previous day. Santa Fe and Allied Chemical were up two points. Neither was particularly active. Only one of the 10 market leaders changed more than one-half.

Pepsi-Cola reached another new 1948 low and closed off one-fourth at 9⅝. It was the second most active issue. Universal Pictures, after directors passed the quarterly dividend, hit a new low, closing off one-fourth at 8¼. Loew's dipped to a new low and closed unchanged at 15⅝. Other picture stocks were unchanged to lower.

Oils closed mostly higher. Standard Oil (NJ) was up five-eighths at 75⅝, the third most active issue, and Sinclair was up one-fourth at 24¾, the fourth most active issue.

Colonial Mills was up seven-eighths at 24⅝, on an extra dividend and an earnings report showing a per share income of $8.49 for nine months ended August 31 against $6.64 for the same period of 1947.

Among other good performers were Montgomery Ward, up one-half at 53½ on an earnings report showing per share profits of $4.58 for six months ended July 31 against $2.60 the year before, Bethlehem Steel up three-eighths at 35⅞, Sears Roebuck up five-eighths at 38⅞, National Cash Register up five-eighths at 44⅜, and Gulf Oil up three-fourths at 69.

Some of those closing lower were Caterpillar Tractor, Douglas, Distillers Corporation, Seagram, Atlantic Coastline, Nickel Plate, and Union Pacific.

Modest demand lifted a few railroad favorites fractions to more than a point in the bond market.

Easy-To-Fix Cheesed Rice

Beautiful exotic food makes wonderful reading, but when it comes to going into the kitchen and whipping up something for supper, an easy recipe that calls for what is on the shelf is the true beauty. Here is just such a one.

Cheesed Rice

One cup of raw rice; two cups of white sauce; one cup grated cheese.

To Cook Rice: Put one cup rice, one teaspoon salt and two cups of cold water in a two-quart saucepan and cover with a tight fitting lid. Set over a hot flame until it boils vigorously. Then reduce the heat as low as possible and simmer for 14 minutes more, during which time the water will be absorbed, making the rice deliciously tender. Remove the lid, permit the rice to steam dry to the desired consistency, and the grains will be separate and fluffy. Never stir rice, but lift rice with a fork when testing its consistency.

To make white sauce: While the rice is cooking melt four tablespoons of butter or margarine in the top of a double boiler or in a heavy saucepan. Blend in four tablespoons flour until a smooth paste. Gradually add two cups of milk and cook and stir until the sauce is smooth and has thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper.

To assemble: Put a layer of cooked rice in a greased baking dish, using about half of it. Cover with half the white sauce and sprinkle on half the grated cheese. Then add another layer of rice, another of white sauce and end up on grated cheese.

Place in a 375-degree oven and bake until the dish is bubbly hot and has browned slightly over the top.

Serve with stewed tomatoes or a tomato sauce—or just as it is as a main dish or a vegetable.

Guava Sandwiches

For those dainty sandwiches that are so enjoyable at tea-time, try guava jelly for a new and delightful flavor touch.

Guava jelly makes a perfect sandwich combination with either cream cheese or cottage cheese. Serve in thin, dainty sandwiches with the crusts removed from the bread.

For another flavor treat, serve guava jelly next time you have cold sliced chicken or turkey.

Guava jelly, one of the more unusual flavors of jelly, is now made in the United States and is much more readily available and reasonable in price than formerly.

Swanton Briefs

Swanton School has an enrollment of 81 students this year, school officials reported.

Mrs. Fred Friend, Mrs. G. S. Paugh, Swanton, Roland Duckworth, Arne Rhodes, Herbert Sharpless, Mr. and Mrs. John Tichinel, Mt. Zion, were in Oakland on business Saturday.

BROOKLYN RETAINS JOHNSTOWN "FARM"

BROOKLYN, Sept. 24 (AP) — The Johnstown, Pa., team of the Class C Middle Atlantic Baseball League will operate again in 1949 as a Brooklyn Dodger farm, the National League club announced today.

Johnstown was one of 22 Brooklyn affiliates to gain first division playoff berths in minor leagues this year.

14 Juveniles Named For Rich Futurity

NEW YORK, Sept. 24 (AP)—Fourteen juveniles were named today for tomorrow's running of the rich Belmont Futurity at Belmont Park.

If all start in the six and a half furlong test it will have a gross value of approximately $115,000, making it the richest two-year-old race of the year.

Heading the list is the Maine Chance Farm's Myrtle Charm, undefeated in three starts, and Joseph M. Roebling's Blue Peter, winner of six straight races.

Wellersburg And Cubs Play To 3-3 Deadlock

Potomac Valley's Cubs and Wellersburg battled to a 3-3 tie in the fourth game of their playoff series for the championship of the County Softball League yesterday at Wellersburg.

A two-run rally in the 7th and final inning enabled Wellersburg to knot the score. The game then was called on account of darkness.

The teams will clash Sunday at 4 p. m. at Wellersburg.

Connie Mack Wants Long Ball Hitter

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 24—(AP)—Connie Mack is looking for a long-ball hitter to bolster the attack of his Philadelphia Athletics in 1949.

He said so today at a luncheon honoring Eddie Joost, winner of the Evening Bulletin's Most Valuable Player award.

"And we have the money ready and waiting for anyone who wants to sell that kind of a player," the venerable manager of the A's said.

Robert McLean, president of the Bulletin, made the award.

Shepherdstown Wins

SHEPHERDSTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 24 (AP)—Shepherdstown High School's six-man football team opened its nine-game schedule today by downing Towson Catholic High, 35-30.

Shepherdstown scored in every period, while holding Towson blank in the second and third. The Baltimore Countians unleashed a scoring spree in the final period to mass 22 points, but fell short by one touchdown. Score by periods:

Colts Sign Guard

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24 (AP)—The Baltimore Colts announced today addition of Al Sidorik, a 248-pound guard.

The All-America Conference team released George Groves, former Buffalo guard, to sign Sidorik who was a free agent. The newcomer played for Boston of the National Football League last year after attending Mississippi State. He is a native of Hartford, Conn.

Boston Eagles Win

BOSTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—Playing alert football, Boston College's heavier Eagles tonight bumped the Wake Forest Deacons 26-9 in the curtain raiser of "big time" college football in New England. The winning Eagles controlled the ball through most of the game, attended by 26,302 paid fans, except in the final quarter when the Southerners scored all their points.

Smith, Lovett Confer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24—(AP)—Walter Bedell Smith, ambassador to Moscow, conferred with Undersecretary Lovett and other top State Department officials today after flying home by way of Berlin and Paris.

Miss Cross Wed To Ellis Rounds

SWANTON — Miss Betty Jean Cross, daughter of Theodore Cross, Crellin, was married to Ellis Lee Rounds, Swanton, Saturday, September 4, in St. Paul's Methodist Church, Oakland. Rev. Denver C. Pickens officiated.

The bride wore a Navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of white rosebuds. Mrs. Clyde McNemar, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and her husband was best man.

The bridegroom is employed at the Luke Mill of the West Virginia Pulp and Paper Company. The couple wil lreside in Mt. Lake Park.

Wallace Raps Truman, Dewey Foreign Policy

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Sept. 24 (AP)—Henry Wallace said tonight that if Russia stifles freedom and encourages dictatorship, those charges are "at least equally true of the present foreign policy of Truman and Dewey."

Wallace, the Progressive Party candidate for President, came to this steel-making city to picture Persident Truman as "every bit as much a servant of international big business" as Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Youngstown rally, Wallace asserted the leaders of the CIO Steelworkers Union, by working for Mr. Truman's re-election, are really campaigning for Republic Steel Corporation interests.

Chinese Communists Say Tsinan Captured

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 24—(AP)—The Chinese Communists announced today the capture of Tsinan, one of the government's last remaining footholds in important Shantung Province, of which it was the capital.

There was no confirmation from the government, but latest Nanking dispatches had indicated the fall was anticipated. They quoted Shantung's 42-year old governor and commanding general, Wang Yao-Wu, as radioing for immediate help, which was not forthcoming.

The Communist radio in North Shensi Province, heard by the Associated Press in San Francisco, said Tsinan was "completely liberated." At 5 p. m. it said powerful Communist forces stormed into the walled inner city and "wiped out" all remaining government troops.

Here's a Fair Way to Decide: Make the Easy "TWIN CRACKER" Test

1 Serve each member of your family two crackers, one spread with Jumbo, one with your present peanut butter brand. Be sure you remember which one is spread with Jumbo.

2 Unless everyone prefers Jumbo Peanut Butter, your grocer will refund your money upon return of this partly empty jar.

Honestly—could we make this offer unless we knew there was no finer peanut butter on the market?

Taste the delightful difference when peanut butter contains only the meat of the nut—no bitter parts or shreds of brown skins. Enjoy the special blend of choice Spanish and Virginia peanuts, slow-roasted; see and taste the delectable buttery texture of Jumbo Peanut Butter, homogenized to retard oil separation. You've discovered peanut butter at its best!

Buckmaster Re-Elected Rubber Workers Head

The CIO United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America yesterday re-elected L. S. Buckmaster, Akron, O., self-described right-winger, as general president of the union at their convention in Omaha, Neb.

But opposition candidates held the posts of vice president and secretary-treasurer as delegates settled down today to the business of naming a general executive board.

H. R. (Whitey) Lloyd of Akron was named to a fourth term as vice president by an 811 to 807 vote over Joseph W. Childs, also of Akron.

Charles E. Lanning, Mentor, Ohio, was renamed secretary-treasurer over Floyd Gartrell, Los Angeles, 859 to 752.

Both Lanning and Lloyd were identified with the faction headed by George R. Bass of Akron, Buckmaster's opponent for the presidency.

Buckmaster edged Bass 810 to 808 in the closest election contest in the union's history. Buckmaster said it "probably" was the closest contest ever seen in a major election in any union of its size.

Marcus Reinhard Heads Centennial Committee

The centennial celebration of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic Church next month will be under the general chairmanship of Marcus R. Reinhard, according to Rev. Alban Hammal, O.F.M.Cap., pastor.

Among those assisting him will be Thomas F. Conlon, Thomas B. Cumiskey, Jr., and Frank Wolfhope.

Most Rev. Francis Patrick Keough, archbishop of Baltimore, will be celebrant of a pontifical high mass at 10 a. m. October 17 in honor of the church's 100th anniversary.

Rev. Father Alban said that a centennial book edited by Sister Marjorie, principal of Ursuline Academy, will go to press next week. The book will contain about 100 pages and 90 pictures of priests, nuns and scenes taken during the existence of SS. Peter and Paul Church, school and monastery.

Butter Reported Lower In City

Following earlier action in Baltimore toward lower butter prices, local merchants reported yesterday a decrease in retail quotations of five to eight cents a pound.

Wholesale distributors said butter has dropped about six cents a pound wholesale, due to what was termed a "seasonal decline."

Butter was listed yesterday at around 74 cents per pound here, with demand for oleomargarine still about as heavy as before. The demand for oleomargarine grew rapidly when butter reached its record price of $1.05 per pound, and some merchants believe many families will not switch back to butter even though the price continues to drop.

Former Local Pastor To Address Bible Class

The Wesleyan Men's Bible Class at Centre Street Methodist Church will hear Rev. George E. Baughman, former pastor of First Methodist Church, Sunday at 10 a. m.

This is the last of a guest teacher series. A. L. Rogers, co-teacher of the class for several years, will begin his regular series of teaching for three months on October 1.

The Wesleyan Class is one of the oldest organized Bible classes in Cumberland. A membership campaign is being planned with a goal of 100 men.

Airport Group Sets Meeting

A meeting of the Municipal Airport Commission has been set for Monday, October 11, to discuss a financial settlement with Cumberland Airways, Inc., which operated the port during 1946 and 1947.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. in the office of Mayor Thomas S. Post.

Charter Commission To Meet Monday

The Cumberland Charter Commission will meet at 7:30 p. m. Monday in the office of Mayor Thomas S. Post, it was announced yesterday by Isaac Hirsch, chairman.

Work will be continued on the committees which are compiling necessary information for the new charter.

$32 Theft Probed

The theft of $32 from a trunk at home of Frank McMullen, 201 Thomas Street, was reported to police Wednesday afternoon. Detective Ernest M. Powell is investigating.

McMullen said the culprit used a wrecking bar to pry open the trunk while he and his housekeeper were absent. A man staying at his home the past 10 days disappeared, he added. The theft occurred about 10 a. m.

Police went to Columbia Street School this morning after the janitor, Louis Minnicks, reported that intruders entered the place through a coal chute. Nothing was taken.

Buckmaster Re-Elected Rubber Workers Head

The CIO United Rubber, Cork, Linoleum and Plastic Workers of America yesterday re-elected L. S. Buckmaster, Akron, O., self-described right-winger, as general president of the union at their convention in Omaha, Neb.

But opposition candidates held the posts of vice president and secretary-treasurer as delegates settled down today to the business of naming a general executive board.

H. R. (Whitey) Lloyd of Akron was named to a fourth term as vice president by an 811 to 807 vote over Joseph W. Childs, also of Akron.

Charles E. Lanning, Mentor, Ohio, was renamed secretary-treasurer over Floyd Gartrell, Los Angeles, 859 to 752.

Both Lanning and Lloyd were identified with the faction headed by George R. Bass of Akron, Buckmaster's opponent for the presidency.

Buckmaster edged Bass 810 to 808 in the closest election contest in the union's history. Buckmaster said it "probably" was the closest contest ever seen in a major election in any union of its size.

Marcus Reinhard Heads Centennial Committee

Among those assisting him will be Thomas F. Conlon, Thomas B. Cumiskey, Jr., and Frank Wolfhope.

Most Rev. Francis Patrick Keough, archbishop of Baltimore, will be celebrant of a pontifical high mass at 10 a. m. October 17 in honor of the church's 100th anniversary.

Rev. Father Alban said that a centennial book edited by Sister Marjorie, principal of Ursuline Academy, will go to press next week. The book will contain about 100 pages and 90 pictures of priests, nuns and scenes taken during the existence of SS. Peter and Paul Church, school and monastery.

Butter Reported Lower In City

Following earlier action in Baltimore toward lower butter prices, local merchants reported yesterday a decrease in retail quotations of five to eight cents a pound.

Wholesale distributors said butter has dropped about six cents a pound wholesale, due to what was termed a "seasonal decline."

Butter was listed yesterday at around 74 cents per pound here, with demand for oleomargarine still about as heavy as before. The demand for oleomargarine grew rapidly when butter reached its record price of $1.05 per pound, and some merchants believe many families will not switch back to butter even though the price continues to drop.

$32 Theft Probed

The theft of $32 from a trunk at home of Frank McMullen, 201 Thomas Street, was reported to police Wednesday afternoon. Detective Ernest M. Powell is investigating.

McMullen said the culprit used a wrecking bar to pry open the trunk while he and his housekeeper were absent. A man staying at his home the past 10 days disappeared, he added. The theft occurred about 10 a. m.

Police went to Columbia Street School this morning after the janitor, Louis Minnicks, reported that intruders entered the place through a coal chute. Nothing was taken.

More Complaints Made About Dogs Running In City

Decatur Street Child Attacked Last Night

The pack of dogs which staged a raid on pet ducks at Constitution Park duck pond a couple of nights ago and killed three of the fowl, has been annoying other neighborhoods. Last night a three-year-old child was attacked and bitten by one of a pack in his yard on Decatur Street.

Yesterday afternoon, a member of the child's family called City Police and complained about the pack of dogs running about the area, and asked that they be picked up by the dog catcher before some child was bitten. At 7:15 p. m., one of the dogs bit the child.

The infant was taken to a nearby physician's office where the wound was treated, and city police were again notified, this time by the child's irate father. At 10 p. m. the pack of dogs was still in the Decatur Street area.

City Police said last night they received calls from the Decatur Street neighborhood and notified Dr. F. B. McCallum, local veterinarian who serves as dog catcher on a part-time basis for the city. McCallum told police he had been in the neighborhood on two or three occasions yesterday and was unable to locate the dog pack.

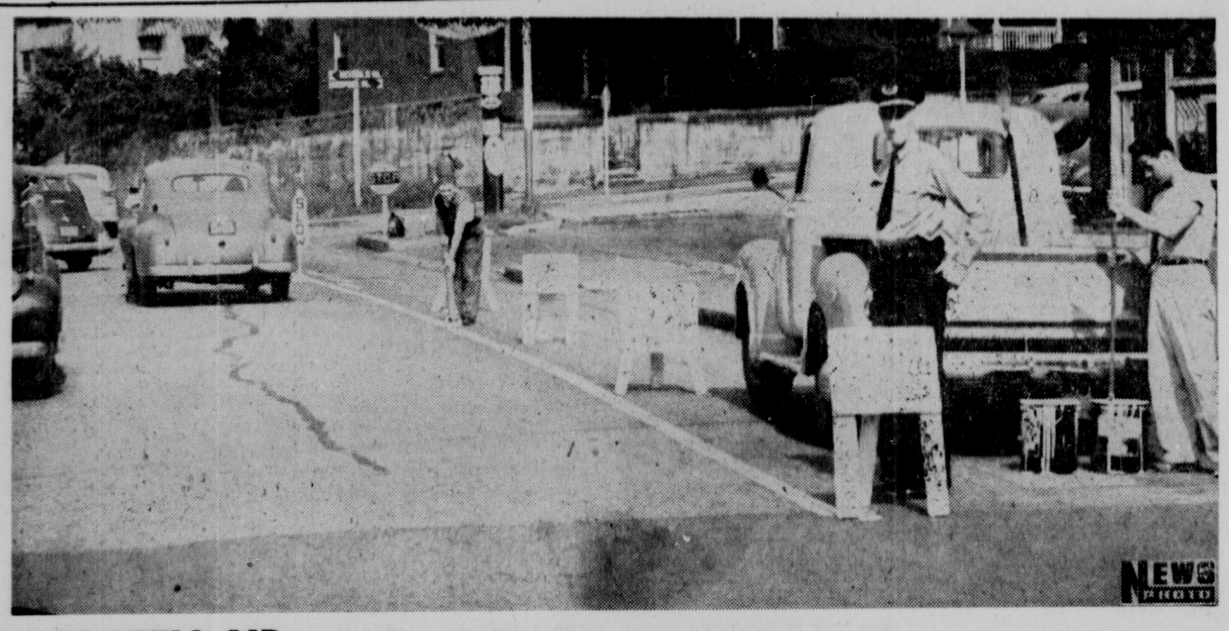
Attendants at Constitution Park have been watching for the dogs every night since the raid on the duck pond. Night before last, the dogs put in an appearance at the park, overturned a couple of rubbish and trash barrels, but did not venture near the duck pond where a lookout was posted. Attendants are still watching the pond nightly.

On Decatur Street, and in that area, where a number of people have complained about the dogs trampling flowers, and generally damaging shrubs and lawns, reports have been made of over-turned garbage cans, upset milk bottles and other nuisance situations.

Several residents of the section indicated last night they do not want to take the law into their own hands, but when complaints get no results and children can't play in their own yards without being attacked and bitten, it's time for individual action."

The pack of dogs is described as numbering about 12, led by a large animal over three feet high, and including all types of mongrels big and little, long-haired and short-haired.

It is unlawful to permit dogs to run at large in the city and repeated damage and nuisances by the animals will probably result in their destruction, observers believe.



A TRAFFIC AID-- The city's reorganized traffic department has completed lining of Henderson Avenue for westbound traffic as one point of a program to relieve congestion on Baltimore Street quickly. Traffic traveling the full length of the avenue or turning right will use the right lane while traffic turning left across the railroad tracks will use the center. Lt. R. R. Johnston is directing the work above while Robert Teter, standing to the lieutenant's right, and R. W. Grove, to the rear, line off the channels.

"Y" Recruits 257 New Membership With Maneuvers

Workers Demobilized After Dinner Report

The Y.M.C.A. forces for its fall membership maneuvers were demobilized last night after committee heads reported that 257 new members were recruited during a week when widespread interpretation of "membership meaning" was given in the city.

Adolf Blunk, a committee liaison officer, explained that workers' efforts will show results for many months to come and said the 257 new members could in no way be interpreted as the final result of the maneuvers.

Chief of Staff J. Goodloe Jackson declared that with the public understanding better the physical and intellectual influence the Y.M.C.A. has on the community many additional membership will be secured during the coming months.

Jackson also presented gifts of appreciation to Miss Clair Lucille Malin who led the women's division in securing new members and to George Caswell who led the men's division.

Miss Malin, according to figures read at the dinner by Winfield H. Adam, secured 10 new members and Caswell secured 17.

The demobilization dinner started with invocation by Rev. W. R. Keefe, Jr., and was followed by group musical selections directed by A. Florian Wilson. The Smith triplets entertained with accordion music and a musical skit was given.

Jackson officially demobilized the committees after thanking members for the work they had accomplished in giving the public an interpretation of the meaning of membership in the Y.M.C.A.

A breakdown of the report by committees follows:

Army, 88; Wacs, 51; Air Force, 48; Navy, 67; and Waves 3. No membership goal was set.

Medical School At WVU In Under Consideration

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Sept. 24. (AP)—Establishment of a four-year medical school at West Virginia University should be planned "with our eyes open to the full realization of the cost," President Irvin Stewart said tonight.

In an address before members of the West Virginia Newspaper Council and others attending the annual All-State Press banquet which concluded the 27th annual State Journalism Conference, Dr. Stewart added:

"The university would welcome the addition, but it is still waiting for someone to come forward with a suggestion of a way to finance the four-year medical school without seriously endangering other needed university activities which are crying for more adequate financial support."

He said the medical school definitely is "desirable," but that more information as to the financial practicality of its creation is needed.

Suit Filed For Damages Caused By Rock Blast

Blasting rock on the relocation of U.S. Route 40 west of Cumberland has resulted in a suit for damages to a home in Eckhart.

The Weather

Glorious football weather greeted spectators at the Fort Hill-Keyser game last night. Toward the end it got just a little chilly when the thermometer showed 52 degrees with promises of going lower. Yesterday's high temperature was 61, just 10 degrees above the overnight low of 51. Today will continue rather cloudy and almost cold.

Va.; Mangus Work, Celanese Corporation of America, Safety Department; Tom Gulland, Safety Department, Allegany Ballistics Company; Lynn Walker, Safety Department, State Industrial Accident Commission; Chief Howard Kelly, Kelly - Springfield Tire Company.

Mine Bureau Report Confirms Blast Cause

A detailed report of the Maryland Bureau of Mines released yesterday on the mine explosion August 14 at Mine No. 5, Waynesburg seam of the George's Creek Coal Company in which three men were killed, confirms previous reports of inspectors.

The report states the blast apparently resulted when methane was ignited by an electric motor on the haulage locomotive.

The explosion occurred on a Saturday when the mine was idle. Three assistant foremen, George Loar, Bernard Smith and Robert Dodds, were engaged in a rock dusting operation in the mines when the explosion occurred. All three were fatally burned, the bodies being removed a short time later by rescue teams.

Seek Budget Hike

BALTIMORE, Sept. 24.—(AP)—A budget increase of 41 per cent was asked today by the Maryland State Police for the next two years.

Superintendent Beverly Ober outlined plans for raising salaries and adding 86 troopers to the force.

The state police are receiving $3,133,649 in the current two-year period. The new request is for $4,276,189.

Potomac Park Plans Fall-Winter Program

The Potomac Park Improvement Association of which J. Milton Dick is president is planning a series of activities this fall and winter, it was announced last night by Mrs. Oscar Varner, chairman of the entertainment committee.

The association includes member papers in Maryland, the District of Columbia, Delaware and Southern Pennsylvania. The Cambridge Banner and the Salisbury Times will be hosts.

Drive-In Theater Operators Freed On Sunday Charge

Movies On Sabbath Termed Not Illegal

Operation of motion picture theaters and the exhibition of motion picture films to the public on Sunday is lawful in this county, according to an interpretation of the law by Associate Judge Oliver H. Bruce, Jr., in Circuit Court here yesterday.

Judge Bruce found the operators of a drive-in theater near Cresaptown innocent of any violation of the law and acquitted them of charges preferred by the state's attorney.

Officials said the ruling of the Court makes it possible for the Potomac Drive-In Theater as well as the Majestic Theater at Mt. Savage, also ordered closed, to operate on Sunday.

George Bishields and his sister, Mrs. Yolanda Bishields Hutzler, who operate the Majestic, said last night they will open for a matinee and evening show Sunday.

The Bishields explain they had pictures purchased for the next several Sundays and the Court's ruling will now permit them to show the films as planned. The Drive-In also plans to operate.

State's Attorney Morgan C. Harris said yesterday the Mt. Savage Theater can operate Sunday since it is his understanding the Court's ruling would apply to all motion picture operations.

Question Of Opera House

The defendants, Kenneth R. Baker, and G. Ray Sutherland had been arrested Sunday, September 5, by deputies of the sheriff's office on orders of the state's attorney, on a charge of violating Section 576 of Article 27 which forbids keeping of dancing halls, saloons, tenpin alleys, barber saloons, ball alleys and opera houses on the Sabbath Day. The Drive-In theater was closed and patrons obtained a refund of admissions.

The two men waived their rights to a jury trial and petitioned the Court for an immediate hearing. Judge Bruce, sitting as a jury interpreting the law, stated, "It appears that the only interpretation for me to make is on the phrase 'opera house,' as contained in the act of the legislature."

Edward J. Ryan, who along with William L. Wilson, Jr., represented Baker and Sutherland, stated the defense's principal contention was, "Can anybody go out there (the drive-in theater) in an open field and call it an opera house?"

He listed the definition of an opera house as a place which contained a stage, proscenium, galleries, orchestra, etc.

Ryan declared that it cannot be considered very American for citizens to operate and attend motion picture shows in Cumberland and be prohibited from doing so in unincorporated areas. He told the Court, it is a very selfish motive which brought about this situation. Cumberland theaters filed complaints because they want to force people from outlying communities to come to Cumberland on Sunday to attend the movies.

Ryan argued that it cannot be considered equal justice under the law when a man or woman can get on a bus and by the mere payment of bus fare to Cumberland, keep within the law.

Ryan said, "over 200 years ago, people of intolerant minds prosecuted persons who they charged violated the laws and some of these were called "witches."

He quoted a minister who asked "how can a thing done in Cumberland be all right, and things done outside the corporate limits be considered evil? Ryan reminded the Court there had been no public clamor for closing either the Drive-In or the Majestic. There was no demand for action by the general public, he declared, and no disorders have been reported.

Question Of Law

The state contended in the prosecution argument that the law in 1866 as passed by the legislature, "manifestly intended all theater performances." The legislature has determined that all theatrical places are of the same general character, he added.

The state's attorney argued, "there is no question of good or evil in this case, but simply one of law." He contended the term opera house was intended to mean all such places of entertainment or amusement including drive-in theaters.

Judge Bruce made a number of observations from the bench. He told the attorneys, defendants and those assembled to hear the case: "There is a Sunday law and the basis of all Sunday regulations is that religious worship shall not be disturbed, the peace and good order of the state on Sunday shall not be violated and the precepts of

Daylight Time Ends In Area Sunday Morning

At 2 o'clock Sunday morning, that's 2 o'clock Saturday night to some people, clocks will be turned back an hour as the summer schedule of Daylight Saving Time comes to an end in Cumberland and vicinity. Town officials in Ridgeley, W. Va., said last night that Ridgeley will return to Eastern Standard Time Sunday, along with Cumberland and other towns in this area which have been on Daylight Saving Time.

Beer parlors operated in Ridgeley will now be open from 1 p. m. to 10 p. m. (EST) beginning tomorrow, by mutual agreement. It is legal to operate until midnight, but by agreement, sale of beer is stopped at 10 p. m. to keep down disorder and clear the town of visitors earlier, officials said.

12 Cattle Burn In Truck Crash On Turnpike

Three Cars Damaged At Service Station

A fire that resulted from a tractor-trailor collision with three automobiles on the Pennsylvania Turnpike last night consumed 12 head of cattle and "slightly" injured a Howard Johnson service station attendant.

Pennsylvania State Police, who were unable to identify the persons involved immediately, said the tractor-trailer cut into the service station a half mile east of Tuscarora Tunnel, struck one automobile in front of a gas pump and then glanced off the vehicle against two other machines parked in the driveway.

The trailer which ignited set three gas pumps and one of the cars on fire. Authorities said 12 of 40 head of cattle in the trailer were consumed before the gate could be opened to release them.

The fire completely destroyed the tractor and one automobile, police said, and partially consumed the trailer. The gas pumps were also destroyed, but the fire was prevented from spreading to the restaurant and service station.

Debris from the accident and fire caused the station and restaurant, which operates on a 24-hour basis, to be closed to traffic for more than two hours, an attendant said.

Police could not identify the injured man immediately, but said he was treated by a physician and dismissed. He suffered a bruise on the left leg, police said.

Bull Throws Rider In Rodeo Contest

Bob Ackridge, 16, Macon, Ga., a member of the Rodeo Association of America, was admitted to Allegany Hospital at about 9:15 p. m. yesterday for treatment of a shoulder injury received when he was thrown and tramped by a bull.

He was riding in a contest at the rodeo at Community Park.

Attaches of the hospital said that he was resting comfortably but that the full extent of his injuries would not be known until he is X-rayed today.

Wayne Lough, 22, Route 5, this city, was admitted to Allegany Hospital yesterday for treatment of first and second degree burns suffered while working at the Allegany Ballisics Laboratory, Pinto. He was reported in good condition.

A guard on the Fort Hill High School football team, Carleton Shore, Jr., 17, was treated last night at Memorial Hospital for a cut under his right eye received in the game with Keyser High School. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton Shore, Sr., 866 Maryland Avenue.

Also treated at the same hospital was Leroy Michael, 43, Cresaptown, for lacerations of the left hand sustained when he caught his hand with a chain against a rock while working at home.

Special Motor Vehicle Taxes More Than $3 Billion In 1947

American motorists paid more than three billion dollars in special motor vehicle taxes for the first time in history in 1947, according to a publication issued yesterday by the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

Marylanders paid a total of $27,016,000 in registration and carrier fees and in state fuel taxes, the publication states. State motorists also paid an estimated total of $3,225,000 in sales taxes on cars and accessories in the past six months.

The record-breaking total of taxes was among 12 records reported for the year by the association. Others were trucks, bus and replacement parts production, employment and payrolls, dollar value of exports, vehicle mileage driven, registration of cars, trucks and buses, and wholesale value of the industry's products.

While all state and local special taxes—registration fees, gasoline levies, city and county taxes and road tolls—reached new highs during 1947, the federal excise tax collection jump of 32 per cent over the 1946 total represented the greatest increase, according to Oscar P. Pearson, the association's chief statistician.

The association also reported that the average age of cars and trucks declined slightly from the 1946 peak, but was still far above the prewar figure.

The average car on the road today, it was pointed out, is 8.9 years old, as compared with nine years in 1946 and 5.5 years in 1941. The average truck in 1947 was 8.1 years old, as against 8.6 years in 1946 and 5.6 years before the war.

Florida, Virginia, California and Texas led the list in gains in registration of passenger cars, while California and Pennsylvania led in truck registration gains. In Maryland, a total of 544,510 vehicles, publicly and privately owned, was registered.

World registrations of motor vehicles, the report said, have jumped to 53,288,000, more than 8,000,000 above 1940. Of the total, American registrations account for 73 per cent of the passenger cars and 52 per cent of the trucks.

The report also pointed out that 1948 is the year of the production of the one hundred millionth American-made motor vehicle. Thirty-nine and a half million of that total are still in use, 50 million have been scrapped, and 10 and a half million were sold abroad, the report states.

Police Say Youth Wanted In Theft Beats 'Informer'

Lambert Is Held For Investigation

A third Ridgeley youth wanted for questioning in a series of thefts was arrested last night, according to police, shortly after he attacked and beat a 15-year-old boy he accused of "informing" on him.

The youth was booked as Eston Lambert, 18, who police said they have been seeking since the 15-year-old and another youth identified him as their accomplice in the thefts.

Lambert, according to investigating authorities, remained in Maryland since the search for him started, but last night returned to Ridgeley where he contacted the boy, who is free on $500 bond after signing a statement admitting the two thefts.

After talking to the boy briefly on Mertin Street, police said Lambert learned he had been identified as an accomplice. He became angered and attacked the boy, according to West Virginia authorities.

The boy, who police declined to identify in conformance with West Virginia law, suffered lacerations and bruises of the face and a swollen left eye.

After the attack Lambert returned to the Maryland side of the state line. About an hour later he surrendered to Justice of the Peace C. A. Jewell, Ridgeley, who turned th prisoner over to Chief of Police Jesse Elkins.

Authorities said the boy was badly beaten by the older youth but did not require hospitalization. He preferred no charges against Lambert as a result of the attack, police said.

Lambert was not questioned about the thefts last night but authorities indicated he will be interrogated today by West Virginia State Police.

The two youths arrested earlier were given preliminary hearing yesterday and released on $500 bond each for action of the Mineral County Grand Jury.

Police said the pair admitted breaking and entering the Heiskell Motor Company office and Borror's Tavern where they took small amounts of money, candy, cigars and cigarets.

Police said about 50 cents in pennies is all of the loot that was recovered. Chief Elkins said he will question the three youths about other thefts that have occurred in the area recently.

No Action Seen Soon On Rec Plan

Action on a suggestion by the Recreation Planning Committee that all local children, regardless of race or color, be allowed the use of the local playgrounds will probably not be taken until the end of November, as the report of the committee is not expected to be completed until then, J. Corfield Patterson, chairman, said last night.

The suggestion was presented by Earle L. Bracey, principal of Carver High School, at a meeting Thursday night. Bracey said the Carver playground is small and lacks necessary facilities. He added that the location of Pine Avenue Playground, the only other local playground open to colored children, makes it necessary for many colored children to travel a considerable distance to use the playground.

Patterson pointed out last night that the final action rests with the Mayor and Council, who need not accept the recreation committee's report.

The committee, he pointed out, acts in an advisory capacity. It was created by an ordinance passed about three months ago he said, adding that its purpose is to make long-range plans for the $150,000 bond issue for recreation.

(Judge Calvin Chestnut of the Federal Court in Baltimore recently ruled that negroes must be allowed on public golf courses and tennis courts.)

Youth Accidentally Shoots Own Foot

Sixteen-year-old Jack Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Brown, 314 Lafayette Avenue, was admitted to Allegany Hospital last night for treatment after a shell from a 22 calibre rifle went through his left foot at about 1:15 p. m.

Attaches of the hospital said that Brown had been shooting at a target and accidentally shot himself. He was reported in good condition last night.

T-Sgt. John Newhouse of the Cumberland Police Department, who investigated the accident, said that the youth and some unidentified companions were engaging in target practice along the Western Maryland Railway in the South End of town.

"Hot" Chili One Of Many Recipes Of Times-News Cooking School Menu

A "hot" chili recipe for a cold winter day is only one of the many interestinig menus that will be presented at the Times-News sponsored cooking school to be conducted in the Strand Theater for four days beginning September 28.

Miss Edalene Stohr, member of the staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will conduct the school and present a score of menu recipes that can be used in every season of the year.

In presenting the various recipes, Miss Stohr will tell her audiences, which will be admitted free what to serve the dish with and will explain how to make it a real treat for the family, as she does with the chili menu here.

Chili, she says, is a dish that, once you have mastered the recipe, you can change to suit your tastes. Many people prefer a very high proportion of meat, others want less seasoning or more liquid, some prefer their's with garlic and some without. Any of these changes can be made without upsetting a delicately balanced formula as would be the case with a cake. As a good cook, of course, you would not let the chili leave your kitchen for the tables after making these alterations until you have tasted it and made any changes you think necessary.

Perhaps your family prefers its chili served with crackers or a hot bread, such as corn bread—such hearty foods are completely natural together. Another interesting way to serve it is to "bed" it on something such as rice. Or a favorite in many young crowds is "chili mac"— chili con carne served on or combined with macaroni.

However you serve it, the tartness of dill pickles is a wonderful flavor contrast and crisp vegetable relishes provide texture interest. Apple pie with a wedge of strong flavored cheese is the perfect dessert.

Chili Con Carne

1 pound ground beef
1 medium onion
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1½ cups hot water
2 teaspoons chili powder
1 No. 2 can kidney beans
1 cup tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1 clove garlic, if desired

Brown meat and chopped onion in lard or drippings until meat is crumbly. Add other ingredients and stir well. Cover and simmer meat until it is done and flavors are blended, about 30 minutes. Serve in bowls. 6 servings.

More Complaints Made About Dogs Running In City

Decatur Street Child Attacked Last Night

The pack of dogs which staged a raid on pet ducks at Constitution Park duck pond a couple of nights ago and killed three of the fowl, has been annoying other neighborhoods. Last night a three-year-old child was attacked and bitten by one of a pack in his yard on Decatur Street.

Yesterday afternoon, a member of the child's family called City Police and complained about the pack of dogs running about the area, and asked that they be picked up by the dog catcher before some child was bitten. At 7:15 p. m., one of the dogs bit the child.

The infant was taken to a nearby physician's office where the wound was treated, and city police were again notified, this time by the child's irate father. At 10 p. m. the pack of dogs was still in the Decatur Street area.

City Police said last night they received calls from the Decatur Street neighborhood and notified Dr. F. B. McCallum, local veterinarian who serves as dog catcher on a part-time basis for the city. McCallum told police he had been in the neighborhood on two or three occasions yesterday and was unable to locate the dog pack.

Attendants at Constitution Park have been watching for the dogs every night since the raid on the duck pond. Night before last, the dogs put in an appearance at the park, overturned a couple of rubbish and trash barrels, but did not venture near the duck pond where a lookout was posted. Attendants are still watching the pond nightly.

On Decatur Street, and in that area, where a number of people have complained about the dogs trampling flowers, and generally damaging shrubs and lawns, reports have been made of over-turned garbage cans, upset milk bottles and other nuisance situations.

Several residents of the section indicated last night they do not want to take the law into their own hands, but when complaints get no results and children can't play in their own yards without being attacked and bitten, it's time for individual action."

The pack of dogs is described as numbering about 12, led by a large animal over three feet high, and including all types of mongrels big and little, long-haired and short-haired.

It is unlawful to permit dogs to run at large in the city and repeated damage and nuisances by the animals will probably result in their destruction, observers believe.

A TRAFFIC AID-- The city's reorganized traffic department has completed lining of Henderson Avenue for westbound traffic as one point of a program to relieve congestion on Baltimore Street quickly. Traffic traveling the full length of the avenue or turning right will use the right lane while traffic turning left across the railroad tracks will use the center. Lt. R. R. Johnston is directing the work above while Robert Teter, standing to the lieutenant's right, and R. W. Grove, to the rear, line off the channels.

No Action Seen Soon On Rec Plan

Action on a suggestion by the Recreation Planning Committee that all local children, regardless of race or color, be allowed the use of the local playgrounds will probably not be taken until the end of November, as the report of the committee is not expected to be completed until then, J. Corfield Patterson, chairman, said last night.

The suggestion was presented by Earle L. Bracey, principal of Carver High School, at a meeting Thursday night. Bracey said the Carver playground is small and lacks necessary facilities. He added that the location of Pine Avenue Playground, the only other local playground open to colored children, makes it necessary for many colored children to travel a considerable distance to use the playground.

Patterson pointed out last night that the final action rests with the Mayor and Council, who need not accept the recreation committee's report.

The committee, he pointed out, acts in an advisory capacity. It was created by an ordinance passed about three months ago he said, adding that its purpose is to make long-range plans for the $150,000 bond issue for recreation.

(Judge Calvin Chestnut of the Federal Court in Baltimore recently ruled that negroes must be allowed on public golf courses and tennis courts.)

Special Motor Vehicle Taxes More Than $3 Billion In 1947

American motorists paid more than three billion dollars in special motor vehicle taxes for the first time in history in 1947, according to a publication issued yesterday by the Automobile Manufacturers Association.

Marylanders paid a total of $27,016,000 in registration and carrier fees and in state fuel taxes, the publication states. State motorists also paid an estimated total of $3,225,000 in sales taxes on cars and accessories in the past six months.

The record-breaking total of taxes was among 12 records reported for the year by the association. Others were trucks, bus and replacement parts production, employment and payrolls, dollar value of exports, vehicle mileage driven, registration of cars, trucks and buses, and wholesale value of the industry's products.

While all state and local special taxes—registration fees, gasoline levies, city and county taxes and road tolls—reached new highs during 1947, the federal excise tax collection jump of 32 per cent over the 1946 total represented the greatest increase, according to Oscar P. Pearson, the association's chief statistician.

The association also reported that the average age of cars and trucks declined slightly from the 1946 peak, but was still far above the prewar figure.

The average car on the road today, it was pointed out, is 8.9 years old, as compared with nine years in 1946 and 5.5 years in 1941. The average truck in 1947 was 8.1 years old, as against 8.6 years in 1946 and 5.6 years before the war.

Florida, Virginia, California and Texas led the list in gains in registration of passenger cars, while California and Pennsylvania led in truck registration gains. In Maryland, a total of 544,510 vehicles, publicly and privately owned, was registered.

World registrations of motor vehicles, the report said, have jumped to 53,288,000, more than 8,000,000 above 1940. Of the total, American registrations account for 73 per cent of the passenger cars and 52 per cent of the trucks.

The report also pointed out that 1948 is the year of the production of the one hundred millionth American-made motor vehicle. Thirty-nine and a half million of that total are still in use, 50 million have been scrapped, and 10 and a half million were sold abroad, the report states.

"Hot" Chili One Of Many Recipes Of Times-News Cooking School Menu

A "hot" chili recipe for a cold winter day is only one of the many interestinig menus that will be presented at the Times-News sponsored cooking school to be conducted in the Strand Theater for four days beginning September 28.

Miss Edalene Stohr, member of the staff of the National Live Stock and Meat Board, will conduct the school and present a score of menu recipes that can be used in every season of the year.

In presenting the various recipes, Miss Stohr will tell her audiences, which will be admitted free what to serve the dish with and will explain how to make it a real treat for the family, as she does with the chili menu here.

Chili, she says, is a dish that, once you have mastered the recipe, you can change to suit your tastes. Many people prefer a very high proportion of meat, others want less seasoning or more liquid, some prefer their's with garlic and some without. Any of these changes can be made without upsetting a delicately balanced formula as would be the case with a cake. As a good cook, of course, you would not let the chili leave your kitchen for the tables after making these alterations until you have tasted it and made any changes you think necessary.

Perhaps your family prefers its chili served with crackers or a hot bread, such as corn bread—such hearty foods are completely natural together. Another interesting way to serve it is to "bed" it on something such as rice. Or a favorite in many young crowds is "chili mac"— chili con carne served on or combined with macaroni.

However you serve it, the tartness of dill pickles is a wonderful flavor contrast and crisp vegetable relishes provide texture interest. Apple pie with a wedge of strong flavored cheese is the perfect dessert.

Chili Con Carne

1 pound ground beef
1 medium onion
1 tablespoon lard or drippings
1½ cups hot water
2 teaspoons chili powder
1 No. 2 can kidney beans
1 cup tomatoes
1 teaspoon salt
1 clove garlic, if desired

Brown meat and chopped onion in lard or drippings until meat is crumbly. Add other ingredients and stir well. Cover and simmer meat until it is done and flavors are blended, about 30 minutes. Serve in bowls. 6 servings.
